

NORTHWEST UNITES TO WAR ON MALADY

Important Infantile Paralysis Meeting Will Be Held in Portland Saturday.

OREGON ACTS ACCEPTED

Washington Health Officers Follow Oregonians in Preliminary Measures to Prevent Introduction of Drend Disease.

Washington is leagued with Oregon in a defensive campaign against the introduction of infantile paralysis infection into either state.

The preventive measures adopted by the Oregon Board of Health Monday, constituting the first steps taken against the possible infection in the Northwest, were approved by the Washington Board of Health and adopted on Tuesday.

They considered our regulations in the order they were prescribed and adopted them, with but a few minor changes," said Dr. Robert, who gratified at the spontaneous acceptance of the preventive proposal.

Health Officers to Meet Here. Health representatives from five states and British Columbia will assemble in Portland Saturday to consider the further formulation and adoption of a joint quarantine measure for all the territory represented.

The following message of invitation to the infantile paralysis prevention conference was sent out by Dr. Robert, acting for the State Board of Health: "Can you meet with health officers of Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, California and British Columbia at Portland on July 15, to consider regulations to prevent invasion by infantile paralysis?"

In each instance the message was answered by a prompt acceptance on the part of the health officers to whom it was addressed. Dr. H. E. Young, Provincial Health Officer, of Victoria, will represent British Columbia at the conference. Dr. W. F. Covages, Health Officer, of Helena, will represent Montana; Dr. Wilbur A. Sawyer, State Health Officer, of San Francisco, will represent California; Dr. Ralph Falk, State Health Officer, of Boise, will represent Idaho, while members of the Washington Board of Health will also be present.

Dr. Robert telegraphed to Surgeon-General Rupert Blue, at Washington, D. C., and in response received a message announcing the appointment of Surgeon Major, of the Public Health Service, as Governmental representative to the conference.

Should the states represented in the conference, with British Columbia, agree upon a similar system of adequate inspection at the borders, it will obviate the necessity of establishing a quarantining and inspection quarters at every railway station within the state. Through a system of strict cooperative inspection at the borders of the territory included in the prospective agreement, it is thought that the danger of infantile paralysis infection will be minimized.

The Washington Board of Health also adopted the New York regulations against the spread of infantile paralysis in the event that it should be introduced into the former state. Briefly, these regulations provide for a strict quarantine of all cases; for compulsory notification of positive or suspected cases; for an eight-week quarantine of those infected; and for a one-week quarantine of all persons who have been exposed to infection.

BEAUTY DOCTOR TELLS SECRET

Detroit Beauty Doctor Gives Simple Recipe to Darken Gray Hair and Promote Its Growth.

Miss Alice Whitney, a well-known beauty doctor of Detroit, Mich., recently "gave out the following statement: "Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken gray hair, promote its growth and make it soft and glossy. To half a pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1/2 oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It is also fine to promote the growth of the hair, and relieve itching and dandruff."—Adv.

JOINT LEADERS OF CAMPAIGN NAMED

Republicans Have Nine and Progressives Five Members of Committee.

MOOSE ALL OF PORTLAND

Chairman Neuhausen Makes Selection to Even Representation, State Chairman McNary and Secretary Baldwin Included.

The names of the nine Republicans and five Progressives who will compose the joint campaign committee that is to handle the Hughes and Fairbanks campaign in Oregon were announced yesterday. The members of the committee are:

Walter L. Toose, Jr., of Dallas, Republican State Committeeman from Polk County; E. B. Hermann, of Roseburg, Republican State Committeeman from Douglas County; T. J. Mahoney, of Reppner, Republican State Committeeman from Morrow County; Thomas H. Tongue, of Hillsboro, Republican State Committeeman from Washington County; A. A. Bailey, of Albany, Republican State Committeeman from Multnomah County; Willard L. Marks, of Albany, Republican State Committeeman from Clackamas County; Marion Jack, of Pendleton, Republican State Committeeman from Tillamook County; and S. S. Smith, of Medford, Republican State Committeeman from Jackson County, are the nine Republican members.

