

GOSPEL NEWS

BY GERTRUDE P. CORBETT

ALTHOUGH yesterday was a very busy day for society with luncheons, teas, bridge parties and dances, almost everything was of a small and informal nature. With the exception of Miss Virginia McDonough's charming tea, which was attended by pretty and interesting substitutes, and the Portland Heights Club card party and dance, the remainder of the diversions were very small and informal.

Miss C. Edwards Grotte was hostess for a four-table bridge party. The two-table bridge party, with Mrs. Wilson W. Clark as hostess, was another of the delightful affairs of the day.

Last night at the Portland Art Museum the art students enjoyed a novel and interesting party. It was a beautiful and charmingly arranged and executed. Music, vocal and instrumental, an analytical play, exhibition dancing, a burlesque on a scientific play and general dancing, followed by supper, constituted the interesting program.

The students were attired specially for the occasion, fancy dress costumes predominating.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cairns Monteth have as their house guest Dr. John Lansbury, head of the University of Oregon, for a few days. They have asked a few of the local musicians to meet Dr. Lansbury this afternoon at their home and enjoy tea with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan J. Moore, of Seattle, are passing the week-end at Hotel Bonanza. Mrs. Moore is very popular in club and social circles and is receiving many delightful social courtesies.

One of the most delightful affairs of the week was the Leap Year party given by a number of young women of Portland on Thursday night in the Turkish room of Hotel Bonanza. The women, who are members of a sewing club which meets once a fortnight, asked the men, also sought out their partners for the dance and carried out the Leap Year idea throughout the evening.

The committee in charge of the event was Mrs. Harry Meyer, Mrs. Felix Block and Mrs. I. Neuberger. About 150 merry-makers attended.

Among Portland folk recently registered at Hotel Oakland in Cannon, Oregon, were Mrs. J. M. McCune, C. H. Hoover and O. M. Vimser.

Miss Margaret E. Clement, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Clement, who recently returned from a trip to Chicago, Boston and Washington, D. C., was honored with a dinner Tuesday night at which 12 covers were set. Her intimate girl friends and at which her engagement to Paul Cummins Blair was announced. The wedding will be an event of the early spring.

Mr. Blair, who comes from Iowa, is a relative of United States Senator Cummins, of that state. Miss Clement is the daughter of the well-known post-office inspector of this city.

In a fragrant Spring setting of pastel-tinted blossoms, the debutante ball given by the young women of the city yesterday afternoon at a charming tea for which Miss Virginia McDonough was hostess at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Warren E. McCord, in Vista avenue. About 150 guests called during the afternoon. The fair young hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. C. C. Van Righelove. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Hazel Blumauer Litt and Miss Genevieve Brooks, assisted by Misses Helen Ladd, Sara McCall, Annette Moore, Nancy Egan, Katherine Graham, Dorothy Sharp and Ruth Shull.

The Rose City Park Club entertained yesterday afternoon with a valentine party, in which cards played the important part. The rooms were gaily decked with strings of red hearts, similar adornments being worn on the pretty tea table, combined with red flowers. Mrs. C. H. Irwin and Mrs. L. J. Bader presided at the tea table.

Mrs. A. Ladd is chairman of the committee, who are Mrs. C. H. Irwin, Mrs. F. D. Dickson, Mrs. J. Peters, Mrs. A. Dayton, Mrs. L. J. Bader and Mrs. W. H. Miller.

will be all Spring, the most popular metal for a number of articles, while platinum, though scarce, will be desired for rings.

An original and handsome novelty is the new balloon-shaped mesh bag of green gold. A plain top and well-sewn bag supply strength, while a frivolous tone is lent by two tassels at the sides and one at the very end of the bag. Square mesh bags in green gold are like those which were so popular in silver, but are richer.

New and unique are the flexible and hinged bracelets made of green gold and silver and some of silver and enamel. Others are studded with sapphires and diamonds. Intricate little links hold the set gold squares together and make the bracelets as yielding as a chain. Stones set corner-wise in fancy backgrounds are ornaments for a number of the most attractive ones.

Pearly and green gold links make a bracelet like those worn in elden times. The wea chains, links are woven together to make the band about half an inch wide and a quaint buckle covered with small pearls fastens it. A regular strap buckle. A loop set in pearls holds the strap and in place.

Band rings of platinum set all round with diamonds are exclusive. Sapphires and pearls are seen in many of the most artistic articles. The reconstructed stones have done much to displace the flashy "bonny" stuff that once held place as the only "jewelry" that limited incomes could afford. The truth is that there is very little low, cheap-looking jewelry in the shops now. Natural stones, such as the agate and tourmaline, have been made into rings and brooches that are good looking and odd though not expensive.

