Director Edward Jose planned to get some individual with boiler-plate ribs and cast iron nerve to "double" for Pearl, but the actress would't stand for it. The scenario specifies me for that stunt, doesn't it?" she asked. "Well, it's going to be me!" Mr. Jose protested, but what's the use of arguing with a determined woman? The stunt was pulled off. The rehearsal was perfect, sind the car came tearing down the road.

DAWN OF THE ELECTRICAL ERA IN RAILROADING

The All-Steel "Olympian" and "Columbian" Trains Now Operated Electrically Over the Rocky Mountains

Progress has no age. Onward is ever the slogan of railway construction, operation and efficiency. In this forward movement electricity challenges the supremacy of steam, and on the Scroll of time the year 1916 marks the dawn of the electrical era in railroading—and the accomplishment of a definite step to conserve the world's energies. It is particularly fitting that the "Milwaukee," which since its inception has been identified with great pioneering achievements, should have been able to carry through to definite accomplishment the dream and aspirations of engineers and scientists by the electrification of 440 miles of its main line through a region demanding the utmost of energy and efficiency in locomotives

440 Miles of Main Line Electrified

The electrified district is that of the Great Continental Divide, extending from Avery, Idaho, to Harlowton, Mont., a distance of 440 miles. (115 miles, from Deer Lodge to Three Forks, now in operation.)

World's Mightiest Locomotives

The electric locomotives which pull "The Olympian" and "The Columbian" over the mountain divisions are the most powerful built. They are 112 feet long and weigh 284 tons. They require no coal or water, run at an even speed, are thoroughly dependable in all temperatures, take the heaviest grades with comparative ease, are smokeless and dustless,

Power from Mountain Streams

The power used to operate the electric locomotives is obtained from mountain waterfalls instead of from coal—marking a definite step to conserve the world's resources. This power in 100,000 volts alternating current, is delivered to the 14 sub-stations of the railway and there transformed to 3,000 volts direct-the current used by the locomotives. This is the highest voltage direct current adapted for railway work in the world.

Corner Third and Stark Streets

Regenerative Braking

One of the scientific marvels is regenerative braking. by which the train on down grades, instead of consuming electricity, actually produces it while traveling onward, and by which at the same time, the speed of the train is kept under perfect control. This is the first use of direct current regenerative braking. It provides maximum safety, eliminates wheel, brakeshoe and track wear and overheating, insures a uniform speed and recovers from 25% to 52% of power. More Efficient Operation

With electrification has come more efficient and economical operation; a better maintenance of schedules; the practical elimination of delays due to weather conditions; smoother riding caused by greater evenness of speed; enhanced comfort due to greater cleanliness, and a pronounced improvement of the view from car window and observation platform, owing to freedom from smoke and cinders.

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway

The advantages of electrification, added to the superb equipment and luxurious appointments of "The Olympian" and "The Columbian," the renowned personal service of the employees, the splendid physical condition of the road and the extent and variety of the scenery makes the "Milwaukee" more than ever the road of efficiency, comfort and charm. Remember this fact when planning your next trip to the East. Booklet giving complete information free on request.
