

BEAVERS WILL GET WYLIE AND HARSTAD

Cleveland to Send Crack Outfielder and Star Pitcher to Portland.

TEAM IS MADE STRONGER

Fast Centerfielder, Who Is Demoted With Bat, and ex-Vancouver Club Leading Twirler Expected to Add Much to Prospect.

BY ROSCOE FAWCETT.

Within a few days Portland's Coast League ball club is to receive notable reinforcements from Cleveland, according to information received by The Oregonian last night from unofficial and yet apparently reliable sources.

The prospective new Beavers are Pitcher C. T. Harstad, formerly of the Vancouver, B. C., club, and Outfielder D. E. Wylie, formerly the star of the Cleveland American Association team.

If the above "dope" develops properly, the reinforcements will complete the Portland club for 1916, and will give McCredie one of the best squads he has sent into a Spring camp in many years.

Manager McCredie has been trying all winter to induce the Cleveland moguls to send these two phenoms out to this far stump country. He enticed Outfielder Southworth from Cleveland last Fall, and not long ago, after much wire-pulling, Outfielder Nixon was also consigned to the Portland club.

Paul Cleveland Outfielder Obtained.

Southworth, Nixon and Wylie comprised the 1915 Cleveland AA League outfield and McCredie then concentrated his efforts upon Wylie. However, when Charley Somers was acquired out of the Cleveland club last week, McCredie gave up his hopes of securing either Wylie or Harstad and began casting about elsewhere for necessary talent.

In 1914 for the Cleveland American Association club, Wylie hit .316, and last year in 95 games he batted .311. The Cleveland American League manager then ranked him over to the big league and he was played regularly in 45 games, hitting .352.

Two years ago he stole 29 bases and last season 22, so, if figures speak for anything, Wylie is a much better man on the paths even than Southworth.

Record in 1915 Good.

His complete 1915 record follows: American Association—Games, 93; at bat, 338; runs, 67; hits, 105; total bases, 138; two-baggers, 11; three-baggers, 1; home runs, 2; sacrifices, 12; stolen bases, 21; bases on balls, 52; strikeouts, 16; batted, .311; fielded, .949.

American League—Games, 45; at bat, 131; runs, 14; total bases, 45; two-baggers, 1; three-baggers, 1; home runs, 2; sacrifices, 2; stolen bases, 2; bases on balls, 36; strikeouts, 13; batted, .352; fielded, .921.

Harstad went up to Cleveland from the Northwest League in the Fall of 1914 after piling up the phenomenal record of winning 13 games out of 15 pitched. As he was only a youngster he was used merely for pinch purposes last year, and naturally, without work, did not develop.

The record book shows that he worked in 22 games, but only nine of them went down to his credit or discredit. Three of these he pitched six innings, and he had an average of 2.40 runs a game.

Harstad is a big right hander, and, if he shows anything like the stuff he did at Vancouver in 1914, he will be a star in the Pacific Coast League.

PULLMAN FIVE BEATEN

WHITMAN SPOILS WASHINGTON STATE'S CLEAN RECORD.

Hitherto Undefeated Team Loses to Fought Basketball Game.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Feb. 22.—(Special.)—During the night of last night, the Whitman College basketball team came back and beat the Washington State College team, 29 to 21, in one of the hardest-fought games ever seen on the local floor.

The teams were evenly matched, but the Missionaries secured a five-point lead in the first period which Pullman was unable to overcome. Both teams played a rough game and personal fouls were frequent. Whitman started the scoring, but Pullman came back and the score stood even until Blackman went in for Peterson and with two baskets gave Whitman the lead.

In the second half the hitherto undefeated Washington State College team came out to win with a series of fast plays nearly tied the score. Sensational basket-shooting by Clavin kept Whitman from pulling away the chances of the farmers. A rally in the last few minutes threatened to win for Washington State College, but the guarding of Barker and Young kept them from scoring. Price played a star game at forward and N. Moss did his share at guard. Clavin and Young were the Whitman stars.

Friday—Seattle at Portland.
Friday—Vancouver at Vancouver.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 22.—(Special.)—Seattle tied Vancouver for second place in the Hockey League race tonight, when they defeated the Millionaires, 4 to 2.

Seattle's teamwork was superior to anything the club has shown this season. Bobbie Rowe was the scoring star. He made the rush through the Vancouver team twice, caging the puck each time without assistance, and on another similar dash, handed the puck to Walker, who put it past Lehman for the count.

Vancouver started out as if the men intended to wipe Seattle out quick, but they shot wild. The only goal scored in the first period was one by Mackay, of Vancouver. After getting the puck in mid-air, he eluded the defense and caged.

