

RAIDERS SWEEP IN ON THIRST PARLORS

Police in Two Squads Invade Places and Seize Liquor and Several Persons.

THREAT TO WRECK MADE

Prosecutor Declares Equipment May Be Destroyed if Violations of Dry Law Continue—Jail Makes Woman Hysterical.

Two squads of Portland police, acting at the same hour, descended on the demon rum in two different establishments yesterday at noon, making captives and confiscating the supply of liquor. Both places raided are said to have been doing a prosperous business over open bars.

City Detectives Moloney, Cahill, Hill, Hyde and Abbott, and Patrolman Sherwood, raided the Thirst-Parlor, Everett V. Parsley, at 22 North Tenth street. As the officers entered a woman and two men stood at the finely equipped bar, with whiskey in glasses before them. It is said:

In a basement room slumbered George B. Lane, obviously from the effects of too much liquor. He was hauled to the patrol wagon and charged with drunkenness. In addition to arresting Parsley, the officers took to the station three witnesses. They are Marie Moore, William Taub, of 3 1/2 North Sixth street, and Ike Crutch, of 942 East Caruthers street.

Woman Becomes Hysterical.

"Hard luck, eh?" queried Parsley. "Here I'm pinched, and me just working three days." In the women's quarters at the City Jail, Marie Moore became hysterical. As she was being questioned her speech suddenly deserted her. Her lips moved dumbly, and she signed for pencil and paper that she might tell her wishes to Matron Sampson. An hour elapsed before she partly regained her composure, when her speech returned to her.

At the same moment that the detectives entered the North Tenth street place, Police Lieutenant Harms, with Patrolmen Schum, Butler, Powell and Richards, walked into The Tunnel, ostensibly a soft-drink establishment, on 50 North Sixth street. They arrested L. B. Newman, who was in charge, and held James Garrick as a witness. The latter arrived from England only a week ago. He berated the officers for his arrest.

Equipment May Be Wrecked. From the Tenth-street raid, officers seized three quarts of whiskey, while the Sixth-street bar yielded an equal amount, together with a large quantity of empty bottles. Both places have been under the espionage of the police for some time.

Deputy District Attorney Delich, who was active in planning of the raids, declared yesterday that, if prohibition violations continue, the demolishing of all bar equipment may be considered necessary in future raids. Parsley pleaded guilty to a charge of violating the prohibition law last April. At that time he received a suspended sentence from Municipal Judge Langguth. Later he appeared as a witness for the state in the prosecution of the liquor case against Bennie Miles and Irvie Hutchinson.

PHEASANTS ARE FREED

STATE GAME COMMISSION SENDS 24 PAIRS TO BEND.

1500 More at State Farm Are Ready for Distribution—Willamette Valley Well Stocked.

The first 24 pairs of 3000 Chinese pheasants to be liberated in Oregon this season by the State Fish and Game Commission will go forward to Bend, Ore., where they will be set free. Carl Shoemaker, State Game Warden, and W. L. Finley, State Biologist, returned yesterday from the state farm, where they found the first 1500 birds ready to be sent out.

"The birds were never in better condition than they are this year," said Mr. Shoemaker. "The loss of the chicks at the state farm has been extremely low and the young pheasants are strong and lively."

The 1500 birds will be distributed at various points where it is desired to plant them for game purposes. The Willamette Valley will not get any new birds this season because of the fact that they are thought to be sufficiently plentiful throughout that section of the state already to afford good hunting for sportsmen.

Remaining at the state game farm are 1500 young pheasants, ranging from one day to two weeks old, that will be kept until they are old enough to be distributed.

CITY TO BUY SUPPLIES

Purchase of Feed, Gasoline and Fuel Oil to Be Authorized.

An ordinance, with an emergency clause attached, was prepared yesterday and will be considered at the next meeting of the City Council relative to the purchase of feed, gasoline, distillate and fuel oil for the city. Most of the contracts for furnishing feed, gasoline, distillate and fuel oil for the city expire about September 1. It is stated in the proposed ordinance that the contract shall cover a period not to exceed one year.

SCOUTS FORGING AHEAD

LUNCHEON OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE SHOWS ENTHUSIASM.

C. H. Davis, Jr., Is Elected Chairman of Governing Body of Local Branch of Boy Scouts.

That the support being tendered the Boy Scouts during the formation of their organization plans is of a substantial nature was demonstrated at a luncheon of the executive committee yesterday at the Hotel Benson. Undiminished enthusiasm for the scout movement was the distinguishing feature of the meeting and, according to National Field Scout Commissioner H. D. Cross, no group of men in the country has shown greater activity in forwarding the work of the scouts.

Plans for a systematized establishment are now in the hands of sub-committees, and the selection of headquarters and an executive secretary will be undertaken shortly.

The chairman of the executive committee for the first year will be C. H. Davis, Jr., who was elected at yesterday's meeting. The committee chosen for the selection of headquarters is composed of J. Fred Larsen, Edward Cookingham and Guy W. Talbot. The committee appointed to select an executive secretary is composed of C. H. Davis, Jr., W. W. Cotton, Guy W. Talbot, D. D. Anderson and Frank Kerr. It is expected that the work of these committees will be completed within a few days.

FERULLO COMING TO OAKS

Noted Band Leader Is Same Who Played Here at Fair in 1905.

Ferullo, who will open his concert engagement at the Oaks Sunday afternoon, is the same Signor Francesco Ferullo who was here at the fair in 1905. He is also the band leader who was among the popular ones at San Francisco last year.

Ferullo in 1905 was just finding a place in the highest circles of musical fame. He was very young. The Italian genius has since developed, and, though he won the crowds then, his popularity is more marked now.

Two special cars will arrive in Portland Saturday night with the band and all their accoutrements. Miss Victorine Hayes, a young singer, accompanies the band. She sings at every performance. The concerts will begin at the Oaks Sunday afternoon and will be given every afternoon and evening.

2 HELD TO GRAND JURY

M. Hunter and W. Smith Accused of Taking Automobile.

To discourage the almost nightly theft of automobiles by joy-riders and wayward youths, Municipal Judge Langguth at yesterday morning's session of court, held William Hunter, 21 years old, and William Smith, 15 years old, to the Grand Jury. Ball was fixed at $500 each. The young men, who are in the messenger service, were arrested early Tuesday morning by Patrolman A. L. Long, at Twentieth and Johnson streets. They had moved the car of H. M. Covey from in front of his residence at Twenty-first and Johnson streets, it was charged.

BOARD WILL RECEIVE BIDS

School Directors Meet Today to Consider Contracts for Supplies.

Bids for school supplies for the coming year will be received by the School Board at the regular meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Contracts for painting a number of school buildings will be presented for approval and there is a mass of other business to be transacted.

A number of school officials are absent from the city, although the Directors are here. School Superintendent Alderman is still in the East and will probably return the first of next week. School Clerk Thomas is at the home of his father in Marion County, having been called there by the serious illness of his father.
