

130 RECRUITS ARE ENLISTED IN DAY

Portland Companies Are to Continue Efforts Till War Footing Obtained.

FORCE WILL BE DOUBLED

Two Organizations Are Now at Minimum Strength and Probably Will Be Ready to Leave for Clackamas Camp Today.

One hundred and thirty recruits were accepted by the Oregon National Guard in Portland yesterday. For the first day following the mobilization order this showing is considered highly gratifying.

Most of the companies now are nearly recruited up to mobilization strength, but, on instructions from Adjutant-General White, recruiting will be continued until all 130 companies of the National Guard are placed on a war footing.

Two or three of the companies are now filled to minimum strength and will probably be ready to move to Clackamas Range to go into camp late today.

Recruiting will continue at the Army for an indefinite period, and as militiamen are accepted they will be ordered to report to their respective units at encampment.

OREGON ACTS EARLY

Washington Among Prompt Responses to Call, Too.

NORTHWEST TO BE BRIGADE

Idaho Guards Will Be Included in Organization Which Is to Be a Part of 16th Division—New Act May Apply to Militia.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, June 19.—Oregon was the tenth state to respond through its Governor to the President's call for mobilization of the National Guard. The first response reached the War Department at 12:46 this (Monday) morning from the Governor of New York. Then, in order, came telegrams from the Governors of Michigan, Missouri, Tennessee, Vermont, Georgia, Mississippi, Washington, Virginia and Oregon.

MEXICAN ARMY IS HELD

(Continued From First Page.) 6000 troops. The garrison at Laredo tonight was less than 1000. At Piedras Negras, the Mexican town opposite Eagle Pass, the Mexican garrison has been busy leaving all day. Before leaving Piedras Negras the Mexicans dismantled the machine shops, moving large quantities of the material to the interior. The concentration of heavy forces to the south of Juarez also was reported. The only point where concentration at a border town was being effected was at Ojinaga, opposite Presidio. There not more than 500 were stationed, but the American force at Presidio also is small. General Parker's reports from Brownsville said that all was quiet in his district. General Funston late today had out what units of the militia he wanted first nor where they would be placed, but it was believed that he would ask

(Continued From First Page.) mander anywhere may bring on fighting that will result in war. So far as officials here are aware, General Carranza is taking no strong measures to curb his soldiers and people. Upon this fact many of them found their belief that he is determined to force matters to an issue unless the American troops are withdrawn. Neither State Department officials nor members of the diplomatic corps here have been able to satisfy themselves as to Carranza's motives. There are some, however, who believe he hopes to ride into popularity by a diplomatic triumph over his powerful northern neighbor or upon a war wave which might re-establish his tottering government in popular estimation. Once the war was on and the certain defeat of his armies foreshadowed, the observers say, General Carranza might sue for peace, trusting to the magnanimity of the Washington Government to leave him in power. Americans May Be in Peril. Increasing uneasiness over the plight of some 5000 American civilians in Mexico was manifested today in official quarters. Approximately 1200 of that number are in Mexico City, despite warning after warning through American Consuls and other officials. Another emphatic message advising them to leave Mexico immediately was sent by the State Department through Special Agent Rodgers a day or two ago. Officials do not believe the Carranza government would sanction an attack upon American residents or that other foreigners would be involved in any case. A weapon of terrible possibilities is being forged in Mexico, however, with the aid of the American population to a warlike feeling against the United States. Mobs formed by half-starved natives who have been told that all of Mexico's accumulated troubles are traceable to the Americans might well precipitate a situation beyond the control of the government. Careful preparation has been made for the protection of the big American colony near Tampico. In numbers it exceeds that in the capital, but it is near the sea, and Navy gunboats and light craft already have been designated to offer prompt aid. If necessary, small landing parties would be sent to open a way to the boats. Expedition to Capital Suggested. For the Mexico City problem, however, no such solution presents itself. It was suggested to one official body today that an expeditionary force might be rushed to the relief of Americans there. He replied that it would mean moving an army of 50,000 or per-

PERSHING'S MEN MOVE

MEN OPERATE SOUTH AND WEST IN PURSUIT OF BANDITS. Presence of Marauders Learned Almost Simultaneously With Receipt of Warning From Trevino.

COLUMBUS, N. M., June 19.—General J. J. Pershing, American expeditionary commander, has cavalry detachments operating south and west of the National base in pursuit of bands of Mexican marauders, according to several apparently reliable reports here today. It was asserted that General Pershing received reports of the presence of the bandits almost simultaneously with General Jacinto Trevino's warning that any movement of the American troops other than toward the border would be considered a hostile act. Pending advice from General Frederick Funston, it was said, he gave no orders to give chase until late yesterday. While some anxiety was expressed here over the move it was not believed that General Trevino will seize upon it as an excuse for attacking the detachments. It was pointed out that the movement is minor and in no way affects the general expeditionary campaign. A motor truck train two miles long left here today carrying food and ammunition to the front. The trains carried the largest shipments of supplies for the expeditionary force since it crossed the border. Read The Oregonian classified ads.

