CROP CONDITION IS FACTOR

Activity in Northwest Depends on Demand From Eastern Millers. ubmarine Campaign May Be Influence.

The wheat markets were firmer in all

The wheat markets were firmer in all quarters yesterday. Local prices averaged about I seat hither in response to the upturn at Chicago, which was due to had crop reports.

The Coast markets are dull with little property of reviving, and the only copportunity for activity in the future will come with a resumention of liberal market will come with a resumention of liberal market will come with a resumention of liberal market and the section. On club and other white wheats, sellers can do as well or better here. The Eastern buyers also make fester the willers of that section. On club and other white wheats, sellers can do as well or better here. The Eastern buyers also defermed the will continue at this rate much longer is in the country. Nestenday's foll sloops by the Grain men are speculating as to what a country. I would be a country to the vigorous abmarine campaign of Grain men are speculating as to what the feeter than the selection of the submarines has been replaced by new tonnage. It is expected that the market, in the immediate future, will be greatly affected by American crop advices, but former records show that the condition in May is usually above that of April. European crop hews is generally hopeful, but personally I believe that there cannot be large crops, with so many millions of workers withfrawn from agricultural pursuits. There is a better inquiry for Argentibe froights, from Britlish merchanis, and rates are hardening."
Crop conditions in the war zone are given by Broomball as follows:
France—Crop prospects on the areas seeded are generally thought to be favorable.
Weather improved, Reservey are very medarate, consumption large, and foreign arrivals monerate. It is believed that purchases will of a necessity commone shortly Germany—Weather less favorable, with freezing, Less complaint is heard regarding shortage of supplies.

Russis—Weather mifder, following recent moderate freezing. Crops generally promtes well as reported by efficials, but various agents do not confirm this and believe the crop will be materially short of even last year. Spring sewing in southern districts progressing. Navigation at the portricts progressing. Navigation at the por-

It is generally recognized that communities can no longer follow the short-sighted policy of building highways without consideration of the problem of maintenance. It is not so much what a highway costs today as what it will cost in the aggregate in ten or twenty years. The basic proposition upon which our road building and maintenance must rest is the amount of money expended for the service the road renders. For service in upkeep roads should be hard-surfaced with
