BERLIN, March 9.—(By wireless to Sayville, N. Y.)—Germany formally declared war on Portugal at 3:30 o'clock yesterday and handed his passports to the Portuguese Minister. The German statement issued at the same time emphasized the fact that this step was made necessary by the recent illegal seizures of German ships in Portuguese ports, which is the gravest sort of breach of neutrality, and of special treaties. Germany, therefore, is obliged to give up her former attitude of forbearance, which she had maintained because of Portugal's awkward situation.

The declaration enumerates a long series of breaches of neutrality by the Portuguese government, such as the permission of free passage to English troops through the colony of Mozambique; the permission given to English men-of-war to use Portuguese ports for a time exceeding that given neutrals; the permission given the English navy to use Madeira as a naval base; actual engagements between Portuguese and German troops on the frontier of German Southwest Africa and Angola; frequent insults to the German nation by members of the Portuguese Parliament, who never were reprimanded.

Issues Are Cited.

The declaration says that according to the treaty between the two nations the ship seizure ought to have been preceded by an agreement regarding the price to be paid the owners, and that the seizure was only justifiable in case of public necessity in Portugal, whereas the tonnage of the ships was evidently larger than needed to remedy the scarcity of the tonnage at Portugal's disposition. It is further stated that the Portuguese government did not even try to enter into communication with the German owners or the German government. The declaration continues:

"The Portuguese government by these acts openly gave evidence that Portugal considers herself England's vassal for whom England's interests and wishes are paramount in comparison with other considerations. The Portuguese government seized the ships in a fashion which must be considered as an international provocation of Germany. The German flag was hauled down on board the ships and the Portuguese flag raised with the war emblem set, while the Admiral's ship fired a salute.

Denials Are Charged.

Regarding events of the last few days it is further known that on February 27 the German Minister to Portugal protested against the illegal seizure of ships in Portuguese ports. Nevertheless, the Portuguese government declared semi-officially in Lisbon newspapers that there had been no German protest.

The Portuguese Minister of Justice, in Parliament, also denied the existence of a German protest. The Portuguese Minister of Foreign Affairs declared on his word of honor to a member of the staff of the Italian newspaper Secolo that Germany had entered no protest.

The German Minister asked for a rectification of the semi-official declaration, but without success. It was only on March 4 that the Portuguese Minister at Berlin handed to the foreign office a Portuguese note denying the justice of the German claims.

A copy of this Portuguese note was sent to the German Minister at Lisbon, together with instructions to transmit the already quoted declaration to the Portuguese government.

O.-W. R. & N. Has Plenty of Cars.

SALEM, Or., March 9.—(Special.)—The Public Service Commission today received word from the Oregon-Washington Railway & Navigation Company that no shortage in freight cars now exists on that road, and that the company has a surplus of 218 open cars available for use. The Southern Pacific Company's receipts of freight cars at Ashland are showing a steady increase, a total of 176 cars arriving at Ashland for the Portland division today. Five days ago, receipts at Ashland amounted to only 15 cars. The Southern Pacific now has orders for 496 closed and 266 open cars.

OREGON POLITICAL GOSSIP

Eleventh-Street Playhouse Engaged for Big Republican Rally Next Wednesday, at Which Nicholas Murray Butler, of New York, Is to Speak—H. C. Stephens Runs for Legislature From Eastern Clackamas County—John R. Latourette Not to Seek District Attorneyship—News of the Candidates.

THE Eleventh-Street Playhouse, Eleventh and Morrison streets, has been engaged for the big Republican rally next Wednesday night, March 15, at which Nicholas Murray Butler, of New York, president of Columbia University, is to speak.

This announcement was made yesterday by John McCourt, president of the Oregon Republican Club, under whose auspices the rally will be held.

Nicholas Murray Butler is one of the most distinguished educators in the United States. He has been president of Columbia University, which has the largest attendance of any American university, since 1902. He is as prominent politically as educationally.

