Wade, lyric soprano, and Alvin E. Gillett, baritone, of New York City. Mr. Gillett is in charge of the chorus. He is director of the Central Christian church, of that city. There is no admission for tonight's concert.

CARD ORDINANCE TO BE INTRODUCED.—The proposed new ordinance to license card rooms contained in connection with pool and billiard-rooms will be presented to the City Council this morning by Commissioner Bigelow and a date probably fixed for a hearing on the measure. It is proposed to impose a license of $50 a year on the card rooms and permit them to be conducted only in connection with pool and billiard places. Its terms prohibit any betting in pool and billiard-rooms.

RESTAURANT TO BE INSPECTED.—W. C. Reed, proprietor of a restaurant at 131 Broadway, appeared in Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of bottling cream in his restaurant. He was fined $10, but the fine was remitted, while admitting he had bottled cream on a few occasions. Mr. Reed said it was always as a matter of accommodation for his customers. He said he had no intention of disobeying the ordinance.

RIFLE RANGES ARE PLANNED.—Establishment of municipal indoor and outdoor rifle ranges in connection with a special committee from the Chamber of Commerce which will meet at the Chamber Friday night. S. S. Humphrey, secretary of the National Rifle Association of America, will lay the case before the committee. In case the ranges are established, the equipment will be furnished by the Government.

HEIR IS BUNKO SOUGHT.—Heir to a fortune left by his father, Joseph Phillips, is being sought by the attorney, Holloway, barristers of Auckland, New Zealand, who wrote Portland authorities. Sheriff Hurlbert is asked to investigate any trace of the whereabouts of Phillips, who was heard from in Portland in 1894, when he was sent to the County Jail for several months for larceny. Phillips at one time was a cordial manufacturer of New Zealand.

JUDGES DAVIS GOING TO KLAMATH.—Circuit Judge Davis, of Multnomah County, will go to Klamath County in July to hear cases for Judge Kuykendall, of that district. While in that part of the state Judge Davis will inspect the Jackson County road, which was the subject of litigation for more than a month in his court this winter and which he has yet to decide.

EAST OAK-STREET PAVING CONTRACT LET.—Montague-O'Reilly Company is to get the contract for paving East oak street, between Water street and Union avenue. This company submitted the lowest bid for the work in the sum of $15,000. The street is to be paved with stone blocks.

PIONEER DESCENDANTS TO MEET.—The sons and daughters of Oregon Pioneers will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in room A, Central Library, Fifth and Yamhill streets. The annual dues of $1 should be turned in at the meeting or before.

THE TROY LAUNDRY COMPANY have opened a bundle of office at 105 Broadway, between Washington and Stark streets, in connection with Enke's West Side office.—Adv.

SWIMMING INSTRUCTORS NAMED. James R. Burke, Rudolph Schlotz, G. G. Walker, Grace Kaddery and Bess C. Burch were appointed swimming instructors yesterday to have charge of instruction in the public swimming places during the summer season. Howard McKay, who served as a director last year, has dropped out of the service this year. Katherine Gray, Aurilla E. Robbins and Emily C. Sheldon were appointed comfort station attendants to have charge of stations in parks.

MARK O'NEILL ASKS FOR SETTLEMENT. In 1905 Mark O'Neill claims to have drafted a charter for the city of St. Johns for which a charge of $100 was made. Mr. O'Neill, in a communication sent to the City Council of Portland yesterday, says the claim has not been paid. He asks for a settlement. Mr. O'Neill says the claim was disregarded until 1905 when suit was brought to force payment. The suit is still pending.

Old Offenders Sign Pledge in Municipal Court. Michael Coleman and Charles Johnson Rebuked by Judge Langguth for Tampering With Liquor.

PATRICK LYNCH and George Geiry, two of the regular patrons of the Municipal Court, appeared before Judge Langguth yesterday on charges of drunkenness. They were each sentenced to 30 days in jail but these were suspended on condition that they sign an agreement to remain sober.

Michael Coleman was the next on the docket, a young fellow who had been arrested on the same charge. "You, young fellow," said the Judge sternly, "ought to be able to do better than that. You can control yourself. You are not like those two old soaks who preceded you. You are deliberately making yourself a drunkard and when you get to be as old as Pat there you will be just like he is."

