Addition for War Brings Total to 2,082,000,000 Pounds Sterling.

ASQUITH CITES ECONOMY

Premier Declares Britain's Credit Is Unimpaired and Insists That Every Bit of Paper Is Backed by Gold and Will Be.

LONDON, Feb. 21,—The House of Commons tonight passed new votes of credit to the amount of £420,000,000. This is expected to carry the war to the end of May, bringing the total sum ap-end of May, bringing the total sum appropriated by means of votes of credit since the outbreak of the war to 12,082,000,000—a sum, according to Premier Asquith, "not only beyond precedent, but actually beyond the Imagination of any financier of this or any other country."

Parliament was occupied today entirely with financial questions. Premier Asquith spoke for 50 minutes in presenting the government's motion for the new war credits. The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Reginald McKenna, followed with a statement regardins American exchange, which he declared, is now as high as the British government wishes it to be.

The point emphasized by Premier ment wishes it to be.

The point emphasized by Premier Asquith was not the enormous totals necessary for the war, but the fact that by careful economy and safeguards the governments did well in holding down the expenditure to $5.000,000 a day, which figure he thought unlikely to be exceeded at any time. exceeded at any time.

Estimate Cut to Bone. "I feel the enormous and overwhelming responsibility in asking the House for this gigantic sum," said the Premier, "and could not do so unless I was satisfied that the government had most carefully explored the ground so that we are not asking for a penny more than the exigencies of our cause and the great historic responsibility which we have undertaken require, and unless we are satisfied that every possible precaution is being taken to see that the taxpayers' money is not being wasted."

Touching on the loans to England's Touching on the loans to England's allies, Mr. Asquith said that the amount now had grown to nearly $163,300,000. to which must be added loans to the allies made by the Bank of England at the request of the British government. The amount of this latter item was not made clear by the Premier, but he declared that the provision in the September budget, allotting $423,000,000 for loans to the allies, would not be exceeded.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, in an optimistic statement regarding the condition of British credit, said: "Criticism has been made that we are not taking proper steps to main-tain our credit, particularly with ref-erence to American exchange. I merely sk the House to compare our American exchange with that of any of the other belligerents. At the present time the rate is 4.76 and the government does not wish it higher than that. It is still 10 cents below normal, but we do not wish it to go higher up or above normal, for the simple reason that we are discouraging imports by keeping the exchange a little below par and checking the export of gold to America.

Paper All Backed by Gold. "It is an absolute marvel that after changed for gold at the bank. Every sovereign in paper money has gold back of it. It would never have been believed two years ago that British credit could stand the extraordinary test to which it has been subjected.

"Notwithstanding the gigantic expenditures we have maintained our credit. We have great resources, but we must husband them with prudence. I have no doubt that a year hence I shall be able to show that our credit is still un-impaired."

Touching on the question as to whether after the war acceptance and discounting of German bills would be discouraged in London, the Chancellor

This subject must be left for the future; but I am sure that the commercial interests of the country will appose the relinquishment of the trade of accepting and discounting bills drawn abroad, which has made London the admiration and envy of all the world's great commercial cities."

During the course of the evening's debate Sir Joseph Walton, Liberal for the Barnsley division of Yorkshire, criticised the government for not more carefully inspecting munitions received

"Care should be taken that we do not bad supplies from America," he . "I am informed that of 28 shells recently fired by one of our howitzers at the front only four burst."

NATCHEZ, Miss., Feb. 1.—Reports of cute suffering and appeals for imme diate relief reached Natchez tonight from Concordia and Tensas parishes, in Northern Louisiana, where a half dozen towns, not heard from for sev-eral days, were said to be inundated, with their inhabitants marooned and
