

TRIBUTE TO BE PAID
LT. ADAIR TODAY

Military and Civic Organizations Are to Escort Body of Hero to Grave.

SERVICES ARE AT 1:45

Bishop Sumner and Other Clergy Are to Be in Charge at Cathedral—City and State Officials to Honor Dead.

Portland today will pay a final tribute of honor and respect to Lieutenant Henry R. Adair, one of the men who lost their lives in the skirmish with Mexicans at Carrizal a few weeks ago. Lieutenant Adair was an officer in the Tenth United States Cavalry. His home was in Portland. His mother and brothers live here. His father died only last week and never knew that his son had given his life in defense of his country.

Glow brightly, lustrous star,
Upon thine azure field,
Proclaim thy glory far
And tender homage yield.--
This is thy son,
Proud Oregon!

We hear the tramp of feet,
We see the emblomed car,
Now Death and Honour meet,
With Glory's gates ajar.--
Flag-shrouded breast,
Go to thy rest.

Nobly the task was done
In Combat's fearful clash--
Nobly thy honours won
In Fame's swift, golden flash;
Sleep safe beneath
Thy laurel wreath.

The stately fir and pine
Thy solemn requiem sing;
A Nation's tears are thine,
A Nation's love we bring.--
And Heaven stands
With outstretched hands.

A group of non-commissioned officers from Vancouver Barracks will be the active pallbearers and will form an immediate escort. The official escort will be the 93d Company of the Coast Artillery Corps of the United States Army, Captain Charles T. Waldron commanding. Other military escorts will be the Eighty company of the Coast Artillery Corps and the Oregon National Guard, commanded by Frank W. Wright and Lieutenant Charles J. Dyer, respectively.

Various city and state officials will ride in carriages in the cortege and will attend the services at the church. George L. Baker, City Commissioner, has been designated to take charge of arrangements.

The order of service will be: "Funeral March" (Chopin); opening sentences, the Vespers, H. M. Ramsey, Rev. E. H. Simpson, Rev. O. W. Taylor and Rev. Thomas Jenkins.

One of the touching tributes to Lieutenant Adair will be paid today by Mrs. June McMillan Ordway, who was a childhood friend of Lieutenant Adair's mother, and whose son, the late Elmer R. Ordway, of the Second Oregon, was a schoolmate with Lieutenant Adair in the Second Oregon. Captain of B Company. The tree he planted is now in Mrs. Ordway's yard at 200 Crosby street.

Nothing else can so completely endear us to the present and the future as the expected arrival of a baby. But in the meantime, at a moment when the mother is of vast importance, there is a splendid external remedy known as "Mother's Friend" which exerts a wonderful influence upon the expanding muscles. They become more pliant, stretch without undue pain, make the period of pleasant anticipation instead of apprehension. In a series of splendid letters from all over the country mothers tell of the great help "Mother's Friend" was to them. Even grandmothers tell the wonderful story to their own daughters about to enter the state of motherhood. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" today of your nearest druggist. Homesteader Killed by Sheepherder Near Baker.

ASSAILANT GIVES SELF UP

B. Hopkins, 24, Says L. J. Eggers Attacked Him and That He Shot Only to Frighten Assailant, Not Meaning to Kill.

BAKER, Or., July 11.—(Special.)—After shooting down L. J. Eggers in a dispute over sheep which he was herding, Bert Hopkins left the body in care of a fellow herder, then gathered his sheepherder's outfit and went to Dupree, where he gave himself up this afternoon.

After telling his story the man nearly collapsed under a nervous breakdown. Hopkins is only 24 years old. He was herding sheep for Amos Boothier, and was near Eggers' homestead at 1 o'clock, when Eggers appeared and ordered him to move the sheep, although Hopkins declares the animals were on Government range.

He says Eggers seized him, but that he wrenched himself free and retreated toward the sheep, Eggers following, pelting him with rocks and cursing him without taking aim. Hopkins says he fired his rifle, intending only to cause Eggers to desist. As the crack of the gun sounded he was horrified to see Eggers stagger and topple to the ground. The bullet had entered his chest, supposedly piercing the heart. District Attorney Gowdin, Deputy Sheriff Nelson, Constable Jeffers and Coroner West went to Dupree and took Hopkins in charge, then went to the scene of the shooting, seven miles beyond, and held an inquest. Eggers was 35 years old, and is survived by a widow and three children.

GERMAN CROPS FAVORABLE

War Food Office Reports Outlook Better Than Year Ago.

BERLIN, via London, July 10.—The Berlin War Food Office, of which Adolph von Batocki is head, announced today that crop reports from various sections of the country were, for the most part, favorable.

It is said that if there is good harvest weather, an average harvest can certainly be expected. In the worst case, hay, clover, breadstuffs and fodder will be far better than last year's yields.

After the next few weeks, during which stocks on hand must still be resorted to, the Food office says that an important betterment in the whole food situation can be expected.

COURT RAPS COUNSEL

Justice McBride Declares Error of Judge McGillin Would Have Been Overlooked Had Not Pleadings Been Defective.

SALEM, Or., July 11.—(Special.)—The Supreme Court today, in an opinion written by Justice McBride, adhered to its former stand in the case of Louie R. White, administratrix of the estate of James R. White, against the East Side Mill & Lumber Company, appellant, and denied the plaintiff's petition for a rehearing.

In its original opinion, the court reversed the judgment of Circuit Judge McGillin on the ground that the plaintiff's pleadings were defective. In this case the plaintiff brought action for damages as a result of her husband, James R. White, a Portland policeman, having been run down and killed by an automobile truck.

Referring to the defective pleadings and its reasons for reversing the lower court, the Supreme Court in denying the petition for a rehearing said: "This is not a question of fanciful distinctions between the conjunctions 'and' and 'or,' nor is it a question of definition of adverbs 'negligently' and 'carelessly.' It is a question as to whether certain allegations of the complaint have been denied."
