Funston Ready to Flank Assailants of Americans Now in Mexico.

WASHINGTON, June 20 .- The issue of war or peace with Mexico hung in the balance tonight awaiting General Carranza's decision as to the course he will pursue. Officials here believed that 48 hours might bring a clear understanding of what the immediate future has in store.

A note, signed by Secretary Lansing, conveying President Wilson's rejection of the demand for withdrawal of American soldiers from Mexico, accompanied by a specific warning that an attack on the troops "will lead to the gravest consequences," was telegraphed to Mexico City by fore the bar of the House. The action Elieseo Arredondo, Mexican Ambas- is the outgrowth of impeachment prosador-designate. In plain terms, it accuses General Carranza of having brought matters to the verge of war by open hostility toward the United States and failure to safeguard even the lives of Americans in Mexico or on the border from the lawless elements among his countrymen.

American Terms Stern.

In sternest terms the note repudiates and resents imputations of bad faith and ulterior motives brought Mexican situation and the calling out of Lieutenant W. W. Border Protection Only Aim.

Mobilization of the National Guardsmen is proceeding expeditiously in all states and plans for sending some of them southward in response to a request from General Funston are under way. Secretary Lansing today described the policy of the Government as being founded only on a reley has not been changed, he said, and no military step that has been taken has any other object. General Carranza was officially informed of this in the note which went forward today.

To carry out his share in the policy General Funston sent a long code dispatch to Secretary Baker today, indicating what portion of the 100,000 ARMY POSTOFFICES OPEN Guardsmen ordered under arms he needs immediately to stiffen his border guard. The points at which he wishes the men to mobilize and the proportions of infantry, cavalry and proportions of infantry, cavalry and Roberts, local superintendent of the artillery he desires to have at each Railway Mail Service, left tonight for place were included.

Railroad Men Confer.

Assignment will be made from the first state units to be mustered into the service. Preliminary arrangements were discussed today with railroad officials looking to their prompt transportation to the points selected by General Funston.

None of the guardsmen summoned under President Wilson's call were ready tonight for marching orders. It be a matter of several days before the first regiments are mustered in, as the men will have to be examined physically, additional camp equipment assembled for them and Benjamin Barker on Narragansett Bay. the trains to carry them to the bor-

DOUGLAS, Ariz., June 20 .- The American flag flying over the hotel in which was situated the office of American Consul W. A. Julian at Cananea was made the target of hundreds of Mexican bullets during the anti-American demonstration last Saturday night, ecording to American refugees arriving here today. After daybreak, when the demonstration ended, the emblem still flaunted in the breeze.

Numerous bullets struck the hotel endangering the visitors, who were nearly all Americans. The mob shouted maledictions against the "gringos." After filling the flag with holes the mab directed its fire at the flagpole but was unable to cut it.

About 650 Americans reached th order today from Cananea. The refugees composed practically the American population of the town. General Calles announced that he had lifted the embargo on Sonora telephone and telegraph lines that American consular representatives might send warnings urging Americans to leave the state. He specified, however, that all messages must be written in Span-ish.

After Dinner Is Served Tents Are Pitched, "Street" Cleared, Straw Ticks Carried Out and Boys Go on Hunt for Luxuries.

The state mobilization camp at Clackamas sprang into life at noon yesterday when Company M, of Salem, 126 men strong, detrained at the sta tion and debouched into the field.

Ten minutes later the company cooks "slum." For the benefit of pacifists principal ingredient of which is water. While the "slum" was bubbling the men of the company demonstrated one and began erecting tents. The "slum" called them before they were well started, but it didn't take long after dinner to get the row of tents up, with the mess tent on one end.

Company M was the first infantry real military aspect to things. But the first organization actually to reach camp was the Supply Company of the Third Infantry, from Portland, which arrived at 9 o'clock.

Commissarint Is Established.

Captain Carl Ritterspacher, regimenal commissary, went out with them. Supplies and five days' rations had pre-ceded the troops into camp. Captain Ritterspacher issued the rations as the various commands called for them. Shortly after 3 o'clock a long troop rain pulled in from Portland, bringing Company B, Captain Willard F. Daugh erty, 73 men strong, and Company F. Captain Eugene C. Libby, with 63 men. Both companies had left recruiting details behind at the Portland Armory. They went into camp at once and were soon pitching their tents. Camp Is Scene of Bustle.

For the next few hours the camp was a busy place. While some of the men were clearing out spaces for the company tents, and others putting them up and driving the pegs, some were told off to prepare the officers' quarters. Still others rustled about camp in search of that prize of prizes, a

It developed that no cots were available for issuance to the troops, consequently they slept last night with only the ticks between them and pneumonia, for the ground was still very damp. The three infantry companies, B, F
