Portland Legislative Aspirants Declare for Better Laws, Repeal of Obsolete Ones and More Economy in Government.

SALEM, Or., April 12.—(Special.)—Requests that their names be printed on the primary nominating ballot as candidates for the Republican nomination for President of the United States were received by Secretary of State Olcott today from Albert E. Cummins, of Iowa, and Theodore E. Burton, of Ohio.

F. H. Case, of Corvallis, has filed declaration here as a candidate for delegate to the Republican National Convention. His ballot slogan is "Roosevelt for President." Mr. Case is the second aspirant for delegate to the nomination of the Colonel, Dr. B. H. Steves, of Salem, having filed declaration as a Roosevelt delegate four weeks ago.

With the slogan, "A square deal for all," Paul H. Buchholz, of Stanfield, has filed for delegate from the second Congressional District to the Progressive National Convention.

Republican Wants Mr. Hughes.

Declaring that he is unqualifiedly for the nomination of Justice Hughes as the Republican candidate for President of the United States, Russell Hawkins, of Bay City, has filed for delegate to the Republican National Convention. In his ballot slogan Mr. Hawkins advises voters not to elect him if they object to him voting for Mr. Hughes.

"Woodrow Wilson, peace, prosperity, progress, Oregon, Oregon, Oregon, dignity and credit," is the ballot slogan adopted by Shirley D. Parker, of Portland, candidate for delegate to the National Democratic Convention from Multnomah County.

A. W. Orton, of Portland, filed today for Republican State Senator from Multnomah County. In his statement he says:

"I will always endeavor to obtain the passage of only those laws desired by a majority of the people. I will give careful and conscientious attention to all proposed legislation. I will favor laws fostering Oregon industries and developing natural resources to the end that we have more and larger payrolls. Will work for the repeal of obsolete laws. Will vote against bills bearing the emergency clause unless there is a real urgent emergency. Am against freak laws. Will endeavor to expose jokers in bills offered. Will work to keep taxes reduced to the lowest possible minimum consistent with healthy natural growth of the state."

T. B. Handley for Good Roads.

T. B. Handley, of Tillamook County, represented Tillamook County in the lower house of the last Legislature, has filed as a candidate for State Senator from the Twenty-fourth District, comprising Lincoln, Tillamook, Washington and Yamhill counties. Mr. Handley declares in his statement that he favors good roads, rural credits and economy consistent with efficiency. He promises to work to keep appropriations down to a minimum.

Concluding his statement, he says: "I believe the Legislature should let business alone, encourage the investment of capital that our resources may be developed. Payroll are more desirable than immigration. Will oppose unnecessary laws and will also oppose any attempt by the Legislature to change or modify laws passed by the people."

John C. Kendall, of Marshfield, has filed for the Republican nomination for Representative in the Legislature from Coos County. His slogan embraces a promise to work for "the greater agricultural and industrial development of all Oregon, particularly Coos County."

Mr. Horne Favors State Bonds.

Oscar W. Horne, of Portland, advocate of labor measures when a member of the Multnomah delegation in the lower house of the last Legislature, today entered the race for the Republican nomination for Representative.

"I will endeavor to secure enactment of legislation providing for printing by the state of all textbooks used in all schools in the state to be furnished consumers at cost, and all other legislation that will encourage home industries. I will support such amendments to tax laws as will insure just distribution to taxation, to the end that the small home owner may be protected. Will protect the interests of women and all other workers. Favor same, workable plan of rural credits. Favor enactment of practicable legislation to improve the methods of dealing with delinquent children. Good roads without graft."

"Less Commissions" is Slogan.

Elmer E. Pettigill and Horace G. Parsons, of Portland, also filed today for Representative from Multnomah County.

Additional candidates who have filed for District Attorney are: Walter H. Evans, Republican, Multnomah County; Arthur Clarke, of Corvallis, Democrat, Benton County; Jasper H. Barrett, of Astoria, Republican, Clatsop County; Gales S. Hill, of Albany, Republican, Linn County.

