CALENDAR FOR TODAY.

Society. Dance—Miss Wilcox for Miss Thorne. Luncheon—Mrs. James D. Farrell for Mrs. Mason.

DESPIITE threatening clouds and an occasional downpour of rain, 26 young matrons and maids motored out to the Waverley Country Club yesterday to accept Mrs. Joseph E. Wiley's hospitality at the charming luncheon and bridge with which she complimented Mrs. A. A. McDonnell, of St. Paul, who is visiting here, and Mrs. Ralph C. Matson, who soon will leave for abroad.

Today Mrs. Farrell will entertain at luncheon in honor of Mrs. Matson. From 4 to 6 o'clock this afternoon Mrs. Donald Ranney Munro will be hostess for a tea honoring Mrs. Robert P. Noble, who also is leaving soon for her new home in the East.

Miss Claire Wilcox's guest, Miss Anita Thorne, a prominent belle of Tacoma, arrived yesterday, and during her visit here she will be deluged with social compliments. Miss Wilcox will open the festivities with an informal dance to-night, about 40 of the younger set having been asked to participate in the event.

Tomorrow afternoon Miss Ruth Teal will preside at a luncheon in honor of Mrs. Thorne, who has numerous friends in the smart set here, and having frequently visited here in the past few years. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Thorne, of "Thornwood," a show place of the Sound city.

The opening shirtwaist party of the series for which the Portland A. G. Club will be hosts will take place to-night at Murlark ballroom. It is an informal affair, and dancing will commence at 8:30 o'clock.

Miss Agnes Albers, daughter of Mrs. Bernard Albers, yesterday morning became the bride of Daniel Hogan at a very simple wedding in Holy Rosary Church. Rev. Edward Olson officiated, and the bride's sister, Theresa Albers, was her only attendant.

Mrs. Philip Gevurtz will leave this morning for 2 o'clock in the Pinar convention. She is past grand chief of the Pythian Sisters and also supreme alternate of the organization.

Trinity Episcopal Sunday school children will give a charming little play Friday night at 7 o'clock in the Church School auditorium. The proceeds will be used for the fund for a new parish hall.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Sweet have gone to Gearhart, where they will spend the Summer.

The many friends of Mr. Pannell will be pleased to learn that he has left the hospital and is at home in Woodland.

The young women of Madeleine parish will give their dance Friday night instead of Thursday night, as previously stated. It will be a May party at Irvington club-house. Several well-known women will act as patronesses for the event.

Complimenting Mrs. Ralph Root and Mrs. Clarence Coffin, both prominent musicians of Hood River, who are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Spencer, Mrs. Edgar B. Piper was hostess for luncheon yesterday preceding the concert by the MacDowell Club. In addition to the honor guests, covers were placed for Mrs. John E. Logan, Mrs. Warren Thomas, Mrs. Donald Spencer, Miss Constance Piper and the hostess. Mrs. Root is a singer of note, and Mrs. Coffin a pianist, both of whom came to Portland to participate in the MacDowell Club's programme yesterday at Hotel Benson.

In the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer entertained informally at dinner in honor of their guests, later a few additional friends prominent in musical circles calling to pass the evening with Mrs. Root and Mrs. Coffin.

The closing of the season's festivities of the Thursday Evening Club will be a dinner dance at Chanticleer Inn on Thursday, May 12, at 7 o'clock. For those who do not have motor cars the various owners of the machines will undertake the transportation of the members so desired. This club consists of members of the younger set of this city.

St. David's Auxiliary will give a tea at the home of Mrs. A. M. Oakes, 524 East Taylor street, Friday afternoon from 2 to 5.

Your Limbs Unsightly Hair White Stockings

Most women do not realize that superfluous hair on the limbs shows through dark colored stockings as well as white. This makes it plain why well-to-do women use De Miracle for removing hair from the limbs as well as the face, neck, arms and under arms. Paste, rub-on preparations and imitations of De Miracle will usually remove any growth of hair from the surface of the skin, but only De Miracle has the power to devitalize hair. It does this by absorption. In other words, it attacks hair under the skin as well as on the skin and actually retards its growth. Avoid dis- appointment, buy De Miracle by name, and you will get the only depilatory that has a binding guarantee in each package which entitles you to your money if it fails. In 5c, 15c and 25c bottles at your dealer's, or direct, postpaid in plain wrapper. De Miracle Chemical Co., Dept. A-2, Park Ave. and 129th St., New York.

ROSEBURG GIRL WHO WILL BECOME BRIDE OF GOVERNMENT ENGINEER IN JUNE.

ROSEBURG, Or., May 9.—(Special)—Announcement was made here today of the approaching marriage of Miss Flossie Kidd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Kidd, of Roseburg, to Stewart Mitchell, a Government engineer. The wedding will take place at Chattanooga, Tenn., early in June. Miss Kidd, accompanied by her mother, will leave Roseburg on May 26 and, after visiting a number of Eastern cities, will go to Chattanooga. Mrs. Kidd will remain with her daughter there until after the wedding. Miss Kidd is a native Douglas County girl. For a time she was employed as stenographer in the local Indian office and later held a similar position at the Klamath Indian Agency. Mr. Mitchell has been connected with the Government Engineering Department for several years and passed some time in Oregon. Prior to leaving for Chattanooga Miss Kidd will be entertained quite extensively here.

give another 500 card party Thursday night in Orient Hall. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Frederick H. Drake gave a delightfully informal luncheon to a number of intimate friends Saturday afternoon, the guests of honor being Mrs. Jim Whitehill, of Salt Lake City, and Miss Virginia Drake, of Seaside. The table was decorated artistically with old-fashioned flowers. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Whitehill, of Salt Lake City, are guests at the Portland Hotel. Mr. Whitehill is purchasing agent for the Cole-Ryan properties, of Salt Lake City.

