

WIFE CHARGES PLOT FOR DEPORTATION

Wealthy Seattle Chinese Is Accused of Conspiracy in Insanity Hearing.

FINDINGS ARE SET ASIDE

Mrs. Seung, Who Says She Was Married First, but Left in China and Came Here to Find He Had Wedded Others, Fights.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 20.—(Special.)—Aided by four attorneys and scores of friends, Mrs. Mary Seung, wife of John Seung, a wealthy Chinese canneryman, battled in the Superior Court Thursday against deportation to China on the ground that she is insane.

In affidavits submitted to Judge Ronald, Mrs. Seung declares that her husband, who she alleges, is worth $250,000, is endeavoring to have her deported as he has often threatened to do.

Wednesday an insanity commission, composed of Dr. Lillian C. Irwin and Dr. Helen B. Babcock, found Mrs. Seung insane. Mrs. Seung alleges in her affidavits that five Chinese women who would have testified in her behalf were prevented by other Chinese from appearing.

Findings Ordered Set Aside. So strong an appeal did her attorneys put before Judge Ronald that the court ordered the findings of the insanity commission set aside and that Mrs. Seung be given an examination by Dr. A. P. Calhoun and Dr. D. A. Nicholson.

Mrs. Seung is 49 years old. She says she was married to John Seung in China 32 years ago, according to her story, Seung left her in China and came to the United States, where he married.

The second wife died and he married again, according to Mrs. Seung. The third wife he divorced in Portland several years ago. Three years ago the wife who was left in China came to the United States. She found herself stepmother to four children, two of whom are girls. One child was born of her.

Stepchildren Give Testimony. Mrs. Seung declares that two of her stepdaughters, Mabel and Emma, disliked her from the start. At the hearing of the insanity commission Wednesday, the two stepdaughters testified as witnesses against their stepmother. One of them also acted as interpreter.

In her affidavit, Mrs. Seung declared that she did not know why she was there or what the hearing was for. The complaint charging Mrs. Seung with insanity was sworn to by Jane M. Schiff, a missionary, who works among local Chinese. When she learned Wednesday night that she had been ordered committed to the Northern Hospital for the Insane at Sedro-Blaine, and that deportation to China would follow, she notified her friends, who engaged counsel.

BURTON SPEECH IS IN PATRIOTIC TONE

Ovation Follows Plea for Unity Before World—Vacillating Foreign Policy Scored.

AUDIENCE GIVES APPLAUSE

Ohio Presidential Aspirant Says People Look to G. O. P. to Rescue Nation From "Ignoble International Status."

(Continued From First Page.) The Republicans have stood "shoulder to shoulder" in writing upon the statute books all the "best measures for the protection and conservation of opportunity for those who toil, for utilizing in the present and conserving in the future the enormous natural resources of the country; for the elimination of monopoly, privilege and favoritism, and for every advance along the line of safeguarding individual rights and striking down the power of organized wrong."

Senator Burton gave a large part of his address to an appeal to the American people to prepare for the larger part that the American Nation is to assume in the world's affairs, following the close of the European war.

"No narrow vision is permitted in this year of 1916," he said. "We must be leaders in the world's civilization. In order to attain that leadership we must have not merely the confidence of other nations in our neutrality and airiness; we must not merely abstain from meddling in that which does not concern us, but we must regain and hold the respect of the world. No such policy of interference and inconsistency, of wobbling and weakness, as we have witnessed during the last three years, will assure to this country the commanding position which its rights belong to it."

At the conclusion of Senator Burton's speech, Ralph D. Cole, a former Representative in Congress from Ohio, spoke briefly. He emphasized the necessity for returning the Republican party to power in the Nation and recommended Senator Burton's candidacy to the support of the Republican voters of Oregon at the forthcoming primary election.

The Burton party left last night for Eastern Oregon, where they will make a series of speeches, returning through Portland on Sunday for a number of addresses in California.

J. D. SPRECKLES VISITS SAN FRANCISCO CAPITALIST HERE AS WITNESS IN LAWSUIT.

John D. Spreckles, of San Francisco, capitalist and president of the J. D. Spreckles & Bros. Company, of the Oceanic Steamship Company, Western Sugar Refining Company, Spreckles Sugar Company and many other corporations, and former publisher of the San Francisco Call, is 42 years old and has lived in California most of his life, but he was never in Portland until yesterday.

He smilingly admitted his dereliction as a caller, so far as Portland is concerned. Mr. Spreckles is here for legal reasons only. He has been subpoenaed as a witness in the suit of R. A. Graham against the J. D. Spreckles & Bros. Company and the Southern Pacific Company, for an accounting of the Coos Bay, Roseburg & Eastern Railroad and the Beaver Hill Coal Company. The case is now on trial before Federal Judge Bean.

Mr. Graham alleges that the Spreckles Company illegally foreclosed his interest in these properties. The Spreckles Company later sold the properties to the Southern Pacific for $1,300,000. Most of the transactions alleged occurred nearly 20 years ago. Mr. Spreckles expects to testify today, and has arranged to return to San Francisco tomorrow.