Gratification that he was to be opposed in the race for the Republican nomination for Secretary of State by Charles B. Moore, of Portland, for whom he has high regard, was expressed today by Ben W. Olcott, Secretary of State.

"I have always been a staunch admirer of Mr. Moore," said Secretary Olcott. "He has appealed to me as a man of sterling qualities and a gentleman. It is a pleasure for me to know that my opponent is to be a man of Mr. Moore's character and standing in the community."

County. They are Republicans and their statements are identical with that of Mr. Horne. Ralph A. Willson filed as a Democrat on the same platform. Still another aspirant for representative from Multnomah County is Norman S. Richards, who says he is for "progress as against standing pat."

From Marlin, Charles A. Crow has sent in his declaration as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Representative in the Legislature from Josephine County. "Efficiency, economy and rural credits; less commissions and more education; better roads" is his ballot slogan.

Declaring that he favors having the Legislature meet only once in every four years as a means of cutting down expenses, Harry L. Ideman, of Portland, today filed as a candidate for Representative in the Legislature from Multnomah County on the Republican ticket. Mr. Ideman's statement to voters reads:

"I will demand stricter economy in the administration of public affairs; I favor a sensible, workable plan for rural credits, good roads, not for pleasure."

TRYOUT ACTS AT EMPRESS TONIGHT.

Kalma, Magician, at Empress.

Professional tryouts will be added to the second show at the Empress tonight and a number of clever performers will be seen in an attempt to rival the entertainment offered by the regular acts on the bill.

These additional attractions are as follows: Florence Hill, impressionistic dancing; Morton and Forest, comedians; Florence Bowlers, dramatic reading; "How Salvadore Won" in costume; Bill Jewell, blackface comedian.

ure only, but especially for the benefit of the farmers, that they may more cheaply haul their produce to market. I am in favor of changing the system of convening the Legislature every two years to once every four years, thereby saving half the expense. I favor less interference with the supervision of private business by public officials and commissions."

Mr. Brownell Pledges Economy.

George C. Brownell, of Oregon City, filed declaration as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Representative in the Legislature from Clackamas County. He pledges himself to work to cut down appropriations to the minimum and to abolish useless commissions and clerk and deputy hire throughout the state. In fact, for clean campaign of economy, to save the people's money and for the reduction of taxes."

Rural credits, encourage agriculture, roads without bonds, economy in appropriations, lower taxes," is the ballot slogan of B. G. Leedy, of Corvallis, who has filed for the Democratic nomination for Representative in the Legislature from Benton County. He also favors abolishment of all unnecessary commissions and the consolidation of others as far as practicable.

Fewer Laws Demanded.

As a candidate for the Republican nomination for Representative in the Legislature from Clatsop County, Murray C. Wheat has filed his declaration. His ballot slogan reads: "Encourage intelligent legislation on matters beneficial to the people."

Fred S. Ashley, of Enterprise, filed declaration as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Representative in the Legislature from Union and Washington counties. "Fewer laws, a dollar of service for every dollar expended."

O. Laurgaard, of Portland, formerly engineer with the Tumalo project, filed declaration as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Representative in the Legislature from Multnomah County. "Efficiency, economy, rural credits, development and protection of Oregon industries and labor," is his slogan.

Development Is Advocated.

E. L. Moore, of Hillsboro, filed for the Republican nomination for Representative in the Legislature from Washington County. His ballot slogan reads: "Business efficiency, protection of industries, development of natural resources."

As a candidate for delegates to the National Democratic convention from the second Congressional District, Fred J. Holmes, of La Grande, filed his declaration. He says he is for Woodrow Wilson.

For Circuit Judge of the Nineteenth and Thirtieth Judicial Districts, respectively, S. S. Johnson, of Tillamook, Democrat, and Charles O'Neill, of Klamath Falls, Republican, filed their declarations.

Opponent Praises Mr. Moore.