The Republican electoral vote for Vice-President was cast for Dr. Butler in 1912. James Sherman, Vice-President during President Taft's first term, was the Republican nominee, but he died before the electoral vote was cast. The Republican National Committee designated Dr. Butler to receive the honor of the electoral vote.

Dr. Butler was chairman of the New York Republican convention in 1912. He was also a delegate to the National convention that same year. He is a speaker of power and eloquence.

As the choice of a mass meeting of voters of Eastern Clackamas County held at Estacada a couple of weeks ago H. C. Stephens, a farmer living near George postoffice, seven miles east of Estacada, announced his candidacy for the lower House of the Legislature yesterday, subject to the Republican primary.

Mr. Stephens has lived in Oregon for eight years and in Clackamas County since 1913. He came to Pendleton in 1908 from Denver, Colo., where he had been cashier for several years of the Interstate Savings Bank. In Pendleton he was vice-president of the American National Bank. He came to Portland in 1909 and in 1913 took up farming on his present ranch near George.

By custom and tradition Eastern Clackamas is entitled to one of the county's three seats in the lower House. When Guy T. Hunt, of Garfield, decided not to run for re-election, voters of Eastern Clackamas County held a meeting in Estacada to unite on a candidate. Mr. Stephens was the majority choice.

Mr. Stephens announces his candidacy as a man of business training and experience, as well as one with first-hand knowledge of farming conditions and the legislative needs of the farmers. He is president of the East Clackamas County Fair Board, which conducts the annual fair at Estacada, and president of the George Commercial Club.

John R. Latourette, well-known Portland attorney, who has been mentioned frequently as a prospective candidate for the Republican nomination for District Attorney against Walter H. Evans, incumbent, announced his definite decision yesterday not to run. Mr. Latourette was a member of the lower House of the 1913 Legislature from Multnomah County. He is even better known as "Jack" Latourette, the famous University of Oregon and All-Northwest quarterback 10 or 12 years ago. With his withdrawal from the field there is some talk that George J. Cameron, District Attorney from 1908 to 1912, may be a candidate. Mr. Cameron himself says he does not intend to run. It begins to look as if District Attorney Evans would be nominated for a second term without any opponent in the primary.

Thomas B. Handley, of Tillamook, joint Representative in the 1913 and 1915 Legislatures from Tillamook and Yamhill counties, hopes to be promoted by the voters to a seat in the Senate this year. He will be a candidate for joint Senator from the district comprising Yamhill, Washington, Tillamook and Lincoln counties. As two other candidates, John U. Smith, of Newberg, and Francis L. Michelbook, of McMinnville, are already in the field the campaign gives prospect of being a lively one.

The country press has combined against candidates in Oregon this year. No more free announcements, no more free pictures, no more eulogiums of half a column or so. Like the railroads, the papers have shut down on free transportation. A candidate gets his name before the public through the upstate press nowadays and keeps it there only by paying for a formal announcement card, usually run in a column headed, "Announcements."

Realizing that this column makes interesting reading, some of the merchants are trying to horn in on it. The result is that an announcement sometimes appears like this one, taken from the Lincoln County Leader, of Toledo: "I hereby announce myself as Democratic candidate to sell butterkist popcorn, subject to the decision of the voters at the primary election, May 19, 1916. If nominated and elected in November I agree to kiss the korn with more butter than ever. Al Waugh."

Proposed changes in its constitution and by-laws were discussed at a meeting of the Lincoln Republican Club in room A of the Central Library last night. They will be submitted to the club for adoption at another meeting to be called soon by the president, Dr. L. Victoria Hampton. The club plans to work for the registration of Republican voters throughout the city, especially the women, and to hold a series of meetings at which candidates for various offices will be invited to speak.

Charley Lockwood's Republican Club, alias the Republican Club, held a meeting in the assembly hall of the Central Library last night. About 31 or 32 persons attended.