Laurelhurst Brings Rival News Men Together at Ball.

George Washington's little hatchet, which was wielded by and with all manner of orators and oratory yesterday, had a symbolic burial last night at Laurelhurst Club, thirty-ninth and East Ankeny streets, when members of the editorial, reporter and artists' staffs of the daily newspapers of Portland met on common ground; forgot ethical differences, "buried" the hatchet, so to speak, and had a right good time socially.

It was a miniature Beaux Arts ball, initiated by the women folks of the staffs of the dailies, and artists, cartoonists, news writers, feature writers, critics and critics, editors and cubs attended, and when the last strains of the "Home, Sweet Home" floated out on the editorial staffs of the dailies, they went into history the first party of its kind ever given in Portland. It brought together for the first time in the paper workers of the city who in the daily routine are rivals—rivals, from whom there are none keener.

Laurelhurst Club was lavishly decorated. The American Eagle soared with loyalty and the Stars and Stripes floated from every nook and corner.

German Signal Flags Displayed.

Signal flags from the interned German vessel Dabek were across the port side.

Through the courtesy of the "ad" writer of the Meier & Frank Company, a make-believe cherry tree during the ball. Toy balloons in all colors of the rainbow floated and bobbed about over the heads of the guests.

How brilliant it all was this story should have a seven-column "five-column layout," and marked "Extra," the ball was in the nature of a leap-year event. Wives of the men of the reporter and editorial staffs, and the social centers and arranged it. The officers of the Laurelhurst Club, which only recently formally opened its clubhouse, offered the clubrooms for the event.

Club Provides Music.

Nineteen members of Laurelhurst Club, under the leadership of J. C. Boyer, provided music.

Ferdinand Reed, as President of the Laurelhurst Club, and his associate officers were most hospitable hosts.

The Fireman's Band took a hand to make the event memorable. In a body, the band played a march, and the officers of the Laurelhurst Club were carried off toward town to make an explanation to the police captain at Second and Oak.

The ball was attended by more than 150. A supper closed the festivities.

REVOLUTION SONS DINE

EIGHTY MEMBERS HONOR MEMORY OF WASHINGTON.

Gavel in Form of Hatchet and Made From Cherry Tree From First President's Birthplace Used.

Wielding an historic gavel in the form of a hatchet and made of cherry wood grown at the birthplace of George Washington, at Wakefield, Va., Wallace McCamant, president of the Oregon Society, Sons of the American Revolution, presided at last night's annual dinner of the organization at the University Club. About 80 covers were laid, it being one of the biggest such functions in the history of the society. Flags and patriotic emblems formed the decorations.

The gavel was the gift to the Oregon organization from R. C. Ballard Thruson, of Louisville, Ky., ex-president-general of the National society.

A letter of greeting was read from the president-general, Newell B. Woodworth, of Syracuse, N. Y., in which he spoke of Washington as the ideal citizen. "At present," he said, "we require the lessons to be drawn from Washington's career."

"National, mental and physical preparedness will alone perpetuate this democracy under the principles which guided its inception," he concluded.

Telegraphic greetings were received from the state societies of Washington, Idaho and Utah. Each had been addressed by wire yesterday by President McCamant.

"Some Observations on Ancestry" was the subject of the leading address, by Hugh Montgomery.

The underlying spirit of the American Revolution," he said, "was more that of evolution than of revolution." He held to the idea that the colonies were to war only as a last resort in maintaining the principles of freedom for which they left England and sought a haven in the new world.

The speaker referred to the many writings of Washington, showing that at all times he acted in accordance with this principle.

An eloquent tribute to Washington was that paid by Rev. Henry Marcotte, who discussed the topic, "Washington, the Man of Principle."

Professor Kenneth S. Latourette, of Reed College, spoke on "Washington and Present-Day Problems."

OPERA'S HELP VITAL

Baby Home Badly Needs Aid From Benefits Tomorrow.

ARTISTS GIVE SERVICES

Heilig Theater Is Donated for Performance and Appeal Is Made for Public Co-Operation to Provide Food for 70.

Seventy little motherless babies are awaiting the results of the big popular-price performance to be given tomorrow night, when "Romeo and Juliet" will be produced at the Heilig Theater for the benefit of the Baby Home.

Of course, the wee motherless tots do not realize what it all means, but if that benefit isn't a success, what will become of these babies? Who will buy them milk and bread and clothing, and who will pay the good nurses to take care of the little ones? Even nurses can't work for nothing, and even if they do, they too, must have food. Then, there is the wood and coal bill. The hard winter has made heavy inroads into the wood pile and coal bin, and if something good doesn't happen soon the babies will be the losers.

