

MOVING PICTURE NEWS

Bessie Barriscale, in "Honor's Altar," At Columbia today

TODAY'S FILM FEATURES. Majestic—"The Misleading Lady," Pickford—"Love's Cross Roads," Peoples—"He Fell in Love With His Wife," National—"The Pool of Flame," Columbia—"Honor's Altar," Sunset—"The Magic Skin."

THE Charlie Chaplin mystery has been solved. The comely King is to be a Mutual film star. After all the negotiations, counter negotiations, champagne suppers and "roughing," it seems that Charlie Chaplin, with his justly celebrated walk and his frequently featured kick, will hereafter be exclusively shown in Mutual Film Corporation films. Such an announcement was made quietly but definitely yesterday at New York.

It was Henry Clay who said he would rather be right than President. Almost anyone would rather be Chaplin than President when emoluments are considered. Chaplin is to have a special company organized for him by Mutual and his brother, Sid Chaplin, also an agile figure in motion pictures, is to be a member of it. The price for the brother is not stated. The Mutual Film Corporation has already applied for an insurance of $500,000 on the new star.

Screen Magazine Latest. "Paramount Pictographs" is the name of the latest innovation of filmdom. These pictographs, soon to be exhibited at the Peoples Theater in Portland, are analogous to the weekly and monthly magazines, discussing social problems arising from news events and acting as a guide to public opinion.

Frederick Palmer, Henry Reuterdahl, Hugo Munsterberg, Elmer G. Sperry, Theodore Roosevelt and other prominent men will give pictorial lectures on present-day questions. The first issue is devoted to a plea for preparedness. "Millions for Defense, but Not a Cent for Tribute," providing the theme for Palmer and Reuterdahl. A mental test by Munsterberg, a department devoted to better care for babies, trick pictures for children, a glimpse of fashions, and a Bray cartoon are also included in the first one-reel presentation, thus providing something of interest for every spectator.

National. J. Warren Kerrigan, one of the most popular stars of filmdom, will be the headliner at the National Theater commencing today in "The Pool of Flame," an engrossing story of mystery, romance and adventure from the pen of George Bronson-Howard. "The Pool of Flame" retails, with a blend of Orient and Occident, the adventures of Terence O'Rourke, that devil-may-care and lovable Irish soldier of fortune made famous by Bronson-Howard. "The Pool of Flame" is a jewel of enormous value, which was stolen from a Buddhist idol in an Indian temple.

Careless Use of Soap Spoils the Hair. Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best, most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use. One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get mulsified coconut oil at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Adv.

dian temple. Its restoration by O'Rourke furnishes many thrills. The Animated Weekly, showing the first motion pictures of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and a Nestor comedy, will also be screened.

Peoples. Florence Rockwell, the beautiful star who played leading lady for Nat Goodwin and Richard Mansfield and starred in many New York successes, plays the name part in the film version of E. P. Roe's book, "He Fell in Love With His Wife," which will be screened at the Peoples Theater today.

Forrest Stanley, Page Peters and Howard Davies are members of the supporting cast in the picturization of this well-known and popular story, which deals with a marriage for housewifely convenience, leading to an unexpected love affair. A realistic storm scene and a hand-to-hand combat are features of the Pallas production, released through Paramount.

"Mixed Kids," a Nestor comedy, and a Bray cartoon will also be included in the programme.

Pickford. Marie Empress and a strong supporting cast will be presented at the Pickford, commencing today, in "Love's Cross Roads," a strong story of the under side of New York life, with love, jealousy and sacrifice its dominant factors. Miss Empress, who has achieved signal success in her portrayal of vampire roles, depicts the character of a woman more sinned against than sinning, who, while acting as a lure for her uncle's gambling house, falls in love with a straightforward, honest man, who is in love with a woman of his own class.

Columbia. Bessie Barriscale, the original "Bird of Paradise" star, who has been making countless friends in her Triangle productions, will be presented at the Columbia today in "Honor's Altar." This strong Ince offering deals with a common phase of matrimony, in which the husband, tiring of the wife, seeks to rid himself of what he considers an incubus.

Majestic. "The Misleading Lady," an Essanay production featuring Henry Walthall, sometimes called the "Mansfield of the screen," and Edna Mayo, will be the feature offering today at the Majestic Theater.

Screen Gossip. E. J. Myrick, the versatile manager of the Columbia Theater, goes into executive session daily with himself to produce novelty effects in his playhouse, leading up to the Rose Festival. He is redecorating the theater interior over the organ, utilizing flowers of all kinds, and particularly the Portland rose, with interchangeable light effects.

