WOMEN'S CLUBS

BY EDITH KNIGHT HOLMES

DR. D. W. DE BUSK will lecture today for the Portland Psychology Club at the regular meeting in the Library. The business session will open promptly at 2 o'clock. The lecture will follow. Mrs. Alva Lee Stephens will preside.

Dr. DeBusk will have as his subject "Nature and Content of Consciousness." This will be one of a series of addresses that he is giving for the club.

Beaumont Parent-Teacher Association was addressed at the last meeting by Mrs. Morton Doty and Miss Beatrice Doty. The circle has a progressive president, Mrs. H. H. Eling, and the members are all workers.

An event of interest of Wednesday was an entertainment given by the women of the East Side Christian Church under the direction of Mrs. C. M. Kiggins. Music and readings combined to make up an attractive programme. Among those who participated were Martha Englehart, Madeline Haas, Melba Browning, Agnes Cover, Grace Mascher, Alyce Cason, Miss Clara Jones, Mildred Jones, Elvera Anderson, Doris Lake, Laura Hall, Vivian DeLory and others.

The political science class will meet on Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in social center. Mrs. L. F. Additon will give an address.

* * *

Mrs. Josephine Sharp, who is arranging for a conference of presidents of women's organizations, has announced that 81 presidents have signified their intention to attend the luncheon to be given Saturday noon at the Hazelwood.

Many of the members of Portland Woman's Club will attend grand opera Friday and Saturday nights. On Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 the club will be guests of Mrs. P. J. Mann, who will entertain for Mrs. G. J. Frankel and Mrs. J. A. Pettit. No cards have been issued. They are expected to attend without formal invitation.

The election at Portland Woman's Club will be held on Friday from 1:30 to 3 o'clock.

Piedmont W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. I. D. BoDine, 1048 Rodney avenue, corner Alberta street, at 2:30 o'clock Friday. A Frances Willard meeting will be held.

STYLE TIPS FROM PORTLAND STORES

"UNHAPPY is the maid that wears a last year's hat," it has been said, but the truth of the matter is that up to recent days the rejuvenated hat of a Summer past could scarce be told from its brand new sister if a bunch of flowers were added. But times are changing, and so are hats. With every inch that is added to the diameter of milady's skirt, a width must be added to her hat.

Chances are that before the Summer has waned into Autumn, Dame Fashion will be smiling 'neath a hat that rivals the once-beloved "merry widow." The only blessing that can be derived from the news is that there will be no long feathers tacked on the edges. So, whether the hat is a comfort to the wearer or not, we may at least know that it will not be especially inconvenient to others.

"Will the small hats disappear with the advent of the wide sailors?" is a question that has been eagerly asked. The fact is that for utility the small hat can in no way be equaled by the wide-brimmed chapeau, therefore, it will not go. Women have learned to love articles of wear for convenience, as well as for beauty.

For a garden hat, for the street and for times when a fluffy big hat is desired, the wide-brimmed hat will reign supreme, but for motoring, for sports hats and a million other occasions, nothing will displace the small hat. That is the decree of fashion prophets.

It is for balance and congruity of line that the big hat has been wanted, for so wide have the skirts and coats become that with the average costume and a small hat, the head comes to look like a peanut. Only with the old-fashioned ruffled costume and the small waist line can the poke be worn. With suits, women will wear wide or medium wide hats.

No one ever really got over loving the wide, sleepy, sloping hat with marguerites and forget-me-nots dangling from its velvet ribbons. But when ruffles became passee designers said "no" and that ended it. Let those who clamored for it be consoled. With the ruffled gown and its renewed charm, a hat like that of the well-known "Maud Muller" is to be the latest commandment of fashion.

Then, too, there is to be a revival of the picture hat not to an extreme. The hats with pointed and freaky crowns are to be featured by some designers of ability. Some pretty hats to be worn in the early Summer months are trimmed with maline in various soft colors and in flowers of delicate shades. The maline is made to feign substantial qualities by addition of streamers of black velvet. These hats look like but are not garden hats.

SNAPSHOTS

BY BARBARA BOYD.

Begin Your Web.

ONCE upon a time, which is the proper way for all stories to begin, there was a poor boy who was a shut-in. At this stage of story telling, the children usually rise up to remark, "Is it a true story?" And so I will say right here, "Yes, this is a true story. And the boy, now a man, is living today."

This boy's home was practically in the slums. His parents were not shiftless or illiterate, but they were very poor, and they lived in two rooms meagerly furnished. The outlook from the window where he sat was principally of brick walls.

