

HARRAGES PUT UP TRAPSHOOTERS

Entry List Is Largest of Year at Second Day of Northwest Tournament.

TO NIMRODS FIGHT OFF TIE

Multnomah Medal Event Is Settled in Extra Session—Blair and Troch Lead Amateurs—Main Events Will Be Today.

BY EARL R. GOODWIN.

Some mighty stiff competition in the trophy events as well as in the regular 150-bird race, featured the second day's shooting of the thirty-second annual trapshooting tournament of the Sportsman's Association of the Northwest at the Everding Park traps of the Portland Gun Club yesterday.

The largest entry list of the year greeted the many contestants, a total of 85 scatter gun artists shooting in the regular 150-bird rock match and 54 of them took a crack at the handicap trophies.

Only one of the three trophy settlements was taken by a straight settler, while 10 fought it out in extra sessions for the Multnomah medal, and three completed overtime for the individual title. Dr. E. R. Seelye, of the Medford (Or.) Rod and Gun Club, won the medal last year, and he staved off the act of turning it over to someone else by going straight yesterday. Rayburn, including Dr. Seelye, smeared all the blue rocks in the regular set-off for the trophy.

Dr. Seelye Wins in Shoot-off. When the outcome of the shoot-off between the 10 of them was announced Dr. Seelye's name headed the list with another clean record of 20, while his opponents dropped from one to five.

Lou Rayburn, of La Grande, last year the Oregon State amateur champion, now is the possessor of the individual championship cup of the Northwest shoot. P. F. Nelson, of Yacolt, Wash., held it for one year, but he failed to "come back" yesterday. Rayburn tied H. F. Whilton and G. E. Beckman in the regular shoot, but he won out in the shoot-off.

Smalls Cup Won by Owens. The handsome Smalls cup was won by J. Roy Owens, of Wenatchee, Wash., who recorded a perfect score. He broke the 25 targets thrown to him, Frank C. Riehl, of Tacoma, Wash., did not lose one either, but he is a professional and must shoot for targets only.

Abner Blair, of the Portland Gun Club, and Frank M. Troch, of Vancouver, Wash., both amateurs, led the entire field in the day's high score for the regular match. Blair, who dropped only six in 150 tries, O. N. Ford, of San Jose, Cal., was next in line with 145, being both J. Holohan, of Portland, and E. Reid, of Seattle, both pros.

Ten Scores 140 or Better. Ten entries ended the regular event with 140 or better. They were G. A. Conklin, of Seattle; J. Holohan, of Portland; L. H. Reid, of Seattle; H. E. Posten, of San Francisco; P. J. Holohan, of Portland; Frank Van Atta, of Portland; Frank M. Troch, of Vancouver, Wash.; P. H. O'Brien, of Portland; Abner Blair, of Portland; and Frank Templeton, of Portland.

The big day of the gathering is slated for today. The "For You a Rose in Portland" 100-bird race will be the feature number on the programme and efforts will be made to have an entry list with more than 100 names on it.

The Northwest championship also will be shot for this afternoon. Shooting on the Rose Festival Association attraction will resume promptly at 8 o'clock this morning.

H. R. Everding Returns Home. H. R. Everding, ex-president of the Portland Gun Club, who has been ill for the last month, returned to Portland from Shipperds Springs, Wash., yesterday and he will be a welcomed guest at the Jennie Station traps today. He has entered the Rose Festival shoot, and if possible he will shoot at least one 20-bird event.

James "Our Jim" Simpson, president of the Stevenson, Wash., Gun Club, shot through yesterday and today he will have a full squad from his club to contest in the regular match starting at 9 o'clock. Joseph A. Adleman, ex-secretary of the Portland Gun Club, who handled the affairs of the local club for several years, is not in attendance at the present tourney.

This is the first time since he became a full member that Joe has failed to take one in. He is now the Pacific Coast representative of a large sporting goods establishment with headquarters in San Francisco, Cal. He sent word by J. S. French, of the San City, that he would not be here, but that wished everyone success.

Women Shots Enter Events. Mrs. Ada Schilling, Mrs. Fred Dryden, Miss Gladys Greig and Mrs. A. O'Connor and Mrs. A. G. Wilke, of San Francisco, are the only women shooters at the thirty-second annual gathering of the Northwest association. All have been making high scores. Mrs. Schilling leading.

Frank C. Riehl, a Tacoma, Wash., professional, and his son, Al, are breaking white flint at the Everding Park traps and between events they are boosting for the Thirteenth annual affair of the Tacoma, Wash., Gun Club, July 18-19-20-21. Several Portlanders will make the trip next month. The scores of the regular 150-bird event:

RITCHIE WINS FAST BOUT WITH GRUMAN

Portland Boy Puts Up Game Battle, but ex-Champion Forces Milling.

MARGIN IN 2 ROUNDS WIDE

Callifornian Is Forced to Duck and Times and Takes Some Good Blows, but Piles Up Fair Advantage Throughout.

BY HARRY M. GRAYSON.

Willie Ritchie won over Ralph Gruman last night by a good shade. The bout was the main event of a classy card put on by the Western Athletic Club at the Portland Ice Hippodrome.

The former world's lightweight champion and the Portland lightweight champion contender put up a clever exhibition.

Opponents the affair was even, but Ritchie forced the milling all the way, and for this must get the decision. The Portland boy is entitled to a world of credit for his showing.

