Women who desire a complexion that will be admired and not questioned cannot be too careful of the powder they use. Ordinary face powders (no matter how fine they may seem in the box or between the fingers) are disappointing under the real test—on the face.

Such powders deaden the skin with a lifeless hue. Or they do worse -bespeak "make-up." To use them is to be haunted by the fear that they will fail you any minute in the wind, in the glaring light or in the heat of the dance. There is one complexion powder that stands every test—

Carmen Complexion Powder

The one powder perfected under such a process as to impart the fresh bloom of girlhood without a trace of artificiality. It does not rub or blow off. You are sure of a charming complexion at all times—regardless of strong lights or the effects of perspiration. The scent enhances its refinement.