SALEM, Or., March 9.—(Special.)—W. Lair Thompson, of Lakeview, president of the Senate during the last Legislature, today announced that he would be a candidate for re-election as president of the upper house. L. E. Bean, of Eugene, State Senator from Lane County in 1911 and 1913, also advised friends that he would be a candidate for Speaker of the House this coming session if elected to the House. Mr. Bean has already announced his candidacy for election to the lower house, representing Lane County.

SALEM, Or., March 9.—(Special.)—With the slogan, "Encourage capital; regulate, should it become oppressive," James M. Kyle, of Stanfield, today formally filed declaration of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Public Service Commissioner for the Eastern Oregon district.

Mr. Kyle is a native of Ohio, and has been a resident of Oregon for the last 25 years. Before moving to Eastern Oregon he resided in Salem. He is well known throughout the state. He is interested in irrigation work in Eastern Oregon and for the last few years has been engaged in the fruit shipping business at Stanfield.

In his official statement to voters, Mr. Kyle calls attention to the regulative powers of the Public Service Commission with respect to railroads and public utilities operating in the state, and declares that he will endeavor to "deal fairly and impartially with the corporations and at the same time properly protect the interests of the people."

GIRL-MOTHER WEEPS

Refernece to Baby Causes Witness to Collapse.

WOMEN SPECTATORS WEEP

Miss Beatrice Williams, Plaintff in Suit for Imprisonment by Alder Hotel Proprietor, Becomes Hysterical.

"If she had money enough to buy other jewelry and $9 shoes, she could have redeemed her watch containing the picture of her little boy, if she thought so much of it," remarked Attorney Allen H. McCurtain, in his closing argument to the jury in the suit of Miss Beatrice Williams against the Alder Hotel Company, being tried before Judge Morrow in the Circuit Court, yesterday noon.

He had accused the girl-plaintiff of many indiscretions and had assailed her reputation when she was on the witness stand, but his mention of the child, who is in the keeping of a divorced husband in the east, brought an unexpected response.

"Oh! Don't talk about my baby!" exclaimed the girl, screaming hysterically.

Her nerves suffering from the strain of two days' suspense and vigorous cross-examination, Miss Williams, in the popular phrase, "went all to pieces." Sobbing and screaming alternately, she would have fallen from her chair had she not been caught by her attorney, Wilson T. Hume. The young woman was carried by Bailiff Morse into the chambers of Judge Morrow and laid upon a couch there. The windows were opened by the judge, and in a short time the convulsions ceased.

Scene Was Not Staged.

The genuineness of the hysterical spell was not doubted, even by the attorney for the defense, several women in the courtroom sobbed and members of the jury were visibly affected.

Miss Williams in her testimony had mentioned the watch containing the picture of her child as one of the articles of jewelry being held by the hotel company as security for unpaid rental.

The suit is for $5000 damages for an alleged imprisonment in her room in the hotel because she could not pay her room rent.

The case went to the jury early yesterday afternoon and by night no agreement had been reached. If there is an agreement before this morning a sealed verdict will be read at 9:30 today.

PROHIBITION HELP SOUGHT

Klamath Falls Councilman Opposes Giving Police Power.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., March 9.—(Special.)—At the last meeting of the City Council, District Attorney Irwin made an effort to have two of his employes in prohibition enforcement work appointed members of the local police force, without pay, in order that they might be granted police authority.

Councilman Doty objected, saying: "Irwin is not an employe of the city, and has $2500 back of him for prohibition law enforcement." Mr. Irwin asserted that his motive was to get these two men in a position to assist the District Attorney's office more by using their police powers. The matter was laid over until the next meeting.

PORTLAND BOY IS FIGHTING

Alfred L. Peterson, in 13th Cavalry Detachment, Pursuing Mexicans.

At least one Portland boy is taking part in the engagement between American soldiers and Mexican bandits on the Mexican border. Alfred L. Peterson, of Portland, is a member of the detachment of the Thirteenth Cavalry which went across the border in pursuit of the raiding Mexicans.

Mr. Peterson is a son of George L. Carroll, 205½ Washington street, his mother later having married a man named Peterson.

Mr. Peterson has been in the Army several years and was in Portland about a month ago.

