COUNTY NOT TO BUY ROAD.—The County Commissioners, acting on the advice of Roadmaster Yeon, have refused to interest themselves in the purchase of a part of Hillside Drive. When Linnton was annexed to the city of Portland Hillside Drive became a city property. The city wished the county to take over a part of the road, but the Commissioners voted to do otherwise, saying that it was the policy of the county to get rid of, rather than acquire, possession of roads within the city limits.

According to the communication, Mr. Johnson thinks that the railread should bear the entire expense for the construction of the regrade as it is his opinion that the railread is the only organization or individual benefited.

His property will be materially damaged in the regrade, he says.

Information was given out by the department of public works that the antipathy of Mr. Johnson lay in his lack of knowledge as to the manner of the cost distribution. He was notified of the circumstances under which the regrades are being carried on and the manner of the distribution of the cost. He also did not understand, say officers of the department of public works, that damaged property was to be protected by the payment for those damages upon the assessment made by a committee from the Realty Board.

A Thrilling Lecture

Nearly all the nations of Europe are at war and have been for two years. The great destruction of human life and property cannot be fully comprehended. If the war should cease now the people of the warring nations would have to pay annually more than three times the amount of taxes formerly paid by them in order to meet the interest on the increased National debts. In addition to this thousands of the men that produce the wealth have been killed. Naturally one asks. What will follow this war? What is the real cause for the fighting, and what will be the re-sult? What the effect upon the United States?

These are serious and important questions to every one at this time. The answer is being sought by thousands of people everywhere. Next Sunday, July 30, at 8 o'clock in the evening, at Christenson's Hall, Judge Rutherford, of the New York City bar, will deliver a lecture in which it is promised that these questions will be thoroughly and satis-factorily answered. He will examine both the economic and prophetic evidences bearing upon them. His wide travel and experience in the various nations, and his deep investigations of the bible, make his lectures doubly interesting and instructive. He is highly commended by the public press both in America and Europe. We are pleased to announce that he is coming to this city. The admission to the lecture will be free. It is given in the interest of the people.