haps 100,000 men and would take at least two months to get them there. Although practically no details concerning the mobilization of National Guardsmen reached the War Department today, acknowledgments of orders came from every Governor, with word that the troops had been ordered under arms. In several instances a request that the state be allowed to send its full contingent to the border, instead of the regiments or brigades called for, accompanied the acknowledgment. Governor Duane, of Illinois, was one of those who made the request. Congress May Act Today. Secretary Baker announced during the day that he had advised Representative Hay and Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the House and Senate military committees, to endeavor to bring about the adoption by Congress of a resolution putting into immediate effect the militia draft provisions of the new Army organization bill, which will become effective July 1. The resolution probably will be presented tomorrow in both houses. With this information came also the statement that the orders calling out the state troops were so framed as to make it possible to compel the presence at the border at least of every man enrolled. They were summoned as National Guardsmen, in which status they bear a distinct relation to the Federal Government and by law are the first source for securing volunteers who have no connection with the states; they were also summoned as members of the organized militia, and as such cannot be used beyond the border, though available for any duty within the United States. All Guardsmen Subject. The draft provision of the new law is applicable to every member of the National Guard or the National Guard reserve. It cannot be made retroactive, however, and all National Guardsmen must voluntarily take the dual oath of enlistment under the Federal and state governments before they can become subject to its obligation. It is believed here that there will be little objection on the part of most of the Guardsmen. It is planned to exercise the draft immediately if Congress adopts the resolution, and state soldiers will become Federal soldiers, with no connection whatever with the National Guard or the organized militia. They will be available for service in Mexico without further formalities. On the other hand, those who may refuse to take the oath and will not, therefore, be subject to draft, will remain under Federal control under the provisions of the old laws, which still are operative. They will be available for guard duty along the border, if for nothing else, and Army officials feel the urgent need of keeping them ready for that purpose. Act to Be Made Clear. The resolution, it is understood, will authorize the President to employ the armed forces of the United States either in Mexico or along the border for defensive purposes. Such a provision would meet the objection of those who hold that a sufficiently clear authorization has not been given for the purposes of section III of the new Army bill providing that drafting of National Guardsmen can begin only after proper authorization has been given by Congress for the employment of forces other than the regular Army. Legal officers of the War Department desire to make certain that no complications will arise later to block efficient use of the state troops. Ample equipment of all kinds is on hand at the various depots of the Army, Secretary Baker said today, to complete the outfit of all the Guardsmen called for service. A sufficient supply of field artillery and machine guns and enough ammunition for any fighting that might occur also is on hand. Officials are busy working out the number that must be supplied and the quickest way of securing them. Doctors to Be Called. Another step taken at the War Department today was preparation of orders calling out doctors of the medical reserve corps to examine Guardsmen for muster into the Federal service. The department will insist upon the high physical standards of the regular Army. Some states that already is required, and there will be little delay. In others there is reason to believe, officers say, that men incapable of arduous military service have been enrolled for the purpose of keeping the companies up to the minimum strength necessary for Federal recognition and participation in Federal appropriations. FUNSTON SEEKS DISTURBERS General Offers Reward for Names of Trouble-Makers in Texas. AUSTIN, Tex., June 19.—In response to a request from General Funston, Governor Ferguson today issued a statement to the Texas Mexicans, urging obedience to laws of the state and guaranteeing them protection if they would report to officers the names of any Mexican in the state who are back of a movement to foment trouble. He also promised a reward to any Mexican who will furnish information of persons "trying to arouse Mexicans to take up arms against Americans or destroy their property." CONSUL LEAVES MATAMOROS American Diplomat Says City Expects Attack From United States. BROWNSVILLE, Tex., June 19.—United States Consul J. H. Johnson arrived here from his post at Matamoros this afternoon and announced that he had received orders from the State Department at Washington to quit Mexico. Matamoros expects to be attacked by the United States, Consul Johnson said. Mexicans Rebuild Tracks. WASHINGTON, June 19.—General Funston reported tonight that quiet prevailed at Matamoros, where considerable disorder followed the crossing of Major Anderson's cavalry troop Saturday. The dispatch said the Mexicans were replacing railroad tracks leading across the border there, torn up by them Saturday night. Mexicans Rejoice at "Victory." BROWNSVILLE, Tex., June 19.—There is rejoicing in Matamoros in the belief that a small band of Mexicans compelled a force of about 300 American soldiers to recross from Mexico territory into the United States early yesterday, according to reports received here today. Public Opinion. "Three wrappers preserve their delicious oven-crispness" "The natural corn flavour is delicious!" "They're known by the 'Bubbles'" "Don't mush down in cream" "Don't chaff or crumble in the package" The first taste of New Post Toasties reveals the fact that something different—something better—has arrived for the breakfast table. The secret is in the flavour—a self-developed flavour of pearly white Indian corn—not the flavour of cream and sugar upon which other flakes have to depend. And notice, too, the appearance of New Post Toasties, particularly the tiny bubbles on the surface of each flake. These bubbles are a distinguishing feature—produced by the quick, intense heat of a new patented process of manufacture. New Post Toasties do not "chaff" or crumble in the package, and they don't mush down in cream like other flakes. They're more substantial and are altogether more satisfactory than any flakes that have preceded them. The proof is in the eating—have your grocer send you a package. New Post Toasties