County Autos Not for Campaigning.

VANCOUVER, Wash., March 9.—(Special.)—Automobiles owned by Clarke County and furnished to the various officers who have occasion to travel over the county will not be used for political campaigning or joy-riding, if a resolution passed by the Board of County Commissioners this afternoon is enforced. Some complaint had been made that some of the county machines were being used for purposes other than official business and the Commissioners went strongly on record against such use. The county owns four automobiles for the use of county officials.

Oswego School Is Standardized.

OSWEGO, Or., March 9.—(Special.)—Mr. Calavan, the Clackamas County School Superintendent, standardized the Oswego public school on March 1. A great many parents attended the programme. Professor Gerritsen, the singing teacher, gave a solo. Mr. Calavan presented the school with a pennant.

BERLIN ANNOUNCES GAINS AT VERDUN

Capture of Village and Armored Fort of Vaux Is Denied by French.

PARIS TELLS OF VICTORY

From Metz Comes Report of Taking of Fresnes and Forges and Repeated Changes in Command of Defensive Army Cited.

LONDON, March 9.—Official dispatches from Berlin today record the capture by the Germans of the village and armored fort of Vaux, northeast of Verdun. The War Office announcement says that in addition to the village and fort of Vaux numerous adjoining fortified positions were captured. The assault was made in the night by Posen reserve regiments.

Tonight's official report of the French War Office, received from Paris, reports further progress for the French in the Corbeaux wood, as well as a German repulse along the front from Douaumont to Vaux. Today's French report issued earlier in the day, says that in the Verdun sector, west of the Meuse, repeated attacks on the village of Bethincourt were made today.

The Germans have been repulsed between Douaumont and the village of Vaux after several heavy attacks, accompanied by intense artillery fire, the report also says.

METZ, March 9.—German operations around Verdun still continue on moderate scales. At this time they are confined largely to attempts to improve flank positions and to press closer to the fortress girdle at individual points north and southeast. In attacks of this nature, German infantry successfully stormed the villages of Forges and Fresnes.

Like other villages along the foot of the hills, Fresnes is built solidly of stone and constituted a veritable fortress outpost which had to be carried before the advance could be made to the foot of the slopes.

Forges, loss of which is admitted by the French, lies on the flank and rear of the German lines east of the flooded Meuse, and covered artillery positions from which German works could be bombarded.

The correspondent saw Germans who had been fighting continuously since February 21. They were in good condition and spirits, though from the appearances no one would guess that they had come recently from a period of recuperation and had been newly uniformed.

Officers with whom the correspondent spoke paid high tribute to the fighting spirit of the French, although saying this was due to some extent to the continuous pouring in of fresh troops. Not only the troops, but the commanders are constantly changing. Thus far three generals have undertaken the defense of the fortress since the German operations began. General Herr, the original commander of the defending army, was replaced by General Humbert, who in turn was replaced by General Petain. So far as is known General Petain has not been supplanted.

STOCK PRIZES BETTER

STATE FAIR BOARD TO OFFER $3000 IN CASH AWARDS.

Season Tickets for $2.50 Are Authorized—Department Heads Named. Concrete Walks to Be Built.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., March 9.—(Special.)—The State Fair Board today decided to increase the prize money offered in the livestock department for the coming state fair by $3000, because of the increasing interest which breeders and the public generally are showing in this feature of the fair.

As a means of increasing the attendance next Fall the policy was adopted of selling tickets for $2.50 good for the entire fair week. Under this system those holding season tickets may leave and re-enter the grounds whenever they desire, without paying an additional admission fee.

Mud, the bane of all past state fairs whenever rain has fallen, will be practically eliminated as a result of the board's decision to build six-foot concrete walks around the stock barns. With these constructed, visitors will be able to reach any building on the grounds without stepping into mud or water.

The board appointed F. B. Currie, of La Grande, superintendent of the agricultural and horticultural departments. Mr. Currie was in charge of the Union County exhibit last year at the State Fair. Mrs. A. L. Brown, of Salem, and Mrs. Alice M. Weister, of Portland, were named managers of the textile and art departments, respectively.

