HIGHWAY PICTURES ATTRACT TOURISTS

Mr. Lancaster Finds Signs in East of Wave of Travel to West's Scenic Routes.

ROAD FAME SPREAD AFAR

Berger-Jones Pictures Attract Big Audiences During Trip—Publications Unite in Heralding Columbia Route Wonders.

Scores of prominent Eastern people will visit Portland this year merely to take a trip over the Columbia River Highway.

This is the glad message brought back to Oregon yesterday by Samuel C. Lancaster, engineer and designer of the famed highway, after a six weeks' tour of the principal cities of the East.

Mr. Lancaster's trip resulted in a campaign of publicity that will spread the facts regarding the highway's attractions before millions of people wherever the English language is read.

As a result of his intercessions with prominent publishers in the East, descriptive stories of the highway now are in the course of preparation for the following magazines: World's Work, Nation, Geographic Magazine, Ford Times, Saturday Evening Post, Country Gentleman and a number of others.

Publicity Is Widespread.

Following Mr. Lancaster's recent address before the Chicago Chamber of Commerce an extensive story, covering four pages and carrying six pictures, appeared in the monthly publication of that organization. Widespread publicity in various daily and weekly newspapers of the Eastern cities also attended Mr. Lancaster's visit there.

Mr. Lancaster went East to attend the meeting of the United States Chambers of Commerce at Washington, D. C. He delivered the lecture at the Willard Hotel when the Berger-Jones pictures of the highway were shown before the delegates to that convention. He says that fully 1800 people witnessed the exhibition.

He also spoke before the Rotary Club and the Commercial Club at Washington and before the National Press Club, where many members of Congress were the guests of the newspaper men. The Berger-Jones pictures were shown on these occasions and made wonderfully favorable impressions, he reports.

Private Exhibitions Given.

He also gave a number of private exhibitions of his own pictures of the highway at Washington and devoted considerable time to conferences with Government officials on the proposed construction of a new road, connecting with the Columbia River Highway, around the base of Mount Hood.

"If the measure now pending in Congress and providing for the establishment of a bureau of National parks is passed," commented Mr. Lancaster yesterday, "our highway will get much attention through the Government's efforts to encourage travel to all the parks.

"Secretary Lane, of the Interior Department, is doing everything that he can to systematize the National parks and to make them, collectively, an object for the tourists' attention. In this connection we are hopeful eventually of having Mount Hood placed in the National park system."

Ad Clubs to See Pictures.

Mr. Lancaster went from Washington to Philadelphia, where he arranged, tentatively, for the exhibition of the highway pictures before the National convention of Ad Clubs in that city next June. This proposed display will bring the highway pictures to the attention of hundreds of business men from all parts of the country.

He is planning, also, to have them shown before the National convention of Rotary Clubs in Cincinnati later in the year.

Through the kindness of Mr. Houston, of Doubleday Page & Company, who visited Portland a few months ago and who took a trip over the highway, Mr. Lancaster was enabled to address the Advertising Club of New York City. He spoke for 20 minutes telling of the wonders of the highway and inviting his hearers to come to Oregon to see it.

While in New York he placed in the headquarters of the advertising club a picture of a portion of the highway completed, in colors, a year ago by Fred Routledge, of this city.

Mr. Lancaster Aids Picture Tour.

Mr. Lancaster made a number of addresses in Boston. Edward A. Filene, the well-known Boston merchant who visited Portland last Fall, was largely instrumental in securing audiences for the highway engineer before some of the most influential people of that city. He spoke before the Boston Chamber of Commerce, the Pilgrim Publishing Association, the Association of Colonial Families and before other organizations.

On most of his travels Mr. Lancaster preceded the Berger-Jones party by several days or a week and invariably called attention to the approaching exhibit of the Berger-Jones pictures. He co-operated with the party in numerous ways and through his efforts the crowds attending the Berger-Jones pictures were considerably augmented.