So, to help matters along and insure to the kiddies food, warmth, clothing, woolen booties, clean dresses and the hundred and one other necessities of well-ordered babyhood, a company of generous, good-hearted people will give their services and present an artistic and brilliant musical performance of "Romeo and Juliet" at the Heilig tomorrow night.

The singers will sing with even finer experiences out to the city than usual, for in their hearts will be the feeling that it is for the sake of these motherless babies. The orchestra will put soul and depth into its playing, for it will play not only for a critical audience but for the babies who know no home, no love, save what is generously given them in the Baby Home. Each usher, each staghand, each singer—every one—will cheerfully give his services that the hungry babies may be fed. The Heilig Theater will do more than the house. Everybody will get the spirit of the occasion, and if each man and woman in Portland who really loves babies and who wants to take a part in the big benefit will buy just one ticket, the house will be packed and the most brilliant, triumphant and worthy performance of the year will be recorded.

These are some of the things that the babies would be saying if they could talk and if they knew all about it. But they don't. They just "go" and "dimple" and wait for their bottles in the big, clean wards and living-rooms. And they do not realize that the recent production of "Romeo and Juliet" left a deficit of $450 in the funds, and that if their friends do not show some appreciation of the generosity of the artists and theatrical people, and if the public does not arouse to the need and spend its money for tickets, the home can't stand the stress. Popular prices will prevail, $1 buying the choicest seat.

Mrs. Jane Burns Albert, possessed with the true spirit of service, will sing the role of Juliet. Norman Hoose will sing Romeo. The play includes other popular Portland soloists. The conductor is Roberto Corruccini.

Cyclist Is Run Down by Auto.

ASHLAND, Or., Feb. 22.—(Special.)—B. C. Hubbard, riding a bicycle, was run down today by a car driven by G. S. Butler and seriously injured. Hubbard is a carpenter and was going to his work. He is hard of hearing. Butler made every attempt to avoid the collision, which occurred at a street intersection.

PHILOMATH (OR.) INSTITUTION IS BENEFICIARY UNDER WILL.

Mrs. Sarah A. Baker, of Los Angeles, Leaves Several Bequests to Religion and Education.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22.—(Special.)—Mrs. Sarah A. Baker, who died at Monterey February 7, surviving her husband by only a few months, disposed of her $250,000 estate by numerous bequests in a will filed yesterday. After providing bequests for friends Mrs. Edna P. Baker, the daughter, receives three-fourths of the remainder of the estate and W. J. Baker, the son, the residue.

Mrs. Baker directs that $50,000 be set aside and one-half used for the support of the First Church of United Brethren in Christ, of Los Angeles, and the remainder to be used for the spread of the gospel.

The Philomath College Association of Philomath, Or., is to receive $30,000, to be placed in an endowment fund for the benefit of the college.

The Bonbreak Theological Seminary, Dayton, O., is to receive $20,000; $5,000 is bequeathed to Otterbein University, Ohio; $10,000 each is given to the Church Extension Society, United Brethren in Christ and the Woman's Missionary Association of the United Brethren Church.

Mrs. Baker, whose estate was valued at $750,000, gave to her son, W. J. Baker, one-third to his son and his daughter, one-third to his son and his daughter.

PHILOMATH, Or., Feb. 22.—(Special.)—President E. E. Epley, of Philomath College, when seen tonight relative to the $30,000 gift, declared that the college had heard the good news but that there still seemed to be some doubt as to its correctness, owing to a rumor that Mrs. Baker had made another will previous to the one in which she named Philomath College as one of her beneficiaries.

President Epley has telegraphed to California for confirmation of the news. If the college wins the $30,000 it will be used as an endowment fund.

DRUG SMUGGLER ARRESTED

Physician Taken at Seattle on Arrival of Boat From Vancouver.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 22.—Dr. F. B. Jones, proprietor of a sanitarium at Sanatorium, Cal., was arrested today at the gangplank of a steamer just arrived from Vancouver and lodged in the city jail. In his pockets were found 114 pills of a drug importation of which is forbidden and which Dr. Jones said he purchased in British Columbia for use in his sanitarium.

ST. HELENA, Cal., Feb. 22.—Dr. F. B. Jones, reported under arrest at Seattle, is the assistant superintendent of St. Helena Sanitarium, near here, maintained by the Church of the Seventh Day Adventists. Dr. Jones left here a week ago, but the purpose of his trip was not known here.

St. Helena Sanitarium is an institution which cares for about 200 patients. It is patterned after the parent institution at Battle Creek, Mich.
