Afternoon Programme to Include Chinese Baby Show, Rose Show, Hydro - Aeroplane Flights, Followed With Fireworks.

The Rose Festival will burst into full bloom today, with features of first magnitude filling the programme from morning till night.

The children's parade at 10 o'clock participated in by children from the public schools and carried out under the auspices of the East Side Business the auspices of the East Side Business Men's Club, will divide interest with the Columbia River Highway dedication as the big attraction of the day. The Chinese baby show at the Festival center in the afternoon will furnish amusement for Festival visitors who are not able to go out to attend the highway dedication. The fireworks at the Oaks Park will form a brilliant spectacle for the evening of the first day.

The children's parade needs no intro-duction to the people of Portland or of any of the cities represented among the out-of-town visitors to the Festival. It has established a place for itself in the Festivals of past years, and is recognized as perhaps the daintiest and most appealing pageant of the en-re week.

The Woodmen of the World have ar The Woodmen of the World have arranged to serve refreshments for the children at the Multhomah Field after the close of the pageant and the street-car company, as is its custom, has provided special cars for the transportation of the little folk to and from the scene of the parade.

The final orders for the formation of the parade have been issued by Professor Robert Krohn, the director, as follows:

Band Gives Concert.

The Rosarian band swung away with a part of the crowd to the bandstand on the block south of Jefferson and gave the opening concert of the Festival season, while the rest of the multitude flowed endlessly about through the Festival Center among the blaze of flowerbeds and under the blaze of flowerbeds and under the blaze of the transfer pouring off down Broadlights, or went pouring off down Broad-way through the Court of Honor to work off some of the suddenly-awakened festival enthusiasm in the impromptu carnival that developed along the promenades.

George L. Baker was standard bearer for the Rosarians, supported by C. F. Berg and Tommy Swivel, while Robert Krohn directed the evolutions of the Rosarian drill squad on the march. The maids of honor supporting Queen Muriel and King Joy were: the dowager queen, Mrs. Maud Gilman; dowager queen, Mrs. Maud Gilman; Eleanor Jackson, of McMinnville, rep-resenting the Modern Foresters; Rose Uptegrove, of Oregon City; Edyle Fransch, of Eugene; Mildred Pegg, of Vaucouver; Waive Jacobs, of Klamath Falls: Lucile Edouarda Johnson, of Portland: Lillian Hendrickson, of Portland, representing the Foresters of America: Louise Taylor, of Portland, representing the Western Union: Jewell Carroll, of Portland, representing the Knights and Ladies of Security, and Irene Albee Stewart, the godders of the Columbia, who is to participate in the dedication of the Columbia Highway
