HIGHER OFFICERS NAMED

Many ex-Service Men Offer to Raise Companies; Organization to Be Tentative, Awaiting Developments.

Colonel C. U. Gantenbein announced Colonel C. U. Gantenbein announced last night that headquarters of a proposed regiment of United States volunteer infantry will be opened at 9 o'clock this morning at room 565 in the Courthouse, the jury-room of department No. 5. He intended to open headquarters Sunday morning, but by agreement with Adjutant-General White he delayed taking this step until this morning.

Colonel Gantenbein wishes it to be understood that he has no private information from the War Department as to the probability of a call for volunteers. Believing, however, that in the event of war with Mexico more troops will be needed than can be furnished by the regular Army and the existing organizations of the National Guard, he thinks the time is ripe for the organization of a tentative regiment, in ganization of a tentative regiment, in order to avoid unnecessary delay in case a call should come. He has prom ised to recommend for Lieutenant-Colonel W. E. Finzer, and for Major of the First Battalion Charles E. Mc-

Volunteer Act in Force.

The voluntary military act of April 25, 1914, has not been repealed by the act approved by President Wilson on the third of this month, It provides that the President shall appoint officers of volunteer regiments and that not more than four of the officers shall be appointed from the regular Army.

"Fully 40 ex-officers of the regular Army and Navy and of the volunteer service have applied for authority to organize companies," said Colonel Gantenbein last night.

Washington Democrats Are Severe in Criticism of Executive and Acts.

Judge Black, Possible Everett Candidate, and Dr. Cass, of Vancouvere, Already in Race, Announce Positions.

Lister is to have opposition for renom-ination in the Democratic primaries. Dr. Cass has already announced his andidacy for the Democratic nomina tion and it is regarded as possible that Mr. Black will also make the race. Both are severe in their criticism of the present incumbent.

"Many leading and influential Democrats throughout the state are of the opinion that Mr. Lister not only cannot be elected, but that attacks the Republicans will make upon him, if he is nominated, will greatly injure not only the rest of the state ticket, but also President Wilson's chances in the state," said Dr. Cass, "And his methodr and practices, his

Lister Opposition Shown.

In his letter to Dr. Cass, which was written before the latter definitely announced his candidacy, Judge Black said that he has had assurances from all over the state that the Democrats would nominate him as against Gover-nor Lister, but that circumstances and conditions may lead him not to be a candidate.

"I am keeping myself free so that I can enter the race if it seems advisable when the time for filing arrives," he wrote Dr. Cass. "It is, however, very possible that I will not be a candidate and for that reason I am especially anxious to know your intentions, as it is necessary for the good of the party and for the other Democratic candidates who will be on the ticket this Fail that some one other than Lister be nominated.

"The Democratic party cannot afford nominate Lister, because if he should be nominated the party will have in-dorsed his practices, which I believe no party professing high ideals can afford to do. If the party refuses to nominate him it repudiates these practices and cannot be blamed for the acts of one individual.

"It has been repeatedly published in the press that Lister has permitted his appointees to be assessed to pay his private note for $10,000, given by him before he was Governor and long before these state employes were appointed by him. It is also repeatedly stated that at the present time his appointees are being assessed 331-3 per cent of their salary to pay his primary campaign ex-
