FRED COOPER VISITS

Designer of Posters for Two Festivals Sees Father.

LEISURE NETS $250 A DAY

Noted Advertising Artist Goes for Another Ride Over Highway, but Will Spend Summer at His Home in California.

Fred G. Cooper, the Oregon boy whose agile little lower-case initial has come to be so famous that big National advertisers have long since ceased toicker and simply tell him to "name his price," came back to Portland yesterday. He came to visit his father and mother and to take a run over the Columbia River Highway, which he helped to make more famous by the poster for the recent Rose Festival. He is on his way to Hollywood, Cal., after a business trip to New York, where he picked up a suitcasefull of advertising contracts, which will net him $250 a day in his odd moments about home this Summer. It isn't so many years ago that Fred Cooper came to Portland to seek his fortune, and the editors to whom he showed his folio of sketches advised him that the farm lands of Oregon were hungry and thirsting for just such husky specimens of young manhood as he, and furthermore, they told him kindly that there was the place where his real mission lay. So Fred went to New York instead of remaining in Portland and instead of following the back-to-the-soil advice he encountered here. In late years he has found that he doesn't have to stay on the job in New York all the time, for the advertisers who want his drawings and posters will seek him out just the same wherever he and his lower-case trademark may go. So he has settled at Holly, wood, Cal. He donated the first poster to the Rose Festival in 1913, when his father, J. C. Cooper, of McMinnville, a pioneer of Oregon, wrote the prize-winning festival slogan. This year he donated another poster, and Portland thereby has the distinction of having its festival and its scenic highway advertised by the work of one of the foremost artists in the land.

Trip Taken Over Highway.

Fred Cooper is as cheery as the jolly little initial that runs riot in the margins of his drawings and is one of the stars in the constellation of contemporary humorists, but as an issuer of interviews he intends to be desired, especially when he is running to catch an automobile to go out over the Columbia River Highway. "Hang anything on me you please," he said liberally, "and I'll swear I said it. You might mention that I am pleased to see so many smiling faces, or something like that." But, after all, why should a man turn loose precious ideas in an interview, especially when he knows that shtetmty that transmutes almost any idea into gold? Mr. Cooper will leave today on the Shasta Limited for California.

Women Think War Is On.

Blasting in a rock quarry near Kelly Butte about 10 o'clock last night caused many persons to believe that cannon were being fired to announce the declaration of war between the United States and Mexico. Women with relatives and friends with the colors hastened to call newspaper offices to confirm or disprove their fears. The problem of the shooting was solved when residents of the district near the quarry called the police to complain that their slumbers were being disturbed.

BOOK SALE STOPPED

Council Act Brands Mrs. Sanger's Pamphlet as Obscene.

CRITICISM INDUCES ACTION

Letter to Commissioners Asking Curb on Moral Activities of Mayor and His Secretary Has Opposite Effect.

The five members of the City Council read over Margaret Sanger's book called "Family Limitation" yesterday, and forthwith passed an emergency ordinance by unanimous vote branding the publication as obscene and prohibiting its sale or distribution in Portland. The action came as a neat little reply to a letter written to each member of the Council by W. S. U'Ren, in which he said it was time the Councilmen were taking a hand in stopping Mayor Albee and his secretary, Will H. Warren, from carrying their moral ideas to extremes. The ordinance branding the booklet as obscene was introduced by Commissioner Dick after all the Commissioners had read the book, or enough of it to be convinced that it was not fit literature to be circulated about the city. They passed the ordinance in accordance with a provision in the charter which gives the council the right to prohibit the sale or distribution of literature which the Council may deem obscene. This is the first time the Council has acted under the provisions of the ordinance in connection with any one publication. The letter of Mr. U'Ren was induced by the arrests a few days ago of a number of people who were selling the books at a Margaret Sanger meeting in local theater. Mr. U'Ren declared that it was the work of Mayor Albee and Secretary Warren and was carrying the moral fight of the two officials to the limit. He said in his letter that it was time the Councilmen were taking a hand and stopping these officials in their endeavors. The ordinance was aimed not only to stop the sale of the books that are in the city now, but to stop any further sales when Mrs. Sanger makes her promised return visit to the city. The members of the Council held that the book goes beyond the question of "family limitation" and presents matter which could not avoid being a serious harm to immature persons by influencing them "in a crude and suggestive manner."

