THE SANDMAN STORY

BY MRS. F. A. WALKER

Two Ways of Seeing Things.

A ROBIN and a sparrow sat on the limb of a tree, sheltered from the rain which was softly falling, making everything green and sweet.

"I never saw such weather," said the sparrow, "everything will be wet and the grounds muddy."

"I think it is nice," said the robin; "everything will be clean and the whole country will be green."

"This weather is too hot," said the sparrow; "I do not like it."

"Oh! I like it," said the robin; "the corn will grow and the cherries, too. Do you like the cold weather?" he asked the sparrow.

"No," replied the sparrow; "that is the trouble with this world, it is all wrong; it is either too cold or too hot."

"Why do you not go South, as I do, when the cold days come?" asked the robin.

"It is too far to travel," replied the sparrow. "Now look at that sun shining," he said. "I do not see why the rain did not keep on falling as long as it had started."

"Yes, it is nice and cool after the shower," said the robin; "the breeze will soon dry the trees."

"And we'll all get cold, I suppose," said the sparrow; "the idea of a breeze like this blowing after a shower! Yes, I am sure I shall take a cold."

"There is the maid throwing us crumbs," said the robin; "let us fly down and get them."

"She is probably putting them there so the cat will get us when we pick them up," said the sparrow.

"Oh! no," said the robin; "she is a kind-hearted girl and often throws them out for the birds."

So the sparrow flew down with the robin.

"They are nice crumbs," remarked the robin as he hopped about.

"They are too big," said the sparrow. "I wish she had broken them in smaller pieces, and she scattered them about so we would have to hunt for them, I suppose."

"Here is some water," said the robin, hopping to a basin that had been put out for the hens.

"Those hens have everything where they can find it," said the sparrow.

"We have the benefit of it also," said the robin.

"That may be," said the sparrow, "but no one ever put out a basin of water for us. It is a hard world. This morning my nest was almost destroyed by a careless woman who attempted to open a blind behind which I had my nest, but I flew about and made such a fuss that she fastened the blind again and saved my home."

"I think she was a very kind woman

PEBECO TOOTH PASTE

"What a wonderfully fresh, keen taste it has!"

ONE of the most important club events of today will be the meeting of the current literary department of the Portland Woman's Club, which will be held in the attractive home of Mrs. M. C. Banfield, Portland Heights. These meetings usually are held on Thursday, but in view of the fact that the Monday Musical Club will have a large card party tomorrow, the department decided to meet today.

Another event of interest will be the meeting of all the Delphian Club members in the Library at 3 o'clock. Miss Ethelwyn Wing, director of the clubs for the West, will give an address.

Members of the Oregon Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations will be busy today rounding up the forces for their tag sale, to be held on Saturday. Every dime gathered will be for child welfare work.

Among the prominent women who will sell tags are Mrs. Elbert Hicks, Mrs. Thomas G. Green, Mrs. Martin Wagner, Mrs. E. H. Praxell, Mrs. W. D. Clark, Mrs. J. H. Mount, Mrs. J. M. McGregor, Mrs. E. Carlson, Mrs. J. C. Stephens, Mrs. Alva Lee Stephens, Mrs. A. E. Kinsey, Mrs. J. H. Stanley, Mrs. Jacob Kanzier, Mrs. J. C. Alexander, Mrs. E. E. Coover, Mrs. J. D. Sullivan, Mrs. C. F. Clark, Mrs. Fred Meindl, Mrs. J. F. Risley, Mrs. H. L. Chapin, Dr. Cora Talbot, Mrs. W. J. Hawkins, Miss Sophie King, Mrs. M. E. Chambers, Miss Maurita Collier and Miss Ruth Collier.

The Sunday School Workers' Union will meet as usual tomorrow at 3 P. M. in the Library. An important meeting of the executive board is called for 2 P. M. preceding the meeting. Miss May Brochway, a prominent Eastern Sunday school worker, is expected to be in the city next week.

Miss Lillian Tingle will address Sunnyside Parent-Teacher Association today. She will tell of the benefits of the teaching of domestic science in the schools; of the opportunities offered for the co-operation between home and school.

Rose City Park Parent-Teacher Association will meet Thursday at 2:45 o'clock in the schoolhouse. Addresses and music will be features.

Miss Fannie Porter, principal of the Falling School, will be the honored guest of the Unitarian Women's Alliance this afternoon at 3 o'clock and will speak upon "Our Foreign Children." The meeting will be held in the Unitarian Church, 1000 Broadway and Yamhill streets. This will be an all-day meeting, beginning at 10 o'clock, with basket luncheon at noon and a business session at 2 o'clock.

Willamette Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will dispense the hospitality for which they are famed at a reception on Washington's birthday. The function will be held in the home of Mrs. J. H. Bastoy, 452 East Twenty-fourth street, Portland.

Mrs. A. F. Fiegel has charge of the tag sale on Child Welfare day, Saturday. The proceeds from the sale will be used for the maintenance of the Parents' Educational Bureau in the Courthouse and for other child welfare work of the Oregon Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Association.

Mrs. Bertha Slater Smith, who composed the famous 1915 "Boy on a Rose in Portland grows," will be honored guest today at a reception and social gathering to be given by her club sisters at the home of the Women's Improvement Club, in the home of Mrs. Catherine Durst, 1030 East Twenty-fourth street. The hours are from 2:30 to 5 o'clock.

An interesting programme has been planned for the regular monthly meeting of the Woodstock Parent-Teacher Association which will be held Friday at 3 P. M. Mrs. Elleanor Sanford Large will talk on "Cultivation of the Speaking Voice." Several musical numbers will be rendered.

The Mount Tabor Parent-Teacher Association will hold the postponed meeting in the school assembly hall tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. A business meeting will follow the programme. All interested in child welfare and community life are invited to attend.

"Bayard Taylor, His Life and Works" will be the topic of the next Progressive Study Club of St. Albans, to be held at the home of Mrs. Gilpin, 937 Superior street, Thursday.

Sellwood is ably organized for child welfare day under the leadership of Mrs. Fred Meindl.

The committee, of which Mrs. L. A. Slade is chairman, has taken 304 flags. Assisting Mrs. Slade in the home district are Mesdames E. W. Lawrence, H. T. Capell, A. Courtney, C. Holt, N. A. Anderson, M. H. Johnston, H. O. Fields, M. J. Foster, J. H. Cobb and B. Cason, while Mrs. E. E. Cumpston, Mrs. J. J. Tracey, Mrs. Harriet C. Hendon and Mrs. W. D. Palmer will assist with the work in the city.

Fernwood has asked for 250 flags for its district and will be represented in the down-town sale by Mesdames S. M. Buechel and M. A. Zollinger.

Holladay has organized for the flag sale and expects to dispose of 200 of the flags in its own district.

Mrs. L. T. Newton, of the Ladd Parent-Teacher Association, has plans well laid for the campaign and expects to dispose of 200 flags.

WOMAN IN COURT FOR DOG

Restraint of Brute That Bit Boy Ordered by Court.

A bulldog, which is said to have bitten 2-year-old Stanley Savin, son of W. W. Savin, 218 East Eighteenth street, last Saturday, was the cause of Mrs. Jennie Jacobson, East Eighteenth and Prescott streets, being brought into Municipal Court. She was com-
