It has not been definitely settled whether the Multnomah Amateur Ath-letic Club will send five or six athletes to the meet, but it is thought that letic Club will send five or six athletes to the meet, but it is thought that Manager Hawkins and Captain Walter Hummell will send the following delegation: Half-mile, George "Admiral" Dewey; mile, Chet Huggins; weights, George Philbrook; hurdles, Walter Hummel; high jump, Magone, while Tom Loutit may toss the javelin. INTER-CITY LEAGUE TO MEET

Manager of Gresham Team and Schedule Will Be Considered.

Several important subjects will be up before the managers of the Inter-City Baseball League at their meeting tonight in the office of President Fred N. Bay, 270 Fourth street. The meeting will be called to order promptly at 12.30 o'clock.

Higginbotham is the Methuselah of the menagerie. Possibly this is because he is truthful in the matter of milestones. Higg owns up to 23 years. Johnny Lush admits to 21 birthdays; we believe, and Billy Speas has reached that age of discretion that comes with married life and 27 candle-frosted birthday cakes.

These are the only veterans in experience on McCredie's roster. Oddly, too, Higginbotham and Fisher are the only Beavers who remain as holdowers.

The question of just who is to man-age the Gresham team and the adop-tion of the schedule are the most im-

M'CARTHY TO COACH STANFORD

ceed Wolter in Baseball Job.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., March 23.—Jack McCarthy, who has umpired many of Stanford University's base-ball games, was appointed coach today to the Cardinal's squad to succeed Harry Wolter, who resigned and will leave tomorrow for the South to go into training with the Los Angeles Coast League team.

The appointment, made by the executive committee, is subject to the approval of the athletic advisory board.

Gale and Sea of Mud at Luna Park Preclude Practice.

SAN JOSE, Cal., March 28 .- (Special.) SAN JOSE, Cal., March. 23.—(Special.)

Today was a dreary one in the Seals' training camp. The field at Linna Park was too minddy for any sort of a workout on account of last night's deluge of rain and all day a gale from the north kept the players confined indoors.

Wolverton made himself scarce immediately after luncheon and did not return all day.

Jack McClellan, the San Francisco middleweight, will be in Portland in a faw days. And Shelland pony is correct. Fans who have been accustomed to looking upon big, rangy fellows like Doane, Krouger, Derrick, Peckinpaugh, Lindsay and that mold of men will be startled by the physical contrast with the 1816 squad.

Most of the 1916 Beavers outside the tching staff are mere Lilliputians in Bill Stumpf and Chuck Ward are the Bill Stumpf and Chuck Ward are the sole Gollisths on the regular team, granting Quinn takes precedence over Louis Guisto for first sack honors. Quinn says he is five feet 11 in height, but he doesn't look it. Vaughn at second is small in stature, and the three new outfielders are wiry, fleet-footed young fellows, weighing between 150 yard dush and the 220-yard hurdles and 160 pounds each.

Will be disposed of in heats of four bompetitors each, with semi-finals and finals. The quarter-mile and all distances above will be run off without theats.

Smallness of physique is not the only unusual characteristic of the 1916 Beavers This year's Portland club will be one of the youngest crews ever husbanded together in a class AA

Most of the boys range from 22 to years of age. Higginbotham is the Methuselah of Irve Higginbotham says he is satisfied to step into the background this Spring and let some other pitcher as-sume the honor of pitching the open-ing same of the year. Higg has twirled the last three curtain-raisers and has won every one of them. Three years ago he pitched the opener at San Francisco and was re-turned victorious despite some "punk" support by Walt Doane and some of the rest of the boys. The following opening games up north in Portland, and he won this one, too. Inasmuch as there used to be some sort of a grim-jawed jinx on the Beavers' trail before Higginbotham showed on the scene, Walt McCredie may think twice before discarding Higg as his official mosquito fleet.

mosquito fleet.

If Higg is not given the assignment the honor will fail either to Johnny Lush sor to Wynn Noyes, undoubtedly the former because Mack is deadly afraid of the San Francisco short right-field fence. Fitzgerald and Schaller, two of the chief long-distance belters of the Seal squad, are left-hand bats-men and should be easy prey to a southpaw.

Vaughn's arrival leaves only Dennis Wille missing from the free consomme roster. Vaughn is a medium-sized fellow, resembling Bill Rodgers in profile and general appearances, but not in awkwardness. He handles himself nicely. Vaughn is a right-hand hitter. He has not played any ball this Spring, but has kept in shape playing golf over the Tacoma municipal course. the Tacoma municipal course

The sun was out again today and in the forenoon Manager McCredle had the infield practicing on double plays. Carson Bigbee is showing better with every skirmish. "Tag the bag with every skirmish. "Tag the bag with your right foot niways when you're taking a throw from short or third," Mack told him this forenoon, and the Oregon boy fell into the scheme as naturally as an Eddie Collins.