Ritchie Takes Two Rounds. Ritchie piled up a slight lead in the third and fifth rounds, while the others were fairly even. Gruman must twice excellent footwork and opportune ducking. Ralph broke too much ground, however, to get a draw.

The first round was a tame one. Gruman landed two solid lefts to the stomach and two hooks to Willie's face. Ritchie hit Gruman once twice solidly with left jabs to the face. There were but few blows landed in the second, but the two opponents exchanged several left jabs and hooks to the jaw.

Third Round Fought. In the third the boys livened up and it was in this two minutes of boxing that the present welterweight contender piled up a portion of his lead. Ritchie landed five good punches on Ralph's jaw in this round and as the bell rang missed a vicious right swing. Ralph did not land an effective blow in the third. Ritchie missed three good punches which he started too late.

The fourth round was even and was perhaps the best round of the fight. Both lads fought willingly and almost every known punch was executed by one or the other of them. Ralph did some blocking in this round. Three or four solid left hooks and jabs to the jaw gave Ritchie a slight margin in the fifth, although Ralph landed a couple of good ones himself.

The sixth was even. Gruman Weighs 129, Ritchie 145. The sum and substance of the bout is that if Ralph had been willing to mix it all the time with the California boy the bout would have been a grand one indeed. Gruman weighed about 29 pounds as against about 145 for Ritchie.

Ritchie pulled something on the management of the Western Club last night which entitles him to a "punch" He allowed the match to be advertised as going to a decision. Then, just before the fight, he went over his adviser the management that he would not go on unless the decision could be left to the newspaper men.

Other clubs in the future will be "wise" to Mr. Ritchie and will make agreements more ironclad in the future. The bout was satisfactory and the 3000 fans went home satisfied.

Jones Outfits Trambitas. In the semi-windup, Frankie Jones, of San Francisco, won a decision over Valley Trambitas by displaying better generalship and being cleverer. They are middleweights. At 125 pounds, "Muff" Bronson beat Joe Harrah, of Seattle, a mile, using a left hand exclusively and received a well-earned decision.

Jack Allen and Tommy Clark, lightweight, put up a fierce six-round draw. The fight hard from the start, the first bell to the finishing curfew. Frank Parslow and Eddie Murphy, of San Francisco, boxed to a draw. A most interesting six rounds and Parslow was given the verdict. In the curtain-raiser, Sammy Gordon and Billy Ryan, 108-pounders, boxed to a draw.

Jack Grant refereed efficiently in the last four bouts, while Lonnie Austin, of Seattle, refereed the two curtain-raiser, Jimmy Rilance kept time.

WELSH WELCOME IN GOTHAM New York Refuses to Bar Boxer Just Because Wisconsin Did so. NEW YORK, June 1.—The New York State athletic committee has refused to join hands with the Wisconsin commission in setting down Freddie Welsh. The Western folks had barred Frederick for four months, stating that he had held up the star bout in which he fought against Ever Hammer. The Wisconsin moguls wrote to the New York board of bumps and asked that they join out with their verdict. Before doing so Fred Wenck asked for an explanation from Harry Pollock, Welsh's manager.

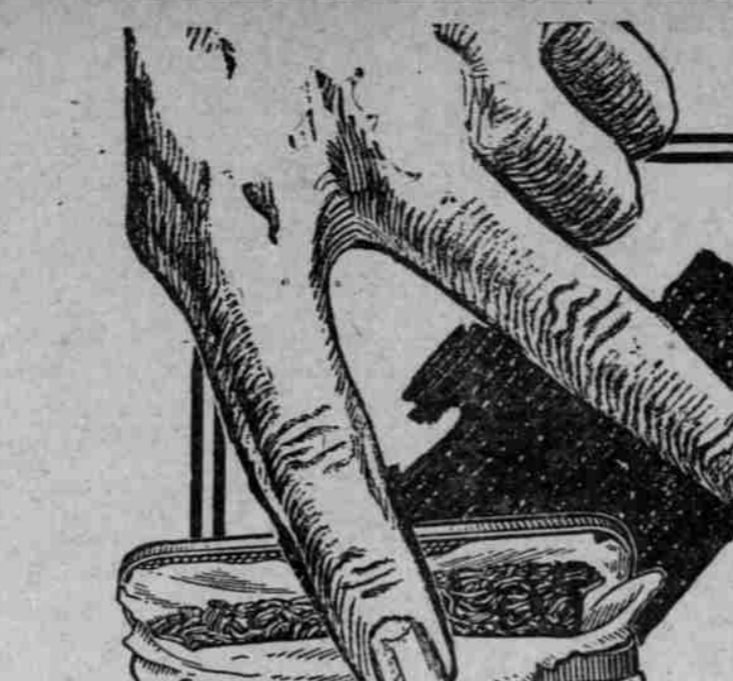

The dapper foe to Port Washington potato bugs penned an alibi and it all ended. The good man-three of No. 41 Park row and Albany refused to tamper with Welsh's fistful freedom and they wrote and told the Wisconsin whirlwinds so. Also they suggested that the wise men of Wisconsin offer their towering equines, as it did seem to them that their ruling in the Welsh case smacked of Russian oppression and pardon them, would they not lift the ban on the Pride of Pontypriid altogether.

One Team Defeats Heppner. HEPPNER, Or., June 6.—(Special.)—One defeated Heppner Sunday in a hard game. The game was played in one of the worst storms of the year. Fulwider, late of the Northwest League, pitched for Heppner, with the aid of two other pitchers. The day was responsible for scores against him. Sperry, a local man, pitched for Ione and allowed only two hits.