A settlement worker came along who interested the owner of the property in the boy and a little bay window was built from which he could get a more extended view. This view included a back yard in which, as Spring came on, growing things sprang up, and it became green and, to the boy's eyes, beautiful. He had seen very few flowers and plants and knew nothing about them, and his interest and curiosity were keen and unbounded. The owner of the back yard heard of it and sent him some flowers. It was only a slum back yard and its products did not rival a Fifth avenue florist's. But to the boy, they were a revelation. Others heard of his delight and more flowers came and some plants in tin cans, and then some books. He began to study, to experiment, and today that boy is a famous professor in a college and doing work that is second only to Burbank's in the plant world.

There is an old saying of the Greeks, "The gods bring threads to a web begun."

It is true, isn't it? Our part is to begin the web.

The boy began his when he commenced studying those plants in that back yard and asking questions about them and wanting to know about plant life. His desires reached out as the tendrils of the vines he watched did for support; and those outgoing desires brought the supply they craved. Naturally his queries aroused interest. Naturally neighbors brought to him such blossoms and plants as they could get, and naturally they would get them when told of the purpose of which the flowers were wanted. Who would refuse a blossom or a slip to a shut-in? The scrub woman who lived on the floor below told the woman where she scrubbed, and the woman made a slip from the geranium in her window and sent it. The laundress next door told the tale to her mistress and another plant came. And so the supply grew.

It was all simple and natural. This process is always simple and natural, for it is part of the law of the universe; and these laws when we understand them work without hitch. And no matter what web you may want to start, the laws will work as effectively for you as it did for this boy.

These old sayings that have come from the life experience of a people usually have hidden in them some great fundamental truth. And this old Greek saying has a message of cheer and courage for us.

Our part is to begin the web, to start to do that thing that something within us is calling us to do. The threads to carry it on will come.

Our real failure is in not beginning, in letting fear or doubt or distrust hold us back. That is where the fault lies in most cases. We fear that the threads will not come, not realizing that in the very impulse to do is the promise of fulfilment. Demand implies supply. In the creative energies of the universe, the two are inseparable.

So let us hearten ourselves for some work we may want to do by this actual experience of this poor shut-in whose outlook seemingly could not be more hopeless, or by this bit of wisdom from the Greeks, or to come to nearer times, the saying of one who proved what he preached, "Launch out into the deep."

RECIPE TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

This Home Made Mixture Darkens Gray Hair and Removes Dandruff.

To a half pint of water add:

Bay Rum.....1 oz.
Barbo Compound.....a small box
Glycerine .....¼ oz.

These are all simple ingredients that that you can buy from any druggist at very little cost, and mix them yourself. Apply to the scalp once a day for two weeks, then once every other week until all the mixture is used.

A half pint should be enough to darken the gray hair, rid the head of dandruff and kill the dandruff germs. It stops the hair from falling out, and relieves itching and scalp diseases. It promotes the growth of the hair and makes harsh hair soft and glossy.—Adv.

proposed constitutional amendment providing for state aid to irrigation and drainage districts: James B. Kerr, Asa B. Thomson and C. C. Chapman. This committee will consult with the Attorney-General in planning its work and also will co-operate with the committee named by the recent convention to draft a proposed constitutional amendment providing for rural credits.

After both these amendments have been drafted it is probable that another session of the convention will be called to act on them.

MUNICIPAL COURT BUSY

Man Gets Fine Raised So He Can File an Appeal.

Ten dollars was the amount of fine imposed by Municipal Judge Langguth yesterday morning, when C. L. Gunta was found guilty of permitting a minor to frequent his poolroom on Peninsula avenue.

Ah Sing, proprietor of a Chinese gambling game, and nine of his patrons were each fined $5.

Those who lifted the bottle in debauch were given jail sentences and fines. Thomas Smith will serve 20 days; Matt Murphy, five days; Nels Peterson, five days; Alex Lank, five days; Ed Pearl, five days; Charles Flem was fined $10; Sam Nelson, $10; Arthur McHenry, $10.

Charles J. Helt, fined $5 for drunkenness, asked for an appeal. Judge Langguth obligingly raised the amount to $25 to permit the appeal.

CONDEMNATION IS ORDERED

City Needs Charles Schmidt Property on Washington Street.

Inability of the city to reach an agreement with Charles Schmidt and the Fisher-Thorsen Company as to the amount to be paid for property at Sixteenth and Washington streets, needed by the city to widen Washington street, resulted yesterday in the City Council adopting a resolution instructing City Attorney LaRoche to start condemnation proceedings.