Mr. Lancaster stopped for a day at Toledo, O., where he told of the highway's fame to a number of parties and then proceeded to Detroit, where he conferred with officials of the Ford factory regarding further publicity in the Ford Times, which circulates among more than 1,000,000 readers.

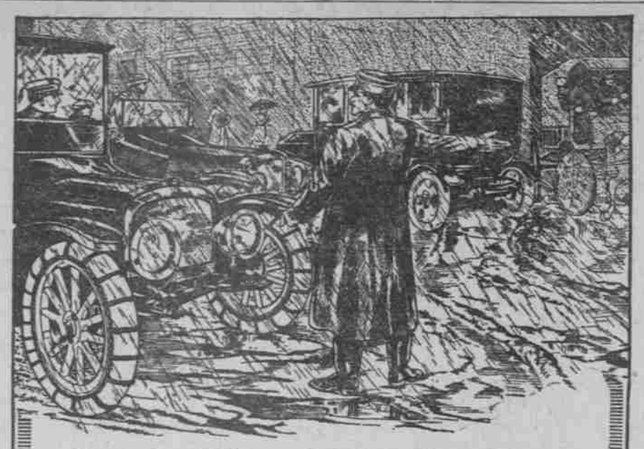
Highway Attracts Attention.

The last two issues of that publication have devoted much attention to the highway. More publicity has been promised through the same source. It is possible, he said, that Henry Ford himself will come out to travel over the highway this year.

At Chicago he addressed the Chicago Association of Commerce. This meeting had been arranged by George W. Vaux, general agent for the passenger department of the Union Pacific system. He also spoke before the Chicago Rotary Club and before the Rotary Club of St. Paul.

"We tried to sow some good seed," said Mr. Lancaster in discussing his trip, "and I believe most of it fell on good ground, so I expect it to bear good fruit.

"As a result, I look for a continued movement of tourists in this direction but the publicity work that has been started must be continued."



There's Where YOU Are Wise!

"That Other Fellow is a menace to Everyone's Safety"

Nine-tenths of all automobile accidents are caused by skidding and by foolish dependence on rubber alone. In these days of crowded streets and congested traffic, the motorist who does not take precaution to guard against every possibility of disaster is next to criminal.

"The ever-present danger that is quite as much of a terror to the experienced driver as it is to the novice is skidding. There is nothing that makes a man lose his nerve so thoroughly or dread a repetition of the experience so keenly as a bad skid that ends in a broken wheel against a curb, or that makes matters far worse by "side swiping" a moving trolley car. To feel the car start to slide from under you, aiming directly at the nearest obstruction, despite all manipulations of the wheel and brakes—well, once is too often".

Weed Anti-Skid Chains vs. Slipshod Traffic

Traffic policemen, by the hundreds, interviewed in all the large cities on the coast and throughout the country, express the unanimous opinion that their work would be greatly reduced; that nearly all skidding accidents would be eliminated if motorists would take the precaution of always carrying WEED CHAINS, and putting them on when the roads and pavements are wet, slippery and uncertain.

Some of these guardians of public safety go so far as to say that the time is not far off when State Legislatures will make the use of WEED CHAINS compulsory, for the protection of life and property.

Make Safety Yours

Take no chances. Fully equip your own car with WEED CHAINS and insist, for your protection, that other drivers do the same.

On the Rear Tires

they afford perfect traction and adequate brake control.

On the Front Tires

they act as ladders to enable the front wheels to easily climb out of mud-ruts, car tracks and all uneven places in pavements or roads, always insuring absolute steering control, eliminating all chance of the front wheel skid.

If you haven't a set of WEED CHAINS, or if you have a pair for the rear tires only, get a full equipment now. Delay is dangerous. Stop at your dealers today and WEED CHAIN your car to safety.

