

DEFEAT OF SUE SEE

Woodlawn Methodist Children Taught Ease of Correction.

POISONED WATER PURIFIED

Liquid First Is Polluted to Show Susceptibility of Cleanliness to Effects of Unrighteousness

When Rev. Louis Thomas entered the pulpit of Woodlawn Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday to close the Children's day programme...

And now, children, said the smiling minister, "this glass contains nothing save pure and sparkling Bull Run water."

And so, he bade them observe, does sin enter the purity of childhood, gradually altering its clarity of innocence and pure living...

Very well, then, he took up the second bottle, and the miracle of chemistry was under way.

Liquid Is Again Pure. He took up the second bottle, and the miracle of chemistry was under way. Scarcely had a few drops fallen before the brown cloud within the glass faded and faded and passed quite away.

Why doesn't it color? The children knew all right, they wouldn't phrase a reply. So he said it for them: "Because a positive corrective force is in that glass."

What the world needs is men and women who are so saturated with positive truth and Christianity that they can be trusted outside of their own backyard.

20 YEARS' WORK REVIEWED

Resignation to Take Effect September 3 and Pastor Declares 12 Years in Portland Has Been Happiest of His Life.

Westminster Presbyterian Church will lose its pastor, Dr. Henry Marcotte, September 3. He announced that he had accepted the call of the Second Presbyterian Church of Kansas City, Mo., yesterday morning...

Work Declared Arduous. "The work here has been very heavy," said Dr. Marcotte, "especially since 1910, when we started the campaign for the new church, but the years have been happy, the happiest in my life, for the membership has been loyal and sympathetic and helpful, and my relations with the congregation have always been close and tender."

ETIQUETTE IS ISSUE

Need of Teaching Manners in Schools Discussed.

COLLEGE TO HAVE CLASS

Parents and Teachers of Portland Hold Different Views as to Whether or Not American Youth Can Pass Muster.

The announcement that one of the eastern colleges is planning to establish a department in which etiquette shall be taught has caused considerable comment among educators, parents and others interested in the welfare of young America.

Should we have a department of etiquette in our schools? Some say "No," others, "Yes."

Portland Has Class. The fact of the matter is there is a class at Benson Polytechnic School where "manners" are taught, but it isn't as such. Parlor etiquette, dining-room propriety and kitchen conduct are the branches of instruction followed, and at times the girls at Benson practice the art of curtseying to good advantage, because such training fits in with the larger and more comprehensive idea of a trade school education.

Mr. Otto Pickett, of Waltersburg, Wash., visited at the home of her sister, Mrs. Harry E. Wagoner, at 715 Wayne street, where she will visit her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Butler.

Miss Blanche Roark entertained the Deacons' Girls' Club and its guests at her country home at Evergreen Station Sunday afternoon. Luncheon was served in an arbor of Scotch broom and ivy.

The Delphian Matrons' Club adjourned for the summer months on Tuesday, June 13, celebrating the event with a picnic in Laurier Park, at which Mrs. W. H. Giles and Mrs. F. E. McGreger were the hostesses.

Chief Justice Hunter and Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. C. F. Johnson and John F. Conkey, of Victoria, B. C., formed a motoring party from Seattle, stopping at the Hotel Mallory, where they were joined by Mrs. Hunter's sister, Mrs. W. E. King, of Hood River, and went over the Columbia River highway to Hood River on Saturday morning.

Registered at the Mallory are D. W. DeBussk, Raymond H. Wheeler, Eugene Or, and Benjamin O. Willebrand, of Los Angeles.

Mrs. W. C. McNaught has returned from Astoria, Wash., where she directed the High School senior class play.

Mrs. A. M. Preston, of Lewiston, Idaho, visited friends in Portland yesterday, on her way to California.

about keeping their finger nails clean and being considerate of other people and she tells short stories that are vehicles for some lesson in behavior. It isn't in the prescribed course of study, but it is a fine feature, Miss Wright declares. She makes it all like a story hour and the children take to it.

Parents Are Blamed. Mrs. Isaac Swett, president of the Council of Jewish Women, thinks a teacher can work wonders, but the parents should do their share. It is not necessary to have a special department, but if the teacher is tactful and can see life from the child's viewpoint she will help him wonderfully.

That the behavior of children in public places is far from what it should be is the opinion of Mrs. C. E. Runyon, a prominent club and society woman. She says the way in which so many mothers sit complacently in a car while their children are wiping their feet all over the clean clothes of those around them is abhorrent. I love children and I love to see them happy, but they should not be brought up with the idea that their rights include the discomfort of all around them.

Bibles Lure Young Sunday School Teacher to Theft. Girl From Country Cannot Withstand Tempting Display in Department Store.

JUST fancy the most fantastic theft. It will prove Let's presume, for example, that a young woman Sunday school teacher suddenly visits to kleptomaniac and steals a Bible. Well, then—The girl was manifestly delighted with her first visit to the big Portland department store. There were so many, many things that one desired. She had given her friends the gift choice variety of her own, or perhaps she had bought one for herself. She was so conscious of her seniority and responsibility, though she was but 17. Those Bibles now—A sudden wave of desire swept the girl, she took the book which she had not the money to purchase. The theft is unparalleled in the annuals of that department store, for the goods that were stolen were not ordinary Bibles, or prayer books, or toilet articles—but Bibles.

Then a house detective was by her side. The girl was told that she was under arrest. The case was to have been taken before the Juvenile Court, but its singular nature caused the complaint to be withdrawn before Judge Cleeton had acted upon it. Meantime the girl was taken to the Fraser Detention Home and a telegram dispatched to her mother. It was Friday when the girl from the country town ended her adventure in the detention home, where Superintendent S. D. White questioned her with kindness. He was convinced that it was not her first offense, but that she had suffered from an attack of kleptomaniac and purloined the books, as the dearest treasure to be found in that department store. On Saturday her mother arrived and she was released. They went home yesterday, the mother and the girl, and a certain Sunday school class in the country town is never to know how their teacher was tempted—just as the Bible stories relate.

Sermon Thoughts. "The Mystery of Godliness" was the topic of Rev. Alexander Beers, pastor of the First Methodist Church, yesterday morning.

"The world is full of mystery," said the pastor. "Inasmuch as mystery is found in every field of science, it is not to be wondered at that it is found in religion. The mystery of religion is a true romance of the Christian life. The last word has not been spoken on theology. We must not stop thinking where the old creed writers stopped."

The Growing Tendency of the Age—

A noted English scientist asserts the tendency is toward "neurasthenia, nerves," etc." A remarkable statement.

No less remarkable is the cause which, he adds, "is not unlikely due to removing from our diet those elements of cereal food which Nature has hid in the husk of the grain, and which man in his ignorance discards."

The elements to which he refers are the well-known mineral salts of phosphorus, lime, iron, etc., removed in milling flour to make it white, but which physicians know are indispensable to normal, well-balanced nerves, bodies and brains.