Additional candidates who have filed for District Attorney are: Walter H. Evans, Republican, Multnomah County; Arthur Clarke, of Corvallis, Democrat, Benton County; Jasper H. Barrett, of Astoria, Republican, Clatsop County; Gales S. Hill, of Albany, Republican, Linn County.

Gratification that he was to be opposed in the race for the Republican nomination for Secretary of State by Charles B. Moore, of Portland, for whom he has high regard, was expressed today by Ben W. Olcott, Secretary of State.

"I have always been a staunch admirer of Mr. Moore," said Secretary Olcott. "He has appealed to me as a man of sterling qualities and a gentleman. It is a pleasure for me to know that my opponent is to be a man of Mr. Moore's character and standing in the community."

Underwood and White Salmon Unite.

WHITE SALMON, Wash., April 12.—(Special.)—At a meeting held here in the Fruit Growers' union office, the directors of the Underwood union and the White Salmon union voted to consolidate and to take the name of the White Salmon Valley Growers' Association. The officers of the new organization are: President, Paul McClelland; Vice-president, Paul McClelland; Secretary, Paul McClelland; Treasurer, Paul McClelland; F. S. Baker, White Salmon; secretary, Charles A. Pearce, White Salmon. The directors are: W. H. Hamlin, Clatsop; Davidson, H. C. Lowden, of Underwood; F. O. Childs and C. S. Card, of White Salmon; and A. J. Slade, of Husum. Ira A. Hyde, of White Salmon, was engaged as manager of the union for the year.

G. E. Anderson, Hongkong Consul, Explains Trade Situation.

JAPAN IS VIEWED AS RIVAL

Honor Guest at Chamber Luncheon Declares Adequate Transportation Is Vital to Extension of Business in Orient.

George E. Anderson, United States consul-general at Hong Kong, China, visited in Portland yesterday and conferred both formally and informally with local business men who have trade connections in the Orient.

Mr. Anderson was the guest of honor at a luncheon attended by about 25 Portland men of the Chamber of Commerce at noon. He spoke informally, explaining the nature of his work in China and pointing out the possibilities of future trade extension.

"If the United States hopes to extend its relations with the Orient," Mr. Anderson said, "it will be necessary to provide adequate transportation facilities."

Tonnage Shortage Is Felt.

"Of course it is useless to look for a great deal of new business until after the war," he continued. "It would be impossible to take care of the business on steamers now available even were it offered. If ships were available now, there would be a large market for American goods in southern China. American shippers have a rich opportunity of developing this market after the war ends. It is the purpose of my office to co-operate in every possible way with the business interests of the country to get a foothold in the Oriental markets."

Mr. Anderson spoke in unqualified terms in support of American merchant marine. He declared that a merchant marine is absolutely necessary if America is to enjoy the fullest share of benefit growing out of commerce with the Far East.

Japan Is Viewed as Rival.

He spoke significantly of "a certain nation" that is making strenuous efforts to develop its trade through the aid of subsidized ships. While he did not name the nation he had in mind it was apparent to all who are informed on the subject that he referred to Japan.

Through the agency of Ansel R. Clark, foreign trade secretary at the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Anderson met, in private conference many Portland people who have trade interests in the Orient. Among his visitors in this connection was J. W. Ganong, vice-president of the Portland Flouring Mills Company, who complained about the alleged violations of existing commercial treaties by flour mill operators in China.

According to the terms of this treaty, flour is not to be shipped out of China, but recently, some enterprising operators have improved the grade of their product and have exported it into other Oriental districts. This action has brought the Chinese product into competition with Portland flour, and the Portland manufacturers have complained to the State Department at Washington about it.

Case Decided Against Port.

The case was decided adversely to the Port and interests who hope now to bring it again to the attention of the authorities at Washington through Mr. Anderson.

Through his office at Hongkong, General Anderson is in close touch with the trade of all the provinces in the southern part of China as well as many other Oriental countries. He brings fresh information regarding the conditions and possibilities there.