OREGON POLITICAL GOSSIP

Robert Tucker in Race for Judge of Department No. 3, of the Circuit Court, to Succeed Judge McGinn—E. V. Littlefield Opens Campaign Headquarters—Multopor Republican Club, Old-Time Political Organization, Plans New Activity—Other Political News.

ROBERT TUCKER, a widely-known Portland attorney, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Circuit Judge of Department No. 3, to succeed Judge Henry E. McGinn, who will retire at the expiration of his term. Mr. Tucker's candidacy was formally announced yesterday.

Mr. Tucker was born in Millwood, Knox County, O., 49 years ago. His father was a carpenter and the son worked with him at that trade until he entered Buchtel College, at Akron, O., from which he was graduated in 1891. He worked his way through college, teaching school at intervals and keeping books for the treasurer of the college to pay his expenses.

From Buchtel Mr. Tucker entered the law department of the University of Cincinnati. He paid his expenses at that institution by working as librarian. After graduating from law school he entered the law office of Swayne, Swayne & Hayes at Toledo, O. The Swayne brothers were sons of Noah H. Swayne, Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. Mr. Hayes was a son of Rutherford B. Hayes, President of the United States.

After five years with this law firm Mr. Tucker was appointed Assistant United States District Attorney for the Northern District of Ohio by President McKinley. He served in this capacity for five years, resigning to come to Oregon. He has been engaged in the general practice of law in Portland for the past 10 years.

In 1909 Mr. Tucker was appointed Assistant United States Attorney for Oregon. He made an unusual record in cleaning up a congested criminal docket in 30 days. He served until the appointment of John McCourt as United States Attorney, when he resigned to continue his private practice.

For several years Mr. Tucker was president of the Oregon Humane Society. He has also been active in civic matters. He is married and has one son. Except as Assistant United States Attorney, Mr. Tucker has never held public office.

"If elected, I will endeavor honestly to comply with the requirements of my oath of office," said Mr. Tucker. "I have no obligation to any person or class."

Politics have, indeed, changed. Mrs. Lucia Faxon Additon was the principal speaker last Saturday night at a meeting of the Lincoln Republican Club. The Jackson Club, a Democratic political organization, met last night, and presto!—Mrs. Lucia Faxon Additon was again the principal speaker of the evening. Can you think back ten years and dreamily imagine the popular state of mind had a speaker, within three days, been the main attraction at both a Republican and a Democratic political gathering? Truth is stranger than fiction.

E. V. Littlefield, member of the lower house of the 1913 Legislature from Multnomah County and candidate this year for the Republican nomination for Representative in Congress, opened campaign headquarters yesterday at 519 Henry building. The headquarters will be in personal charge of Monroe Goldstein, a Portland newspaper and publicity man of wide experience. Mr. Goldstein is also secretary of the Portland Press Club.

The Multorpor Republican Club, one of the oldest political organizations in Portland—perhaps the oldest—is planning to take an active part in this year's campaign. For several years the club has been heard from only when its members met to exchange reminiscences of the days when torchlight processions were features of every campaign. The feeling prevails that this is to be a Republican year, and the members of the old club want to do their bit on the firing line. Arrangements are under way for a banquet within the next two weeks, at which plans will be made for furnishing speakers and holding special meetings in Multnomah County, or anywhere else in the state they are desired. The name "Multorpor" is a combination of Multnomah, Oregon and Portland.

Robert Tucker, Candidate for Republican Nomination for Judge of Department No. 3, of the Circuit Court.

SALEM, Or., March 20.—(Special.)—Elliott W. Major, Governor of Missouri, today filed a request with Secretary of State Olcott to have his name printed on the official ballots of the Democratic party as a candidate for nomination for Vice-President of the United States.

Governor Major is the first of any party to file for this office.

Four candidates filed their declarations of candidacy today with the Secretary of State for the Republican nomination for Representative in the Legislature from their respective districts.

Wesley O. Smith, of Klamath Falls, who was a member of the lower house in the last Legislature from the Twenty-first District, comprising Crook, Grant, Jefferson and Lake counties, filed once more as a candidate for this office.

