ARRIVALS OF WOOL IN EAST DELAYED

Traffic Situation May Have Effect on Market Prices.

The congested freight situation and the delay in moving wool is likely to have considerable effect on the wool market this season. It is already a factor in the East, so far an apot prices are concerned, as

MOHAIR—New clip, 46c per pound, shown by the following mail advices from

Boston:

"Fredictions regarding what will happen when the new wool clip begins to be offered to the railroads for transportation to the East are considered futile by the local trade. The unitsward railroad conditions have created a decided feeling of work.

Baye created a decided feeling of wars. have created a decided feeling of uncertainty here. The first effect perhaps is noticeable in the attitude of sellers toward disposing of the remainder of the 1915 doallipment of 1916 wools to this market mean such an opportunity for the distribution of the unsold supplies now available here, in-cluding the foreign ellips, that sellers will be able to hang back more than they might otherwise have done. The seriousness of the situation makes it not improbable that Values will be affected in this market. "Already the blockade of freight has inter fered with the arrival of wool supplies, and the influence of the transportation situation a most subject for discussion by the trade. Exasperating delays have been or casioned in getting shipments of foreign wool landed at Vancouver and other Pa-cific ports and then transferred to railroad cars for Boston. Thus it is seen that the disturbance is not only in relation to the new domestic clip. Many lots of wood are said to have been two or three times longe on the trip across the continent to Bostor than all the way from Australasia to the Pacific Coast."

EGGS UP WITH STRONG DEMAND Storage Speculators Raise Bid to 21 Cents.

Another advance was scored in the egg market yesterday as a consequence of stronger bidding by storage speculators. The case count price was firm at 21 cents, sithough a little business was still reported done at 10 to cents. This local buying, in connecwith Northern orders, it is believed will hold the market up.

There was no change in the butter situ-sticn. The city creameries still give out a 34 cent quotation, but there were additional reports of secret price cutting and some of the retailers announced they were buying the best brands at 31 and 32 cents. There were also reports in some quarters of a surplus of stock. The San Francisco exchange price remained at 27 cents. Poultry and dressed meat receipts were light and prices were unchanged.