He says that political conditions in China still are much disturbed and predicts that the final outcome of the present unsettled state of affairs will be division in the Chinese republic. He looks for two distinct Chinese nations to spring up, one composed of the northern half of China and the other of the southern half.

Mr. Anderson left here yesterday for San Francisco and will proceed thence to Washington, D. C., for consultation with officials of the State Department. He plans to visit Portland again on his way back to his post in China.

CALL FOR TRAINED WORKERS IS HEARD AT COLLEGE.

Three Students Take Positions Involving Irrigation Work—Others Become Buttermakers.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, April 12.—(Special.)—At the date of the commencement exercises at the Oregon Agricultural College is still seven weeks away, the call for trained men is so great that several seniors have within the past week accepted positions in their own work and have left college under special provisions made for the completion of their work by outside study.

R. O. Seth, of Toledo, Ia., senior in the course in irrigation and drainage, accepted a position as assistant irrigationist for the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and left immediately for Bassano, Alberta, where he will superintend the farming operations on 400 acres of irrigated land.

Thomas R. McClelland, of West Stayton, was appointed buttermaker for one of the creameries operated in the Imperial Valley by the Heber Creamery Company, of Heber, Cal.

Robert Howell, of Portland, a senior in the course in irrigation and drainage, was chosen by the department to carry on irrigation investigations in Harney County under the direction of the Federal office of rural engineering and public roads.

A. W. Finch, of Gardena, Cal., also a student in irrigation and drainage, was chosen to fill a similar position at Lake County with headquarters at Paisley.

Ralph Wetteland, of Camas, Wash., a senior in the school of engineering, was elected instructor in mathematics in the Medford High School.

Two fellowships in Eastern universities this week were awarded to Oregon Agricultural College men, Charles E. Oakes, of Corvallis, a graduate student in electrical engineering, won the fellowship in electrical engineering at Cornell University. Leo D. Crouter, of Union, received a fellowship in New York University.

YOUNG BANK CLERK SETS NEW PORTLAND RECORD IN ADDING MACHINE CONTEST.

Bert L. Conroy.

By correctly listing and accurately totaling 100 bank checks in the short space of one minute and 46 seconds, Bert L. Conroy, clerk in the Northwestern National Bank, won the annual adding-machine contest conducted by the American Institute of Banking at the Multnomah Hotel on Tuesday night.

Walter Knack, in one minute, 43.5 seconds, won second, and Fred Selberg, in one minute and 55 seconds, won third prize. They also are clerks in the Northwestern National. The prizes consist of substantial sums in gold and are awarded each year by the Burroughs Adding Machine Company and the American Institute of Banking jointly.

Mr. Conroy's record is the best ever made in Portland and approaches the world's record. The checks used in this contest are typical of those handled in ordinary banking detail.

Mr. Conroy lives at 671 Gantenbein avenue.

the distressed. On Rose day, April 22, a large number of women and young ladies and girls will sell rosebuds in the business district of the city, in the bands and office buildings, in the hope that several hundred dollars may be realized to turn over to the Salvation Army.

The local members of the Salvation Army and a number from the Portland corps will be assisted by Mrs. Milton Evans, Mrs. Clement Scott, Mrs. M. L. Covert, Mrs. H. S. Templeton, Mrs. E. F. Gilbert, Mrs. Alexander Maltman and Mrs. C. C. Turley.

The Anglo-Swedish antarctic expedition, under the leadership of Professor Otto Nordenskjöld, has been postponed until the European war is ended.

TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

Get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little into your hand and rub into the scalp with the finger tips. By morning most, if not all, of this awful scurf will have disappeared. Two or three applications will destroy every bit of dandruff; stop scalp itching and falling hair.

CHILD GETS SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

Look at Tongue! Then Give Fruit Laxative for Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

"California Syrup of Figs 'Can't Harm Children and They Love It."

Mother, your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign the little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Give a 30-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ill; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 30-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."
