CHINESE IS CONVICTED.—After an all-day trial that was hotly fought in the Federal Court, a jury Wednesday night convicted Louis Soik, known as Louie Soik, of receiving smoking opium. Soik is manager of the Woo Shing Company, of North Fourth street, which the Government charges is a gambling, opium and lottery resort. He will be sentenced Monday. His place was filled by a rival, who had been hiding place under a door sill from which they took a highblinder's revolver, cartridges and 24 playing cards containing opium. Louis made the unique defense that a Chinese highblinder from San Francisco, being hard pressed by a rival, had begged a hiding place for his weapons and must have hidden the opium there too. He had the Chinese carpenter who built the hiding place to testify to the same effect, but the jury saw it otherwise.

EX-CONVICT CAUGHT HERE. Frank Vite, Who Escaped From Seattle, Arrested by Officer Tusi. At liberty six months from the Federal immigration detention quarters at Seattle, Frank Vite, an ex-convict, convicted of house robbery and white slavery, was arrested on Wednesday by Patrolman P. Tusi. Vite, with Vinzel De Guillo, escaped from the detention quarters on January 24.

1800 TO GO ON PICNIC. Bonneville to Be Mecca for Excursions Saturday and Sunday. Two special trains will go to Bonneville next Saturday with the Metal Workers of Portland and their families. It is expected that fully 1800 persons will be in the party. The O. W. R. & N. Company is assembling extra equipment to handle them. The day will be passed in games, musical entertainment, dancing and other picnic diversions.

ODDFELLOWS ARE HONORED. Jewels Presented Past Grand Masters at Albany. ALBANY, Or., July 13.—(Special).—Henry S. Westbrook, grand master, and E. E. Sharon, grand secretary of the grand lodge of Oddfellows of Oregon, officially visited Albany Lodge today. The occasion was in honor of Past Grand Masters J. F. Stiles and J. K. Westford. The grand master after reviewing their records in Oddfellowship on behalf of 20,000 members in Oregon presented each with a past grand master's jewel from the grand lodge.

CITY CHARGES PROTESTED. Electrical Contractors Say Auditorium Plans Should Be Free. The Oregon Association of Electrical Contractors and Dealers filed a protest against the city having charged $6.95 to all concerns furnished with copies of the plan for the auditorium, for the wiring of the Public Auditorium. It declared that this is not a usual practice, and is unfair inasmuch as all the sets of plans and specifications were returned to the city.

BANNERS MAY BE REDUCED. Traffic Measure Would Require More Speed on Streets. A provision prohibiting the carrying of banners larger than three feet square or the propelling of advertising vehicles unless they move at least ten miles an hour is to be incorporated in the proposed traffic ordinance. The measure as drafted by Deputy City Attorney Myers probably will be introduced by Mayor Albee at today's Council meeting.

STREET EXTENSION UP TODAY. Whether or not the proposed extension of Stark street from Burnside street to Cornell road will be given any further consideration by the city will be decided today by the City Council. A month ago the Council set this day for a final settlement of the question. Two factions are at work on the proposition, one favoring the starting of proceedings and the other opposing such a course. The Council set the day for final hearing far enough ahead so that all persons interested could be notified.

OLD FIRM IS REORGANIZED. Winthrop Hammond Obtains Interest in Buffum & Pendleton. Winthrop Hammond, the purchaser of a large interest, has been elected vice-president, following a reorganization of the firm of Buffum & Pendleton. F. N. Pendleton retaining the presidency. In addition to the two chief officers J. M. Pendleton, the son of Hammond, a son of the vice-president, will serve as directors.

F. WOLF DIES AT 74. Portland Manufacturer Succumbs to Paralysis. NOTED WORK TO HIS CREDIT. Two Torpedo-Boats and Destroyer Built for Government—Water Pipe for City and Steel Cells for Penitentiary Are Made.

F. Wolf, well-known Portland manufacturer, died yesterday at his home, 687 Locust street, of paralysis. He had been unwell since last Saturday, having suffered six strokes in the last few weeks. He was 74 years of age. Mr. Wolf founded the first extensive iron works in the city, first specializing in boiler plate and iron pipe, later turning to shipbuilding. In the early 20s he built for the United States Government two torpedo-boats, the Fox and Davis, and a destroyer, the Goldborough.

MARITAL WRONGS RECITED. H. O. Sanden Alleges Variety of Reasons for Divorce. The fact that his wife contracted bills preceding her marriage, which he had to pay, is given by H. O. Sanden as one reason why he should be given a divorce in a complaint filed in the Circuit Court yesterday. The two were married November 19, 1911, in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

REPUBLICAN WAVE NOTED. Connecticut Man Says Hughes Will Sweep New York. OREGON CITY, Or., July 13.—(Special).—The East is going Republican in the fall and going Republican strong, believes George W. Randall, for 25 years postmaster at Rockville, Conn. Mr. and Mrs. Randall are visiting with his uncle, George Randall, of this city. Hughes will carry New York almost without a doubt, predicts Mr. Randall, who is a close observer of political affairs, and there is a general sentiment expressed in favor of the ex-Supreme Court Justice throughout the states of the Atlantic seaboard.
