SPIRIT OF DEFENSE

Local Pastors Assail "Peace at Any Price" as Unworthy of America.

Patriotic Tone of Memorial Services Wins Approval of G. A. R. Members and Congregations. Call for Action Given.

That this country should maintain as Army and Navy big enough and strong enough to protect itself and meet all emergencies, was the sentiment expressed in many Portland churches yes-terday. The sentiment, "I did not raise my boy to be a soldier," was condemned as unpatriotic and un-American by sev-eral pastors in their memorial sermons.

They held that preparedness was not only fully warranted, but an absolute necessity if this country is to maintain its institutions and dignity among the great nations of the earth, but not for aggression. Episcopal Church.

Condemning in sweeping terms the spirit that gave birth to the sentiment, "I did not raise my boy to be a soldier," Rev. W. Edwin Ingalis, of the St. Johns Methodist Episcopal Church, spoke for reasonable preparedness for defense of the Nation in his address yesterday afternoon before the General Compson Post, G. A. In his memorial sermon yesterday morning before the A. J. Smith Post, G. A. R., and Blackmar Circle Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, at the Sellwood Methodist Episcopal Church, Rev. A. R. The address bristled with patriotic sentiment all the way through and as Amiens.

The rehearsals have been extremely interesting affairs because of the sharp wit; highly spiced romance, and the modern application of "As You Like It." A well proportioned production is promised, notwithstanding every role