MRS. BULAND WINS POINT NATIONAL CONVENTION CANDIDATE DECLARED ELIGIBLE.

Attorney-General Decides Woman Is Oregon Citizen and Also Resident of Portland.

SALEM, Or., April 20.—(Special.)—In response to a request by Secretary of State Clegg for a ruling as to the eligibility of Mrs. G. L. Buland, of Portland, as a candidate for delegate-at-large to the Republican National Convention, Assistant Attorney-General Van Winkle tonight held that Mrs. Buland was qualified. The matter was presented to the Attorney-General's office upon receipt today of a request from Mrs. Buland.

After citing a decision of the Oregon Supreme Court, in which it was held that a wife may acquire a separate domicile from her husband, the Attorney-General's office said, in part:

"Under these statements of our Supreme Court it could be said that Mrs. Buland may have acquired a separate domicile or residence from her husband, but under the facts stated it does not appear that she has done so, but rather that the residence of both husband and wife is at 606 Maple street, Portland, Or. The fact that her husband holds a municipal office at Gaston, Wash., is not of itself sufficient evidence, if any evidence at all, that his residence is at that place.

"There is evidence strongly to the effect that he is a resident of Portland. Even if he is not, his wife is a resident of said city and, therefore, eligible to the office she seeks. She is not only a citizen of the United States, but a resident of the state for the required time, presumably above the age of 21 years."

NEWBERG CANNERY SOLD

CO-OPERATIVE PLANT BRINGS $14,410, WHICH WILL PAY DEBTS. Stockholders to Lose Capital, but Are Pleased With Promise of Cash for Their Product Hereafter.

NEWBERG, Or., April 20.—(Special.)—A deal whereby the growers of fruit and vegetables of this district expect to reap much advantage was negotiated today in the sale of the Newberg Cannery to A. Rupert & Co. of Portland, and J. W. Chambers, of Newberg, for $14,410.

The Newberg Cannery Association, the seller, has been a co-operative company for years and includes 353 stockholders, none of whom will get any of the money from the sale of the plant. The $14,410 is all to go to pay the debts of the association, which has been in the hands of a trustee for some time following disagreements among the stockholders. The stockholders had paid in $8800 in cash for the plant, but are apparently glad to be able to let go now.

The new owners, it is said, will buy modern machinery for the plant and will pay cash for fruit and vegetables. Hereafter the growers, who were also the stockholders, had been compelled to wait until the canned product was marketed before getting their money and some years the return has only been 60 per cent of the open market price.

J. W. Chambers, one of the buyers, has been the manager of the plant for the last two years.

SALEM, Or., April 20.—(Special.)—The Tappendoff Lumber Company, of Sherwood, today obtained a permit from State Engineer Lewis to appropriate 25 second-foot of water from Corral Creek, near Wilsonville, to flume lumber. It is proposed to construct a flume two and one-half miles long at an estimated cost of $12,000.

wanted for "jayriders" and are promoted by the "paying trust," the Umatilla County Taxpayers' Association in session yesterday adopted resolutions opposing the $200,000 road bond proposition in this county.

Lebanon Names School Head. LEBANON, Or., April 20.—(Special.)—Professor James E. Dunton recently was elected City Superintendent of Lebanon public schools for the year. Professor Dunton held a similar position in Cottage Grove for the past four years.

SCHOOL PLAY DELIGHTS

"MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM" PRESENTED AT WASHINGTON HIGH.

Stage Settings, Music by Orchestra and Costumes Add Much to Well-Acted Production.

Shakespeare hung out the "S. R. O." signs at Washington High School Wednesday and last night. "Midsummer Night's Dream," presented by the June, '16, class, pleased the huge audience beyond all expectations. It more than sustained the high standard previous productions by senior classes had set.

On a stage set with real greenwood, real trees, real woods flowers, and real fountains, Theodor Lyander, Dimondicus, Hermia, Helena, Oberon, Puck, and Nick Bottom, and all the other nobles and fairies, and hard-headed men of Athens, whom Shakespeare had mingled in this fantastical, poetical comedy, disposed themselves in true Elizabethan style.

Under the skillful direction of Don F. Orput the members of the cast have entered into the spirit of the play and after weeks of rehearsing their efforts were rewarded by success. Their reading of the lines was good, and their observance of the stage traditions which cluster about the play added much to the enjoyment. They acted and sustained the Hinson unusually well.

The comedy element furnished by Quince, the carpenter, and his troupe of rustic thespians in their production of the "mirthful tragedy" of "Pyramus and Thisbe" sent the audience into an uproarious tumult of laughter. One of the most pleasing features was the playing of selections from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream" music by the Washington High School orchestra, under the direction of Harold Bayley. The sweet strains of the wedding march and the light movements of the fairy dances aided the air of enchantment and fantasy that pervades the lines.

Adding to the beauty was a set of exquisite costumes. All in all, Washington High has made a delightful contribution to the festivities in honor of the tercentenary of Shakespeare's death.