Embossed work wrought with gold or silver in black and colors is to be popular this Summer. Dainty colored pins and jewel pieces that may be worn with light clothes will find appreciative buyers during warm weather. The black enamel is elusive to all save experts, for it is found in some of the very best of jewelry and is always very attractive.

The new guard rings of black enamel and gold with the black stripe in the middle have replaced the gold band.

RURAL LIFE IS URGED

SUBURBAN HOMES FOR LABORERS ARE RECOMMENDED.

George W. Stapleton Tells Realty Dealers They Should Place Poor Families on Soil.

That the laboring man who works on a small salary can live much more economically on an acre of land in the rural neighborhood near the cities than he can in the tiny city bungalow, was the principal contention of George W. Stapleton in addressing the Portland Realty Board at its weekly luncheon meeting yesterday on "Back to the Land."

Statistics show that three-fourths of the laboring element in this country receive less than $15 a month. The man who tries to live in the city on that salary has to economize rigidly.

"In the country, however, with cows and chickens and a garden, more than half of his city expenses can be cut off. In the city the man's pay may be cut off entirely by sickness or disability in business, but the vegetables and the cows work day and night whether the suburbanite keeps his job in the city or not."

PATRIOTISM TO RULE

Anniversary of Lincoln's Birth to Be Celebrated.

TWO MEETINGS ARRANGED

Lincoln Memorial Society and Grand Army Sponsor Gatherings—Veterans Plan Parade, School Children Hear Addresses.

With flags flying and patriotic gatherings and with a general closing of public offices the 107th anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birth will be observed today in Portland. The Lincoln Memorial Society and the Grand Army of the Republic will take the leading part in the observance of the day, holding gatherings in the afternoon at 2 o'clock and in the evening at 7 o'clock, both at Grand Army headquarters in the Courthouse.

The programs in the afternoon will be under the auspices of the Lincoln Memorial Society and Judge H. H. Northrup will deliver the principal address. Charles J. Schnabel will preside. The Gettysburg speech will be read by Captain J. P. Shaw. Mrs. June McMillan Ordway will read an original poem and Millie E. W. Berwick will give "Down on the Rappahannock." A patriotic orchestra, consisting of the school orchestra and the Grand Army of the Republic, will be furnished by the Shattuck School orchestra.

The regular meeting of Sumner Post, Grand Army of the Republic, which will be held tonight at Grand Army headquarters, will be an open meeting in honor of Lincoln's birthday. A patriotic programme consisting of music and other numbers will be given. Charles Burton, past commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, will deliver the address.

Lincoln-day exercises were held in the public schools of the city yesterday and speakers addressed the pupils extolling the emancipator. Similar exercises will be held at the public night schools Monday night. The speakers will be: R. T. Pratt, Lincoln High School; J. H. Minor, Ladd School; Charles Beebe, Jefferson High; and James C. Ewing, Shattuck School.

Dr. C. E. Clise will speak tonight in the Norwegian-Danish Methodist Church. His subject will be "Abraham Lincoln." Music and special numbers will be given by members of the Epworth League.

The action was brought against Mrs. Church by the city on the charge that she was conducting a tuberculosis sanitarium at 987 Council Crest Drive in violation of a city ordinance and that it was dangerous to the health of the community. Mrs. Church was fined $50 by Municipal Judge Stevenson December 14, and appealed to the Circuit Court. She was represented by Attorneys Patton & Rowerman.

Dark Parts of Grain Keep Blood Non-Acid

The dark parts of the grains contain valuable saline matters which every human system requires to keep the blood non-acid. Highly refined cereals do not contain these dark parts such as Roman Meal does.

Dr. Jackson's Roman Meal is a dark-colored cereal because the dark parts of the grains are not removed. It is rich in saline matters, highly nutritious, and a perfect health food. It prevents indigestion, and relieves constipation or your money back.

J. L. HAMMERLY LAUDED
Multnomah Grand Jury Pays Tribute to Deputy Prosecutor.

A sincere tribute to Deputy District Attorney J. L. Hammerly has been made by the Multnomah County grand jury for the January term, in a public letter of appreciation.

"Not only has he shown himself to be a conscientious and capable prosecutor, but he has been his constant endeavor to secure for each case unprejudiced, impartial consideration, and to this end accused and witness alike have been treated with uniform courtesy and respect," reads the communication.

Meat Amendment Goes In.
Amendments to the city's meat inspection ordinance, to make the provisions conform to the recent decision of the State Supreme Court in which the ordinance was held valid with certain exceptions, were submitted to the City Council yesterday, along with an ordinance providing for the appropriation of $2500 to provide salaries for meat inspectors for the rest of this year. The measures were taken under advisement.

The measure has been rearranged by City Attorney LaRoche so as to eliminate objections of the courts. Also a provision has been inserted giving the meat dealers the right of appeal from the rulings of inspectors to the Council.