Mr. Neuhausen Heads Moose. The five Progressives are Thomas B. Neuhausen, of Portland, chairman of the Progressive State Central Committee; A. E. Clark, of Portland; David L. Povey, of Portland; Frank H. Lewis, of Portland; and Arthur I. Moulton, also of Portland.

By resolution of the Republican State Central Committee, which suggested the appointment of a campaign committee of 14 members, five of whom should be Progressives, Judge Charles L. McNary, of Salem, and Edward D. Baldwin, secretary, are members ex-officio of this committee.

The committee made it mandatory that each Republican appointed should be a state committeeman.

All Progressives of Portland. The five Progressives were named by the executive committee of the Progressive State Central Committee. Chairman Neuhausen explained yesterday that the reason all five were named from Portland was that Portland and Multnomah County have one-third of the total vote of the state, and should have, consequently, a one-third representation on the campaign committee.

The nine Republican members, being state committeemen, come from as many different counties, so to equalize the proportionate representation all five Progressives were named from Portland.

It was announced that the new campaign committee will hold its first meeting Saturday, July 22, in Portland.

Young Auto Thieves Need "Old-Fashioned Licking."

Judge McGinn Severely Arraigns Sam Helman and Dave Milwood for Joy-Riding in Stolen Car.

What you need is a good old-fashioned licking like granddaddy used to give," declared Circuit Judge McGinn yesterday morning when Sam Helman and Dave Milwood appeared before him on a charge of having taken an automobile owned by Joseph Weber, 1337 Virginia street, and gone for a joyride, leaving the car at Fourteenth and Main streets.

The two boys were found guilty on a charge of larceny and will be sentenced Friday.

Milwood attempted to explain to the judge that they merely took the automobile for a little ride and did not really mean to steal it.

"Did you take the car back?" thundered the judge.

"No," he admitted.

Deputy District Attorney Pierce explained to the judge that the two boys had been guilty of several escapades of a similar character which were named on parole from Judge Gantenbein's court.

"You are two dirty loafers," said the judge. "You know that nobody wants to punish you. If any automobile owner wants to give you a good licking I shall have nothing to say."

STRIKERS PUT ON BOND

THOMAS KIELY'S THREAT TO "GET" JITNEUR IS HEARD BY DEPUTY.

Court and Prosecutor Clash When Intimidation Is Made That Authority Is Sometimes Dangerous.

Thomas Kiely, striking longshoreman, charged with threatening A. Wolfman, a jitneur driver, because the latter boasted strikebreakers to and from Almsworth dock, was required by Municipal Judge Langguth to give a $50 bond to keep the peace, after a trial yesterday.

The jitneur driver testified that Kiely had followed him to the Board of Trade building and while Special Deputy Sheriff Adams lurked inside the entrance, had threatened him.

"I'll get you yet for hauling coals," was Kiely's prophecy, according to the witness. Shortly afterward the striker threatened him again, Wolfman testified.

As Deputy Sheriff Adams approached Kiely to arrest him for the threat against Wolfman, he testified that the defendant snarled at him, "Keep away, or I'll knock your brains out!" The special Deputy Sheriff then enforced the arrest with his revolver, he said, and took Kiely to the police station.

Kiely denied that he had threatened Wolfman. His account of the arrest differed from that of the deputy.

"He jammed his gun into me and said, 'I'll put a hole through you so that your own mother won't know you,'" he says," testified the defendant.

A controversy was kindled when Judge Langguth, in reviewing the testimony, intimated that hastily bestowed authority and firearms were frequent sources of trouble.

"Just the other day you insulted an officer in this court," charged Deputy District Attorney Deitch.

"That will do, Mr. Deitch," responded Judge Langguth. "I'm running this court, and I propose to do it."
