

FIREMEN'S SPORTS ENLIVEN HOLIDAY

Hose Team Races, Water Fights and Ladder-Climbing Exhibitions Are Given.

CORVALLIS TEAM FAST

Visitors Defeat Woodstock Contestants in All Events—Thrilling Hub-to-Hub Race One of Big Features of Programme.

Firemen's sports enlivened the holiday programme in the early afternoon, contests of many kinds and exhibitions being given in the South Park blocks at 1 o'clock.

There were hose team races, water fights, a ladder-climbing exhibition and a thrilling hub-to-hub race by two volunteer fire companies.

The Portland firemen took part in but one competitive event, there being a race between Engine crews 7 and 16 to lay a line of hose and get water. Each was timed, and Engine 16 had a wide margin over its rival. The latter got water in 56 seconds flat, while Engine 7 required 1 minute 12 1/2 seconds.

Hose Teams Furnish Sport.

There was some good sport furnished by the Corvallis and Woodstock hose teams. They first ran with their hose carts, laid the line out and got water, running and pulling their carts 200 feet and laying a hose line 200 feet long. Corvallis accomplished the feat in 2 1/4 seconds, while Woodstock, meeting with a mishap in screwing the hose to the hydrant, required 3 1/2 seconds.

The two teams next ran a close hub-to-hub race for 200 feet against time. Each team had nine men. Corvallis nosed out in 13 1/2 seconds, with the Woodstock team a split second behind.

The Corvallis team gave as an exhibition a spectacular ladder climb. The men ran 50 feet to a ladder 20 feet long lying on the pavement, erected it and one man climbed to the top and down again, all in 13 1/2 seconds.

The feature that pleased the spectators most was the water fight between the Corvallis and Woodstock teams. Each side was armed with a hose that was turned on at the shot of a gun, and the trick to be accomplished was to dislodge at least one man of the opposing team from a 10-foot circle drawn upon the pavement. After a short duel with the two streams Corvallis was again successful.

Old Hand Pump Shows.

Three men from each team then put on an exhibition water fight, Corvallis again winning.

An interesting exhibit that had been laid out by the firemen was an old hand pump used in the Portland department 40 years ago. Chief Dowell planned to give a demonstration of the old methods of fighting fires, and manned the pumps with husky firemen. But when the line of hose was laid and the pump started, it was found that a part of the old machine was missing, so that it would not work.

Crowds covered the park blocks to witness the tournament of the firemen, and every event was enjoyed thoroughly. The event was helped to make it one of the features of the celebration.

Signor De Caprio's band furnished music. Judges of the event were Alex Donaldson, Pete Grant and Aaron Frank, Chief Dowell, Assistant Chief Landelton, Battalion Chiefs Young and Holden and Fire Marshal Stevens were in charge of the affair, while the general committee members, headed by O. C. Leiter, chairman, Nick Pieroni, Claude Bristol and F. J. Toomey were present to see that the events were run off smoothly.

Members of the victorious Corvallis hose team were: Messrs. Cole, captain; Smith, Beer, Higgins, Archibald, Price, King, Hotchkiss, Porter and MacKell-halney.

The Woodstock team was made up of the following members: Messrs. Petrie, captain; Denton, Price, Roy and Leonard Hallock, Bain, Molan and Fisher.

THE DALLES IS HOST TO MANY

Old-Fashioned Programme, Including Community Sing, Given.

THE DALLES, Or., July 4.—(Special.)—The Dalles celebrated a regular old-fashioned Fourth today and was host to thousands of people from other parts of Central Oregon. Over 400 boosters from Durum and vicinity came in a body, occupying more than 100 autos.

A community sing was held at the Elks Club, where more than 500 voices joined in singing patriotic airs, and a popular feature of the day was the baby carriage parade. The policy of the local committee in making everything free resulted in everyone having a good time.

No American was arrested for exhibiting "firecracker patriotism" in Portland yesterday, but the temptation to celebrate in that manner proved too much for Orientals.

CHILDREN WE WORRY ABOUT

Close confinement in school during the past winter, overtly perhaps, an attack of the grip or tonsillitis, some one of these things is doubtless responsible for the condition of the child who shows a decline in health now.

What are the symptoms? Pallor and languor, a flicking appetite, dark rings under the eyes, bronchial colds. Very often the best efforts of the family physician fail in such cases and the condition of the child causes the most intense anxiety. Cod-liver oil, so often prescribed, generally fails to digest fats. Try this treatment. Before breakfast each morning give the child the juice of half an orange. Afternoon meal give one of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Keep this up for a few days and then give one of the pills after the evening meal also. Weigh the child before beginning the treatment and again after two weeks. An increase in weight of from two to five pounds will show you that you are on the right track at last. Care is necessary in the diet of the patient and it will be well to send to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a diet book and the pamphlet, "Building Up the Blood." Both are free. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

BERRY PICKERS OBSERVE DAY

Hood Growers Are Jubilant Over Enormous Yields.

