

DISABLED HARVARD

Farmer Youth Has Enough of It After Experience on Storm-Swept Coast.

Yloyd S. Bateman Will Step Ashore Today Knowing More About Hardships Than When He Sailed From Astoria.

San Francisco, Feb. 6.—(Special.)—Partially disabled, with his upper works a litter of tangled rigging and shattered spars, the French bark Harvard, which left the Columbia River January 24, grain laden for the United Kingdom, was towed into port tonight, following a storm experienced that all but sent her to the bottom.

It was not altogether an ill wind, however, that carried away the upper masts like pipe stems and stripped the sails from the yards as if they were straw for the unexpected arrival of the windjammer here will set at rest the anxieties of a heartbroken mother, who feared her boy had gone from her forever.

TACOMA MAY LOSE

League Will Permit McGinnity to Move Team to Butte.

DUGDALE GIVES ASSENT

All Directors Said to Be Willing to Let Tiger Manager Do as He Pleases With Franchise; All Players Go With Leader.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 6.—If Joe McGinnity, manager of the Tacoma club of the Northwestern League, desires to transfer his team to Butte, he will receive permission from the league directors, according to D. E. Dugdale, president of the Seattle club and a member of the circuit committee of the league.

"If McGinnity decides to place the Tacoma franchise in Butte he will have the vote of the Seattle club," said Mr. Dugdale today.

"So far as I know all the other directors will vote to permit the transfer," said McGinnity.

Other men may desire to place a club there, in which case the league probably would grant a new franchise. If the Tacoma franchise is transferred to Butte, McGinnity, of course, will take all the Tacoma players with him.

POLEISTS GATHER ON COAST

Eastern Experts to Add Luster to Game in West This Year.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 6.—Word received from J. Eugene Geer, the Eastern polo expert, here, is that some of the polo colony who now are at Alhambra, S. C., are likely to make a trip to the Pacific Coast before the Long Island and other Eastern tournaments begin.

Already there is an imposing array of Eastern polo talent playing on Coast fields. These include the Hockeys of the Meadow Brook Club, who has with him eight of his string of ponies; C. Perry Headstone, an international substitute, and Malcolm Stevenson, also of international caliber and rated as an eight-goal man. Thomas LeBoutillier, another Eastern star who is here, will be somewhat handicapped in his play, it is believed, by reason of a leg broken in play at Meadow Brook last fall, although the preliminary games in which he has taken part have shown that he has a fair chance of making good.

SKIER TURNS SOMERSAULT

Hill Wins First Place in Tourney at Which Jumps Are Far.

GLENWOOD, Minn., Feb. 6.—Henry Hill, of Ishpeming, Mich., won first place in the National ski tournament which closed here yesterday with a total of 245 points. Ragnar Holm, of Chicago, was second with 231 1/2 points, and Carl Hall, Steamboat Springs, Colo., third with 215 1/2 points.

The standing order of the tournament was won by the former champion, who covered 132 feet.

The twin jump, one of the feature events of yesterday's program, was won by Milo Waiden and Chester Kaldahl.

Axel Hendrickson turned a complete somersault, alighting safely, amid loud applause.
