ROAD AID BY SALE OF LANDS PROPOSED

Secretary Lane Has Plan to Advance Highway Building and Reclamation.

SUBSTITUTE BILL OFFERED

Federal Construction Declared Essential to Systematic, Comprehensive Building - Irrigation Fund Runs Low.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Feb. 16.—As a substitute for a bill introduced by Senator Myers, of Montana, proposing to grant to each of the Rocky Mountain states 250,000 acres of public lands to aid in the construction of roads, Secretary Lane proposes a bill authorizing the sale of 250,000 acres of land in each of the Western states and applying the proceeds to the construction of roads and to the construction of Government ir-ceeds to the construction of roads and to the construction of Government irrigation projects.

The bill suggested by Secretary Lane authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to designate and offer for sale to the highest bidder, in areas not exceeding 220 acres to any citizen, 250,000 acres of semi-arid land of a character subject to entry under the 320-acre homestead law. Ten per cent of the purchase price is to be paid at the time of the sale and the remainder in time of the sale and the remainder in 10 annual installments.

improvement to Be Required.

"Within five years after the purchase the purchaser must place not less than one-half the area purchased in cultivation, must fence the entire tract, develop a water supply and expend in actual improvements on his land not less than $1000. Fallure to meet these conditions will result in forfeiture of the lands and any improvements to the Government. Half of the moneys received from these sales would go into a public roads fund, to be used by the United States in constructing and maintaining interstate public roads within the state in which the moneys were received and the other half would go into the reclamation fund.

In a report accompanying his bill Secretary Lane says the bill proposes:

(1) "To secure the immediate agricultural development of public land now unused but susceptible of agricultural production if developed and cultivated under a law less onerous than the present homestead law.

Roads Encourage Settlement. Improvement to Be Required.

areas of land at present sparsely pop-ulated and where good roads are needulated and where good roads are needed not only by present residents but for the purpose of encouraging the settlement of public lands, the highways should be connected with and form parts of highways in adjoining states in order that there may be a comprehensive and complete system.

(5) "Addition to the reclamation fund. The receipts from the sales of public lands now payable into the reclamation fund have been diminishing and if existing projects are to be completed and new and desirable projects undertaken it is necessary to augment the reclamation fund.

"Grants of specific areas of land or lump sums of money to individual states for the construction of roads are not likely to secure the best results in the way of completing well-constructed, comprehensive systems of Office Attaches Tell of Handling Papers Involved-Defense Will Ask Directed Aequittal.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Feb. 16.—After one more witness. Miss Blanche Heron, auditor of Wahkiakum County, is examined, the state will close its case against John F. Gillies, former claim agent of the State Industrial Insurance Commission, charged with grand larceny in connection with the accident fund frauds.

All witnesses testifying today gave evidence to establish parts in the chain of circumstantial evidence by which the state is endeavoring to corroborate the story told by Frank Stone, confessed forger of false accident claims.

Clerks and stenographers testified to holding up postcard notices to employes at Gillies' direction, and that warrants were delivered to Gillics by clerks for delivery to bogus claimants. E. O. With Woolgrowers Object. o bogus claimants. E. O handwriting expert, testi-

PIMPLES ON FACE ITCHING INTENSE

Began Getting Bigger. Large, Hard and Very Red. Scattered Over Face. Had to Scratch.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"I noticed that my face was covered with pimples which began getting bigger. They were large and hard and were very red and there were so many festered at a time that I had to squeeze them out and they formed like a boil under the skin. They scattered all over my face and the itching was so intense that I had to scratch my face so much it bled.

The trouble lasted about a month and I - tablets, but they did not do any good. I noticed a Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertisement so I thought I would try them. The next day I maw the pimples were going away and I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment and I was healed." fied to having restored certain indel-ible script on the warrant register after attempted erasure. Attorney T. M. Vance, for the defense, announced that he would move for a directed verdict of not guilty, imme-diately after the state closes tomorrow morning.

Arguments on this question probably will require several hours. The defense contends that the state has failed to connect Gillies with the illegal warrants, and therefore has failed to prove the essential element of grand larceny, TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 16 .- (Special.) -Married a year ago today, Archie Endor, 21, and his wife, 17, both o Prairie City, Or., were given 39 days each in the City Jail today. They had stolen a sweater coat and umbrella from Police Matron Todd and fled. after she had taken them into her home after she had taken them into her home from the jail and found work for both. The young people returned from Seattle yesterday in charge of a detective. Archie and Lily on January 27 gained the sympathy of police through their innocent appearance and story of woe, when Endor was arrested for being drunk. After all the kindness of police they ran away and refused to take the drunk. After all the kindness of police they ran away and refused to take the work offered, using a benefit fund given by officers on which to escape. "You see," said Endor to the judge, "that job I was to take was in an apartment house, and there are women there. My wife is so jealous of me that she won't let me work where there are women. I couldn't tell the matron that, after she had been so kind to me. So we just had to leave, and meant to have the sweater laundered before have the sweater laundered before sending it back."

The young couple are celebrating their wedding anniversary in separate cells, feasting on beans.

One of the claimants is George Martich, "strong man" of the fishing crews living in Old Tacoma. He lost a barrel of water and a half gallon of alcohol when officers swooped down on his place. He says he exercised with the barrel as a dumb bell and the alcohol was used as a rub to ease his aching muscles. Another man asks that a bottle of iron and bark tonic be returned to him.