McMinnville, Or., May 9.—(Special)—Announcement was made last week of the engagement of Miss Maude DeLong to R. C. Wine, of Spokane, Wash. Miss DeLong is the daughter of Mrs. A. W. DeLong, assistant pastor of the White Temple. She has attended McMinnville College for two years. As soon as college closes in June she will come to Portland to remain a few months with her mother before going to Spokane to become the bride of Mr. Wine. Miss DeLong is very young, a talented and attractive girl. Many friends in this city will be glad to have her with them again.

John's mother does say the most unkind things. The young bride sobbed out to her most intimate friend. "She told me that John was positively suffering for the right kind of food, and that if I didn't keep house better he would probably die of typhoid or dyspepsia or something of the kind. I think it was positively cruel of her."

Later John's mother told the intimate friend that John's wife was so dense one just had to hit her with a brick to make her notice. "And then she cries," went on John's mother, "and says I hurt her feelings and that I am brutal. John has been trying to tell her delicately for weeks that he can't eat fried food. He leaves it on his plate. He will tell her he doesn't care for fritters and omelets and fried oysters and such things. There are certain vegetables and desserts he doesn't like, and when she has them for dinner he doesn't take any. Yet she learns by these tactics? Not a bit of it. She goes on frying the chops and having beans and making pie. So there was nothing to do but to tell her flat that she was as blind as a bat and hadn't the sense of a guinea pig. And then she says I have no regard for any one's feelings."

Many of us are like this little bride, aren't we? We go serenely on our way, never reading the "signals" of the times until we are fettered up short by the brutal statement of some member of the family or some friend or fellow worker. Then we are dumfounded or indignant or sorely hurt. And we say the world is cruel.

The sharp scolding that a mother may give an untidy daughter is not always the result of a hasty temper. It is because in no other way can the daughter be roused to see her faults. The call down, as the clerk calls them, that she gets from the employer is not because "an angel couldn't suit him," but because all the mild reproaches about her work have fallen upon deaf ears. If we find that we are getting those "brutal blows" from those from whom we least expect them, let us not altogether blame the other fellow. Let's first take a good look at ourselves and our conduct and see if we have shown ourselves so dense that nothing penetrates but a sword thrust and nothing rouses but a brick-bat. The cat that is disturbing the night cannot always be driven away by word pony tolling on in the rain and mud, while Buster sat up in his basket and howled at the top of his voice.

But in 10 minutes the two were safe in the house with fresh clothes and a cup of hot tea, while the father was busy rubbing and feeding dear old Ted in the warm barn.

Of course they did not sell Teddy at all. And if you should go up in the mountains of Virginia this Summer you will doubtless meet two children driving a shaggy pony they call Teddy.

MAN TRIED BUT ABSENT COURT AND JURY HEAR LIQUOR CASE WITHOUT DEFENDANT.

Bootleggers' Two Appealed Causes Are Prosecuted—Bondsmen Anxious About Missing One.

Can a man be on trial for his liberty and still be in parts unknown?

"Certainly," was the answer given in the court of Circuit Judge Morrow yesterday, when L. M. Chambers, alleged bootlegger, was on trial, though his own attorney did not know where he could be found.

The bondsmen in the anxious person now, Attorney Wilson T. Hume, who appeared for Chambers, said yesterday that he did not know the whereabouts of his client. As it happened, Chambers would not have been put on the stand and the defense did not suffer from his absence. But the bondsmen are responsible for Chambers. If the verdict of the jury should be guilty, he must produce the missing man or forfeit the $400 bond.

RAIL TARIFFS REDUCED Oregon Electric Absorbs Trucking and Draying Charges on Carlots.

The Oregon Electric Railway has arranged to absorb the trucking and draying charges of its patrons at competitive points in the territory south of Portland on all carload shipments of freight, and tariffs to that effect were filed with the Oregon Public Service Commission yesterday.

The new arrangement goes into effect immediately and applies to Salem, Albany, Eugene, Hillsboro, Forest Grove and all other points where the electric road competes with the Southern Pacific's steam or electric trains.

Oregon Electric officials declare that for several years they have attempted to reach an agreement with the Southern Pacific that would permit the Oregon Electric to build switches under a mutual switching agreement. This offer was refused, they say, hence the offer to absorb the draying charges of its patrons.

CITY SLIDES COST $32,000 Winter's Storm Caused Street to Fall Away; Damage Expensive.

Preliminary to consideration of additional appropriations for the removal of earth slides from streets and the construction of safeguards on slides which have undermined streets, the City Council yesterday made a tour of the city, visiting all places where Commissioner Dieck asks for money for work.

The question of appropriations will be considered by the council this morning. The city has spent about $30,000