Mme. Olga Petrova was a dramatic critic on the London Times before she went on the stage. Mary Pickford has little trouble playing the hard-working girl in ill-health in "The Grind," for she was suffering from the grip and felt the part.

In "Out of the Drifts," Marguerite Clark's supporting cast includes a St. Bernard dog larger than she is. Fritz de Lint, a Metro player, was once an army officer in Norway. Lou Tallegen, husband of Geraldine Farrar, will show his skill with the sword in "The King of Nowhere," announced by the Garrick Producing Company.

Valla Valli will play the leading role in "The Cohan 1916 Review." She also will continue in the films. E. K. James has deserted the legitimate stage and will make his screen debut in "According to Law," a Mutual masterpiece. Two New York holdup men recently tried to steal Antonio Moreno's handsome make-up case, thinking it contained jewels. Theda Bara is at the Nassau Hotel, Long Branch, enjoying her first vacation in 14 months. Frank Bacon, who appears in "Her Debt of Honor," is featured in "The Cinderella Man," a popular Broadway play. He also writes scenarios as a side line. Ruth White is a newcomer to the Balboa forces, and, although with no previous screen experience, is making good. A group of chorus girls from "Ston. Look, Listen," now at the Globe Theater, New York, appear in one of the scenes of "The Soul Market." Richard Walter Tully, author of "A Bird of Paradise," lost his suit against Triangle. He claimed that "Aloha Oe" infringed on his Hawaiian drama. David Horsley, the Southern California producer, is being boomed for Congress. To deck Miss Iva Shepard in the role of the rajah's wife in "The Haunted Manor," the Gaumont borrowed jewels from a Jacksonville jeweler for which bonds for $5000 were given. A counterpane once used by Marie Antoinette has been loaned to George Fitzmaurice for a scene in Pathe's "Big Jim Garrity." Bessie Barriscale is busy changing bungalows down in Southern California. Charles Ray is playing in a picture in which Louise Glaum is being starred. The song "Peggy," dedicated to Billie Burke, is so successful that Thomas H. Ince and Victor L. Schertzinger are engaged in the composition of a second song, "The No-Good Guy," dedicated to William Collier, to be distributed when the Ince play of the same name is released.

This is not the man who "fell in love" with her—it's Page Peters, as Ostrom, who deserted his wife and child and married her without divorce. Forrest Stanley as Holcroft is the big manly man—the one you'll admire and the one who "fell in love with his wife."

He Fell in Love With His Wife

The Big Paramount Special Production, Presenting

Florence Rockwell

The Noted Dramatic Star—Leading Woman for Henry Miller, Nat Goodwin, Richard Mansfield and Others of Equal Fame

A Strong Drama of Awakened Love, With a Thrilling Fight and a Powerful Finish—A Play You Wouldn't Miss for Anything

Also a Nestor Comedy "Mixed Kids" First Show at 11:00; Then 12:45, 2:30, 4:15, 6:00, 7:45, 9:30 —Come a Few Minutes Early

PEOPLES Today Tomorrow Saturday

Another of Those Funny Bray-Cartoon Comedies Farmer Alfalfa's Catastrophe Bring Your Friends

PUPILS CLUB BOOK OUT

REVIEW OF INDUSTRIAL WORK IS READY TO DISTRIBUTE. Letters From Winners of Prizes at Oregon State Fair Featured in Superintendent's Pamphlet. SALEM, Or., Feb. 23.—(Special)—For the boys and girls who are interested in the industrial club work J. A. Churchill, Superintendent of Public Instruction, today issued a booklet giving a review of the past year's work, with some suggestions for the coming year. The pamphlet is illustrated with half tones. A number of interesting letters from the prize winners are given. Esther Miller, of Jackson County, tells how she raised 15 turkeys, and, although the mother turkey was killed, the girl made a profit of $5 after paying for all of the feed and allowing 10 cents an hour for her own time. Leland Charley, of Jackson County, tells how he raised 87 bushels of corn on one acre, winning the state prize. Florence Arton, of Douglas County, recounts how she happened to visit the baking club of a neighboring school and became so interested she enrolled. She won first prize at the Douglas County Fair, then won the state prize. Warren McGowen, in his letter to Superintendent Churchill, writes: "Papa and mamma and my sisters and brothers all went to the coast in July, but I stayed at home to take care of my sow and pigs." He won the state prize. All the boys and girls winning first in the project work will be sent to the Oregon Agricultural College next Summer for a six weeks' course. Bush Home at Chehalis Scorched. CHEHALIS, Wash., Feb. 23.—(Special)—Fire yesterday damaged the home of Dan W. Bush to the extent of $600 before being extinguished. The worst loss is to clothing and from the mother turkey was killed, the girl made a profit of $5 after paying for

