BARNES IS RETURNED

BURGLAR SUSPECT TO BE TRIED IN WASHINGTON COUNTY.

Robberies, Extending Over Period of Several Months, Are Laid to Beaverton Resident.

Charged with a series of burglaries in Beaverton and Portland, Lester Barnes, who was arrested Monday at Beaverton by City Detectives Coleman and Snow and Sheriff Reeves, of Washington County, and brought to Portland, was taken back to Washington County by Sheriff Reeves and will be tried there. Authorities here released him in order that he might be prosecuted on the more important charges.

The burglaries extend over a period of several months, and he is believed to have obtained several hundred dollars' worth of property, including vast quantities of liquor.

Barnes was wanted here on a charge of having robbed the home of Miss Mable Kelly, 185 Twelfth street, Saturday night, taking wearing apparel and toilet articles valued at $35.

According to Sheriff Reeves, Barnes, who is 45 years of age and has a family of eight children at Beaverton, where he makes his home, entered the Rossi saloon at Beaverton two times in December, obtaining about 100 quarts of liquor and a quantity of cigars. The McCourt & Buchle saloon was also robbed there and it is believed to have been some of Barnes' work.

After the "mysterious John Doe" Campbell was arrested after attempting to hold up the station agent at Multnomah station he told the authorities of having discovered a quantity of loot cached under a warehouse at Beaverton. This stuff, which included a quantity of liquor, is now practically proved to have been some of the goods cached by Barnes.

"Personal Attention" "Prompt Service"

I've got here a new attractive 7-room house, located in Laurelhurst, on the north side of East Burnside street, near E. 41st St. N., just a block east of beautiful Laurelhurst Park, on a 50x163-foot lot, with additional eight-foot runway across rear of corner lot to street.

Seven extra large rooms, very large attic, in which three other rooms can be constructed. Large sleeping porch on second story.

Main rooms finished in Eastern quarter-sawed oak, balance in old ivory and white enamel, hardwood floors throughout, plate-glass windows, walls beautifully papered, 10-foot porch around front and side of house.

This house at $4,500.00 on easy terms is the very best buy in LAURELHURST, and was erected when materials were at the lowest price. You could not begin to duplicate it now for less than $5500.00.

Houses this close to the new artificial lake in Laurelhurst Park will be at a premium this Spring.

I can't carry it longer, but my loss is your gain. Phone owner, J. DELAHUNTY, Tabor 5845, for appointment to inspect.

BIG PAGEANT GOES ON

SALVATION ARMY OFFICIATES AT SPECIAL PROGRAMME.

Exhibit at White Temple Will Be Opened Up to Children of Schools on Saturday.

The Social Service Exposition and Palestine Pageant at the White Temple continues to attract large audiences. Last night the Salvation Army had a special programme and the Army band played several selections. Miss Mollie Best gave some of her distinctive stories on "How the Other Half Lives."

This afternoon will be especially interesting to social workers and to society folk who are looking for worthy fields in which to work. Miss Best will tell stories and Miss Edith Wills will give an address.

Tomorrow night will be for the young people. The Oriental Pageant will be given in all its splendor of rich costuming and its weird accompaniment of music on antique instruments.

Saturday morning will be free to the school children. Superintendent L. R. Alderman has sent announcements to all the schools that the boys and girls will be welcome. The various exhibits will be explained by experts and there will be someone ready to answer all the questions the inquiring mind of the most inquisitive small boy can formulate.

The exhibits were all on display in the educational building at the exposition in San Francisco. This will be an opportunity for the children to see what many of them would otherwise have no chance to visit—an exhibit that has won many gold and silver medals, as well as other forms of recognition for its general excellence.

Friday afternoon will be for the clubs and Parent-Teacher Associations. The patronesses for the afternoon will include Mrs. Sarah A. Evans, Mrs. George W. McMath, Mrs. Alva Lee Stephens, Miss Viola Ortschild, Miss Emma Griebel, Mrs. F. Joplin, Mrs. M. Klapper, Mrs. James N. Davis, Mrs. E. A. Beals, Mrs. O. G. Sharpe, Mrs. J. B. Evans, Mrs. G. J. Frankel, Mrs. T. C. Burke, Mrs. Robert Berger, Mrs. John F. Beaumont, Miss Beatrice Kirkup, Mrs. A. H. Breyman, Mrs. N. P. Palmer, Mrs. J. A. Fettit, Mrs. John Fellerman, Mrs. Martha Pullman French, Mrs. Maud Darnell, Mrs. Josephine Sharp, Mrs. Frank Kelsey, Miss Gertrude Greathouse, Miss Dagmar, Inez Kelly, Mrs. J. F. Chapman, Mrs. L. T. Newton, Mrs. Lee Davenport, Mrs. J. F. Kelly and the presidents of several clubs and missionary societies.

THEATER WORKERS DANCE

Portland Association Holds Sixth Annual Affair.

More than 300 couples attended the sixth annual testimonial dance given by Portland Lodge, No. 36, of the Theatrical Mechanics' Association, on Tuesday night at Cotillion Hall. The dance was tendered by the officers and members of the association for their wives and friends, and from 11:30 P. M. until the wee sma' hours the dancing continued.

The committee in charge of the dance was composed of L. B. Christ, Al Sather, J. W. Gleason, H. J. Harcke and Paul Schneider.

During the course of the dance several musical selections were contributed by Al Sather. J. S. Haughey, past grand president of the association, was presented by George L. Baker with a badge indicating his position.

George L. Baker, who was the first president of the order and who held the post for ten years, made a splendid little talk relative to the work of the order and its social activities once each year in return for support at the annual midnight matinee benefits. Mr. Baker made a presentation speech when he bestowed the lodge emblem on James S. Haughey, retiring president.

MILITIA HOLDS DRILL

LIEUTENANT BLACKBURN TALKS TO GATHERING ON BOSTON.

Cruise to Alaska Is Described and Plans to Arouse Public Interest In Work Are Considered.

Between forty and fifty friends of the members of the Oregon Naval Militia witnessed a half-hour drill, listened to a talk by Lieutenant Blackburn, in charge of the local recruiting station of the United States Navy, and were shown about the Boston Tuesday night. It has been the intention of Lieutenant-Commander Blair, of the Oregon Naval Militia, for some time to make the public intimately interested with the work that the Naval Militia is doing and the invitation to the public to witness the drill last night was well received. It has been decided that the last drill night each month will be reserved for that purpose.

Lieutenant Blackburn told of his trip to Alaska on the cruiser Marblehead, the ship that is soon to replace the Boston as the training ship for the Naval Militia.

Lieutenant Blackburn's talk was particularly interesting because he covered the same territory in the cruise of 1905, when the Marblehead was a member of the Pacific squadron, as will be covered by the Oregon Naval Militia on the 1916 Summer cruise.