HOOD RIVER, Or., July 4.—(Special.)—Strawberry growers of the Upper Hood River Valley have been jubilant today, although their celebration of Independence day has been characterized by hard work harvesting the enormous yields of strawberries. Some of the growers of the Upper Valley and Dee Flat communities have been forced to spend the day in inactivity because of a desire on the part of harvest hands to visit the city. A large number of pickers, however, have remained loyally at work.

Today in every way has been the most perfect of the year. Not a cloud has marred the sky, and the local celebration of the Fourth, participated in by residents of city and valley and many visitors from White Salmon and Underwood, Wash., has been successful.

FESTIVAL GIVEN AT CHEHALIS

Special Entertainment Features Are Provided for Celebration.

CHEHALIS, Wash., July 4.—(Special.)—The Evergreen Valley Feste held today brought big crowds to Chehalis. The city was decorated for the occasion. A splendid parade was held in the forenoon. The Moose band played all day and there were street sports and a balloon ascension.

At the Chautauquus in the afternoon Judge R. M. Wanamaker, of the Ohio Supreme Court, lectured on "The People and Their Courts." There was a large attendance. The Chautauquus, which opened last night and will close next Sunday night, attracted a large crowd.

Another passenger was Baron de Caters, of Belgium, who comes on a secret mission for his government. He said he had been informed on high authority that the allies would not start their great offensive until they were sure of success.

Dr. Earl V. Morrow is the son of Dr. J. W. Morrow, of 374 East Ninth street, who has offices in The Oregonian building.

Previous to his departure from Portland for the European battlefields about 18 months ago he practiced in Marshfield. He was appointed a chief surgeon of the American Red Cross in Belgium by Dr. Patterson, head of that department of the work at Washington.

Dr. Morrow is a native of Oregon and a graduate of the University of Oregon medical department. He is 32 years old.

MANY BESIEGE RED CROSS

Men and Women Eager to Serve as Nurses on Mexican Border.

PHILADELPHIA, July 1.—Fifty persons, men, women and others hardly more than children, applied at the headquarters of the American Red Cross in one day, requesting and pleading that they be sent to the Mexican border at once. They were referred to Washington or to Mrs. Jane Delano, chief of the nurses in Washington.

The local Red Cross Society is merely on an organizing status and is devoting care of the interests of John Land, and since that time has lost no opportunity to oppose legislation designed to benefit the public land states. He declared the Walsh amendment an unjustifiable raid on the treasury, and contended it would make a big inroad

Four hospital bases are to be established in the near future, two of them immediately. It is planned to hold a meeting this afternoon in the Hotel Adelphi to decide whether any additional steps be taken to place the Red Cross Society in a position to respond to an immediate call. The seriousness of the situation was voiced by one of the Red Cross officials, who said that it looked as if the Army is due to spend five years in Mexico.

Nurses desiring to go to the front under the auspices of the Red Cross Society must be trained ones. They must be over 25 years of age and under 40, and must have spent two years in a hospital with at least 50 beds. Nurses' helpers need not comply with these requisites.

ROAD BILL ELATES

Opening of Way Into Forest Reserves Now Assured.

DETERMINED FIGHT IS WON

Opposition of Ultra-Conservationists Overcome—Interior Valleys Will Be Made Accessible to Settlement.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, July 4.—Western members of the House were elated over their success in securing the adoption by the House of the Walsh amendment to the good roads bill, which means the expenditure of $10,000,000 in the next ten years for roads in forest reserves. This expenditure is to be in addition to expenditures made under the main provisions of the good roads bill, and while the $10,000,000 is to be reimbursed from forest reserve receipts, the 25 per cent of those receipts now allotted the states for schools and roads, under an old law, will not be impaired.

For more than a year the Secretary of Agriculture, backed by the Secretary of the Interior, has been urging Congress to pass a law authorizing the advance of money from the treasury for building roads in forest reserves. When the good roads bill was before the Senate, Senator Walsh, after a conference with other Western Senators, offered the amendment, which is now law, advancing $1,000,000 a year for ten years, and it was agreed to.

Measure Opposed in House.

When the good roads bill went back to the House, however, there was stout opposition to the Walsh amendment, the opposition coming from the ultra-conservationists, led by Representative Lenroot, of Wisconsin, who has shown himself this session an enemy to all Western legislation. He is planned to peep two months ago when the House public lands committee turned down the provision in the Oregon and California land grant bill which would have taken care of the interests of John Land, and since that time has lost no opportunity to oppose legislation designed to benefit the public land states. He declared the Walsh amendment an unjustifiable raid on the treasury, and contended it would make a big inroad