"The growth and prosperity of Eastern Oregon, as well as the whole state," says Mr. Smith in his statement to voters, "depends on the development of those vast areas now practically nonproducing, and as the benefit accruing will be of greater importance to the people collectively than it would individually, I believe it is the duty of the state to lend its assistance in financing this pioneering work, and thus eventually distribute the cost of Government over all portions of the state, rather than force a very small percentage of the land to bear the burden of taxation as at present."

W. J. Clark, of Independence, who has filed for Representative from Polk County, declares he will oppose enactment of laws of a "freakish nature" if he is elected.

Medford developed two candidates for State Representative today, when William H. Gore filed for the Republican nomination from Douglas and Jackson counties and C. M. Thomas for the nomination from Jackson County.

A. G. Thompson, of Portland, has filed for the Republican nomination for Circuit Judge, Department No. 3, in Multnomah County. Mr. Thompson assures the voters in his official statement that he will interpret and apply the law "without fear or favor."

Interest in the primary election in Marion County to date centers around the fight for the Republican nomination for District Attorney. So far there are six candidates in the field and every one is making a vigorous campaign. Five of the aspirants live in Salem. They are: W. H. Keyes, Walter Winslow, Max Gehlhar, Guy O. Smith and O. H. Carson. The single candidate from outside Salem is Blaine McCord, of Woodburn.

J. W. Morton, of Hood River, is the latest aspirant for joint Senator from the district comprising Hood River and Wasco counties. Mr. Morton has been a resident of Hood River since 1875, and served a term in the Legislature as Representative of Wasco and Sherman counties before Hood River County had been formed in 1893. His opponents for the Republican nomination are J. P. Lucas, ex-postmaster of Hood River, and F. M. Gill, of Dufur, candidate in 1914 for the Progressive nomination for Governor. George R. Wilbur, of Hood River, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination.

"Salem Democrats," comments the Woodburn Independent, "are getting so hungry that they are passing resolutions condemning their own idols, Senators Chamberlain and Lane. The latter, it must be borne strictly in mind, depends upon Republican votes for re-election."

W. T. Grieve, present Assessor of Jackson County, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Sheriff.

The race for the Republican nominations for Representatives in the lower house for Marion County also promises to prove of more than ordinary interest, as there are already nine aspirants in the field and more in prospect. Marion County is entitled to five Representatives. One of the candidates in this county is Mrs. Alice H. Page, of this city, wife of Ronald K. Page, an attorney. Mrs. Page is a well-known club woman and is already conducting an active campaign. Other candidates are: Seymour Jones, of Kelser Bottom, formerly president of the Salem Republican Club; E. H. Belknap, of Sidney, a farmer; Thomas Brown, of Salem, attorney and one of the Marion delegation in the last Legislature; George Keech, of Stayton, farmer; Sam Brown, of Gervais, a farmer, and a member of the lower house last year; Ben Robertson, of Turner, farmer; J. H. McInturff, of Salem, an attorney, and Ivan Martin, of Salem, an attorney.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., March 20.—(Special.)—Circuit Judge D. V. Kuykendall, of this city, has announced his candidacy for the nomination, for that position at the May primaries on the Republican ticket. Judge Kuykendall was appointed last Fall to fill the unexpired term of the late George Noland, of this city, who died suddenly. He has followed the practice of law in this city for several years and served the county for two years as District Attorney.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., March 20.—(Special.)—Wesley O. Smith, of this city, has announced his candidacy on the Republican ticket for the renomination for Representative from this district in the State Legislature. Mr. Smith is publisher of the Evening Herald, of this city.

Chinese shipyards may possibly yet build ships for the United States, as they are already building them for European owners. Hongkong is said to be enjoying a shipbuilding boom on an unprecedented scale, one yard being prepared to build steamships up to 10,000 tons.
