week-end, today's market opened active and strong, and, except for intermittent but minor reactions, continued its upward progress to the end. Some of the more active favorites recovered from three to six points over last week's lowest quotations, and investment issues, including rails, were better by one to two points.

Much of the day's headway was effected at the expense of the short interest, that faction being made to yield a very large part of its recent gains. The character of the buying, as well as its scope, pointed to an oversold condition, and the ease with which certain speculative issues advanced indicated an increasing scarcity of those stocks, except for legitimate demand.

This was especially applicable to United States Steel and Mercantile Marine, which led the active day. Steel made a maximum gain of 2% to 82% and Marine preferred rose 6 to 80%, with 2½ for the common at 23%.

It was generally assumed that the rise in Steel bore some relation to the quarterly statement to be issued tomorrow, which undoubtedly will disclose record earnings. Marines were arrong throughout, but gained most of their advance on announcement that pending litigation is to be submitted to a referce.

Other strong and prominent issues included the Mexican Electric, some of the meters and all the lending coppers were higher by two to four points, and United States Industrial Alcohol rose 5% to 143. Even Westinghouse rose superior to labor troubles, rising at betantially.

Reading was the most active of the rall-way division, but grangers and Pacifics were not unresponsive to favorable traffic reports, and the Southern Pacific statement for March, which showed a net gain of 5730,000. Total sales of stocks amounted to 705,000 shates.

The bond market was steady, with an expansion of dealings. Total sales, par value were $3.175,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

ward tendency of quotations was manifested strongly at the start, but upturns were selled on by some houses as affording a welcome chance to close out to advantage a moment of rather heavy holdings. The result was a material setback, which carried the market well below Saturday's latest figures.

More definite reports of measures being andertaken by Germany to preserve friendly relations with the United States fed afterward to a fresh advance in prices to a level higher than before. The rise, however, was not well maintained, much doubt existing as to whether the yielding by the Burlin government would prove to be of sufficient extent to satisfy the authorities at Washington.

CENTRALIA HITS AT BANKS

When Warrants Are Questioned Business Goes Outside.

CENTRALIA. Wash. April 24.—
(Special.)—Owing to the fact that Centralia's warrant indebtedness is past the legal limit, the three Centralia banks have refused to accept the warrants unless marked "issued for mandatory purposes" agrees the face, and datory purposes" across the face, and unless the persons to whom the warrants are issued agreed to reimburse the banks in case the warrants are invalidated. As a result the City Commission has turned the warrants over to outside banks.

The present City Commission, which took office in December, in four months has reduced the running expenses of the city from $4800 to $1500, and is addition has retired a considerabl amount of outstanding warrants. The action of the local banks has cause no little surprise.

Sandy Lands, Blown by High Winds, Get Water Going to Waste.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., April 24. KLAMATH FALLS, Or., April 24—
(Special.)—Water was turned into the Griffith Canal Saturday by the reclamation service. This is a week earlier than the water will be used generally over the project, but it was necessary to supply the sandy lands in the Sand Hollow and Malin districts, as they are blown badly by the strong April winds. The water was turned in from Lost River, and would otherwise have wasted away through the diversion canal to Klamath River. Heretofore canal to Klamath River. Heretofore the Malin ranchers have suffered con-siderably because water could not reach them except through the main canal, but the enlarging and extension of the Griffith Canal last Summer has brought great relief.

FACTS

Bad roads are a travesty on good government. All nations as they advanced in civiligation became road builders. Many of the fine highways of Europe are monuments of the greatness of the French Empire under Napoleous reign. In the Holy Land the tourist rides his jaded beast over the broken stone road which the Romans built for their warchariots over two thousand years ago. Modern road building requires a better surface and more economical maintenance, all of which is artained by hard - surfacing roads with