Washington street is to be widened a distance of about 200 feet at Sixteenth. Plans have been under way for nearly a year, but have been delayed pending negotiations over the Schmidt property. The Fisher-Thorsen Company holds a lease on the Schmidt property.

POTATO SELLER FINED $20

Dealer and Customer, However, Make Up Their Differences.

When Municipal Judge Langguth concluded his advice to J. Simon, of the Simon Salvage Store, 131-133 First street, and F. F. Smith, a customer, the two men shook hands and agreed to forget their trade difficulties.

Mr. Simon was arraigned yesterday for the sale of alleged unwholesome potatoes to Mr. Smith, and the action was brought on complaint of Market Inspector E. L. Melton. The case arose from the recent conviction of Mr. Simon on the charge of deceptive advertising, in which Mr. Smith was the complaining witness. The merchant was fined $20, and his dissatisfaction with the result led to an assurance by the complainant that further action could be brought.

EMPLOYERS DINE TONIGHT

Oregon Association to Banquet at Annual Meeting.

The Employers' Association of Oregon will hold its annual meeting and banquet tonight at the Hotel Portland at 6:30 in the main dining-room. Leigh Irvine, of San Francisco, representing the Pacific Federation of Employers, will deliver an address on "Citizenship." There will also be addresses by several prominent Portland men.

Out-of-town visitors will be: J. Bruce Gibson, of Everett, Wash., president of Pacific Federation of Employers; delegation from the Employers' Association of Seattle; J. C. H. Reynolds, secretary of Employers' Association of Inland Empire at Spokane.

RUSSIA ASKS CATALOGUES

Pacific Coast Is Viewed as Source of Supplies After War.

Russia's interest is increasing in the Pacific Coast as the source from which her supplies must be drawn after the war, as is indicated by the increasing demand from Russian concerns for catalogues from the manufacturers of the Pacific Coast.

A. R. Owen, special representative of the Canadian Pacific in Petrograd, has written to the Portland Chamber of Commerce, asking that illustrated catalogues be sent to merchants in Siberia, and there are indications that interest in this line will continue increasingly as time goes on.

ALASKAN BANKER IS HERE

Harriman Representative Lauds Northern Territory.

Gaston Hardy, resident vice-president at Seward, Alaska, for the Harriman National Bank, was in Portland yesterday on his way back from a trip to New York, and expressed an opinion that Alaska holds a future greater perhaps than any other territory of the Northwest.

"It is a step in pioneering when we establish our branch in Alaska, just as when we establish branches in South America, and we expect the future to bring forth large results in those lands.

"Alaska is not a gold producing country alone. Besides its varied resources, Alaska is becoming the mecca for tourists. Last Summer thousands visited the territory."

RAIL LINE PLANS FILED

Stephen Carver Indicates Intention to Build to Oregon City.

As an indication that he intends to complete the construction of the interurban electric line from Oregon City to Portland through the East Side in accordance with the franchise granted him two years ago, Stephen Carver, president of the Portland & Oregon City Railway Company, yesterday filed plans with the city for the type of rails to be used.

He asks permission to lay in paved streets the Lorain Steil Company's 72-pound standard high T-rail. Assurance is given that the work is to be rushed with all possible speed.

PEDERSON BOND APPROVED

Trio of Bondsmen Represent Assets of Close to $1,400,000.

Approval yesterday by the City Council of the bond furnished by Hans Pederson, Auditorium contractor, marked the last step in the legal proceedings leading up to the commencement of the superstructure of the building. The work will be started as soon as the excavations are finished which will be before the end of this week.

Mr. Pederson furnished a personal bond. His bondsmen are H. P. Scheel, N. A. Schanen and J. F. Kelly. The three, investigation has shown, represent assets of about $1,400,000 which are given to back up the bond.

Saco, Maine, has just opened its first theater, although the city was settled in 1628, incorporated in 1718 and obtained its city charter in 1867.

Don't Let Soap Spoil Your Hair

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Adv.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull, dizzy headache, or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

Tomorrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to sick headaches, backache, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoyment this morning inside-bath. It is said that men and women who try this become enthusiastic and keep it up daily. It is a splendid health measure, for it is more important to keep clean and pure on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing disease, while the bowel pores do.

The principle of bathing inside is not new, as millions of people practice it. Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.—Adv.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edward's determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids.

It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.