The board rejected the proposal of Aviator Maroney, of Seattle, to give exhibition flights at the fair, considering his price of $2000 for the week too high.

W. E. McElroy, of Portland, was awarded the contract for furnishing music during fair week.

Portland Bid Accepted.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., March 9.—(Special.)—The City Council last night voted an acceptance of the bid of the Howard-Cooper Corporation of Portland, for furnishing a street flusher. The price was about $1100 on board cars at the factory in the Middle West.

Kindergartens to Be Topic.

Sam Norton will speak on "Modern Kindergartens" this afternoon at the Courthouse at 3:30 under the auspices of the parents' educational bureau.

WAR SECRETS NOT TOLD

Ex-Commander-in-Chief Says Detroit Man Gave Valuable Industrial and Technical Services to Allies Without Charge.

LONDON, March 9.—Viscount French, the former Commander-in-Chief of the British army in France, appeared in the Court of the King's bench today as a witness in the libel action brought by George Gordon Moore, of Detroit, against Hulton & Co., publishers of the Manchester Evening Chronicle.

The libel complained of consisted of an article accusing Mr. Moore of betraying British military secrets which he had learned through his intimacy with Lord French. After evidence had been given on behalf of Mr. Moore, the defendants withdrew all charges and apologized. The case was then withdrawn on terms which were not made public, the defendants paying the costs.

Many prominent people were in court. Henry Edward Duke, who acted as counsel for Mr. Moore, explained that Mr. Moore had been a close friend of General French and had visited him at headquarters in France. He said further that the libel grew out of the friendship between General French and Mr. Moore and the fact that they shared a residence in London.

These facts, he said, were made the basis of odious imputations that Mr. Moore had obtained military secrets and betrayed them to Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador to the United States. It was charged further that Mr. Moore had used his own position and the services of a member of his family to work mischief against the cause of the allies.

Mr. Duke denounced these charges as malicious inventions, the fact being that General French had consulted Mr. Moore on military problems requiring scientific knowledge and industrial experience, problems which it is not in the public interest to divulge.

Regarding the charges involving Count von Bernstorff, counsel said that the visit Mr. Moore had made on Long Island was to see Theodore Roosevelt.

Lord French confirmed the statements of Mr. Duke in general. Asked whether Mr. Moore became acquainted with any military secrets, Lord French replied emphatically:

"There is not a shadow of foundation in such a charge. I absolutely deny it."

Lord French testified further that Mr. Moore rendered valuable services gratuitously and continuously and on occasions of some danger to himself.

Mr. Moore on the stand testified that after he had made a speech in Detroit advocating the cause of the allies he received letters threatening his life.

DR. SARGENTICH IS COMING

Physician Returning to Portland Writes of War Horrors.

TACOMA, Wash., March 9.—(Special.)—"Stricken Europe will be set back 50 years by the reaction that will follow the war," writes Dr. Spiro Sargentich, former Portland physician, from Washington, D. C., to Steve Stambuck, of Tacoma.

Dr. Sargentich, with nerves shattered, is en route to Portland after two years' hospital work in Serbia.

"During the reconstruction period there will be thousands of cases of suicides and insanity as a direct result of the war," he said.

Dr. Sargentich will pass two weeks in a hospital at Rochester, Minn., before coming West. He was reported as dead while in Serbia and was mourned by his friends until a brother received word of his safety.

Springfield Mill Resumes.

SPRINGFIELD, Or., March 9.—(Special.)—The Fischer-Boutin Lumber Company's mill here resumed operations yesterday with a half crew, after having been idle, with brief exceptions, for the past three years. First logs were received this week from the company's camps near Marcola. M. G. Bally, formerly associated with Carl Fischer in the operation of the mill under the name of the Fischer-Bally Company, assumes the superintendency, now that Mr. Fischer is actively engaged in the management of the Sheridan Lumber Company's mill, for the Boutin-Bracher interests.