"I look with suspicion upon anyone who carries around as many bottles as you do," declared the Judge to Charles Johnson, also before the court on a charge of drunkenness. "The Judge said he was encouraging someone to carry on bootlegging operations. Johnson was rebuked and fined $10 and Otaf Hegley $10 on similar charges.

WOMAN, 88, SPEAKS

Mrs. Emmeline Wells Addresses Mormon Conference.

MEETING DRAWS MANY As President of Relief Society, Noted Worker Reviews Scope of Organization — High Tribute Paid Mrs. Dunaway.

With force, clearness and eloquence, the venerable Mrs. Emmeline W. Wells addressed the conference of the Mormon General Relief Society of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter-Day Saints, in session in the Portland Church, East Twenty-fifth and East Madison streets, yesterday. She is president of the society.

Although 88 years old and with all very, knowlike hair, Mrs. Wells told the story of the scope and achievements of the organization with a vigor of expression that captivated and delighted the audience.

Mrs. Wells paid high tribute to the late Mrs. Abigail S. Stewart, whom she met at Washington, D. C. many years ago, and declared that Mrs. Dunaway was one of the remarkable women of the world and known better outside than in Oregon.

Relief Work Extensive. Mrs. Wells was secretary of 35 years and has been the president for five years. She began her career as a teacher, and has been active ever since. The Mormon Relief Society is one of the oldest women's organizations in the United States.

According to the reports submitted at the conference, the receipts of the society for 1915 were $248,971, and its total resources at the present time are $336,046.23. Much of this is in the form of wheat stored for emergency. It has a total of 15,668,029 pounds, or 210,000 bushels, which is deposited in granaries throughout the country. If there is a shortage of crop and no wheat for seed a supply is rushed to the section in which the shortage occurs.

When San Francisco was overwhelmed with the earthquake and fire, the Relief Society was among the first to respond, sending cartloads of wheat and bread there.

Society Has 41,274 Members. The present membership is 41,274. It has 1064 relief organizations. It helps materially and distressed families in destitution. It has paid 78,500 visits to the sick. The organization is literary as well as educational.

In Portland the organization has a special committee to aid the Portland baby home. Its general work has a wide scope. Mrs. M. J. Ballard is president of the society. She presided at the 30 days in jail but these were suspended on condition that they sign an agreement to remain sober.

City employees who go with the Oregon National Guard are to retain their places on the civil service eligible lists. A resolution will be presented to the Civil Service Board by the board's secretary, H. W. MacLean, providing for this.

Whereas, The President of the United States has ordered the Oregon National Guard to be called into the service. Resolved, That any member of said National Guard now in the service shall have his position retained for him until he is called into the service, and that on his return he shall be reinstated in his position with the same pay and allowances as if he had not been in the service.

BOOK AGENTS NOT FRIED CASE OF MRS. SANGER'S SALES-MEN WILL BE JUNE 30. Copies of "Family Limitation" Are Returned, Although One Is Left for Court to Read.

The case against E. L. Jenkins, Carl Rave and Ralph Cherbin, arrested Monday night following the lecture of Mrs. Sanger, was set for hearing June 30 in Municipal Court by Judge Langguth yesterday.

Colonel C. E. S. Wood, who introduced Mrs. Sanger Monday night, appeared in Municipal Court for the three men arrested. There was a large crowd of sympathizers in the courtroom in anticipation that the hearing was to be held yesterday. Mrs. Sanger was also present.

Copies of the book, "Family Limitation," which the men were selling at the time of the arrest and which were taken as evidence, were turned back to the owners yesterday by Judge Langguth. Deputy City Attorney Stadler said there was nothing in the ordinance providing for the holding of the books by the authorities.

Judge Langguth, however, was permitted to keep one copy of the publication in order that he might be more ready to give judgment when the case comes up for trial.

Proper Thing Now Is to Peel Off Soiled Skin

Those who abhor sticky, greasy, shiny, streaked complexions should religiously avoid creams, powders and rouges during the heated days. There's no need for them, anyway, since the virtues of mercurized wax have become known. No amount of perspiration will produce any evidence that you've been using the wax. As it is applied at bedtime and washed off in the morning, the complexion never looks like a make-up. Mercurized wax gradually takes off a bad complexion, instead of adding anything to make it worse. It has none of the disadvantages of cosmetic and accomplishes much more in keeping the complexion beautifully white, satiny and youthful. Just get an ounce of it at your druggist's and see