LOGGING GOES FORWARD

WYNOOCHE VALLEY HAS NEW CONCERN WITH BIG PLANS. Hundreds of Men to Be Put to Work in Grays Harbor District, Where Operations Will Be Extensive. HOQUIAM, Wash., Feb. 23.—(Special)—Capitalists of this city are preparing to open in the Wynooche Valley one of the largest logging operations in this county, and already work of surveying the railway for the project has been started. The company, the Wynooche Timber Company, has just been incorporated, with Frank H. Lamb, president; A. W. Callow, secretary and treasurer; Gust Carlson, vice-president; Alice E. Lamb and R. D. Emerson. The new company has taken over the valuable timber holdings of the Lamb Timber Company in the Wynooche Valley and has acquired right of way for a railway line. Six miles of railway will be built at once, to reach from the Chehalis River to the timber and will be extended as fast as needed. It is probable the construction of the line will be let by contract and work will be rushed. The company will lose no more time than necessary in getting actual logging operations started. The company will employ about 250 men at the start and by next year expects to extend operations and add at least 100 more men to its force in the woods. Another big logging development now under way by a Hoquiam company is that of the National Lumber Company at Cedarville, in the east end of the county. This company now is engaged in installing its camps, and within a short time will have operations under way. This company, when its camps are in full operation, expects to employ about 200 men. Cottage Grove Mill Waste Raised. COTTAGE GROVE, Or., Feb. 23.—(Special)—Announcement has been made that wages at the J. H. Chambers sawmill in this city have been raised 25 cents a day.

LOGGING GOES FORWARD

WYNOOCHE VALLEY HAS NEW CONCERN WITH BIG PLANS. Hundreds of Men to Be Put to Work in Grays Harbor District, Where Operations Will Be Extensive. HOQUIAM, Wash., Feb. 23.—(Special)—Capitalists of this city are preparing to open in the Wynooche Valley one of the largest logging operations in this county, and already work of surveying the railway for the project has been started. The company, the Wynooche Timber Company, has just been incorporated, with Frank H. Lamb, president; A. W. Callow, secretary and treasurer; Gust Carlson, vice-president; Alice E. Lamb and R. D. Emerson. The new company has taken over the valuable timber holdings of the Lamb Timber Company in the Wynooche Valley and has acquired right of way for a railway line. Six miles of railway will be built at once, to reach from the Chehalis River to the timber and will be extended as fast as needed. It is probable the construction of the line will be let by contract and work will be rushed. The company will lose no more time than necessary in getting actual logging operations started. The company will employ about 250 men at the start and by next year expects to extend operations and add at least 100 more men to its force in the woods. Another big logging development now under way by a Hoquiam company is that of the National Lumber Company at Cedarville, in the east end of the county. This company now is engaged in installing its camps, and within a short time will have operations under way. This company, when its camps are in full operation, expects to employ about 200 men. Cottage Grove Mill Waste Raised. COTTAGE GROVE, Or., Feb. 23.—(Special)—Announcement has been made that wages at the J. H. Chambers sawmill in this city have been raised 25 cents a day.

Majestic THEATRE

3 Days Only, Beginning Today Henry B. Walthall and Edna Mayo

The Misleading Lady In the Hit of the Year From the Celebrated Stage Success of Charles W. Goddard and Paul Dickey ALSO Majestic Novelty Trio—Pathe News—Col. Heza Liar, Comedy

BANISHED HIS DESIRE FOR TOBACCO

A Kansas Man Tells of a Simple Home Recipe That Broke Him of Using Tobacco. Mr. John Miller, living at Waverly, Kas., after using tobacco for 20 years, banished his desire for tobacco with a simple recipe which he mixed at home. In a recent statement Mr. Miller said: "I could not stop tobacco of my own accord, so used the following simple recipe almost two years ago and have not touched tobacco since. To 3 oz. of water add 20 grains of muriate of ammonia, a small box of Varlex Compound, and 10 grains of pepsin. Take a teaspoonful three times a day. As it has no color or smell it can be given secretly in tea, coffee, milk or in food. Any drugstore can fill this recipe at very little cost, and it certainly will banish all desire for tobacco."—Adv.