Masons Will Observe Tomorrow.

COTTAGE GROVE, Or., June 23.—(Special).—For the first time in its history, Cottage Grove Lodge No. 51, A. F. and A. M., will celebrate the festival of St. John the Baptist. The exercises will be held at the Methodist Church at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon and will be open to the public. Masons are expected to be present from Eugene, Creswell and other neighboring cities. There will be an elaborate musical programme. An address will be delivered by Rev. D. A. MacLeod and the dewdrop lecture will be delivered by Past Master D. A. Hamant.

HELEN LADD TO LEAD

ACTIVITIES OF NATIONAL HONOR GUARD IN HER CHARGE. Special Meeting in Interests of Guard Will Be Held at Central Library Monday.

In addition to being heroine in the society moving pictures, Miss Helen Ladd has been chosen to head one of the more serious events of the day, having been appointed by Miss Theodora Booth leader of the Girls' National Honor Guard for the State of Oregon, an organization just being formed by Miss Booth, National president. A meeting will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Central Library in Room A, to which is bidden all girls and women interested in the Girls' National Honor Guard of Portland. This meeting will be addressed by Mrs. C. A. Scadding on preparedness and Red Cross subjects and will be in the nature of discussion and explanation of the movement.

Miss Ladd has appointed as her assistants Misses Cornelia Cook and Jean Mackenzie. A special meeting has been called in the interests of the Guard for Monday afternoon in room A, Central Library, at 4:30 o'clock, and Miss Ladd asks that all girls in the state desirous of joining any of the groups either attend the meeting or send in their names to her at 343 West Park street. While different groups will have their own leaders or heads, all groups formed in this state will be under the leadership of Miss Ladd, who is thoroughly capable of attending to this distinctive honor conferred upon her. She always has sought out the serious pursuits and has for a long time been desirous of taking the training for nurses in this city, but her youth has compelled her parents to withhold their permission for this course. The movement for organization was taken by Miss Ruth Benton before she knew of Miss Ladd's election by the executive officers in Blue Point, N. Y., and will in no way conflict with the Guard's organization. The branch brought together by Miss Benton's activity will become automatically a unit of the Guard. Tag Day Receipts $265. The tag day of the Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday netted $265. The tags were sold by about 20 girls and women members of the church, of which Rev. W. H. Prince is pastor. The object was to aid in lifting a $250 mortgage on the church at McMullan and Larrabee streets. The mortgage lifting rally will end July 2.

Weather Office 54 Years Old.

THE DALLES, Or., June 23.—(Special).—T. B. Phillips, the local weather observer, is celebrating the 54th anniversary of the establishment of a weather station here. One man, Samuel Brooks, held the position for 53 years until his death four years ago. The Dalles was the second Government weather station in Oregon, Astoria being the first.

Resinol Soap improves poor complexions. If you want a clear, fresh, glowing complexion, use Resinol Soap at least once a day. Work a warm, creamy lather of it well into the pores, then rinse the face with plenty of cold water. It does not take many days of such regular care with Resinol Soap to show an improvement, because the Resinol medication soothes and refreshes the skin, while the pure soap, free of alkali, is cleansing it. If the skin is already in bad condition, a short treatment with Resinol Ointment may first be necessary to restore its normal health. Resinol Soap and Ointment are sold by all druggists. For samples free, write to Dept. 23-B, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. Men like the way Resinol Soap cleanses the face and prevents most after-shaving discomforts. It makes daily shaving a real satisfaction.
