

DEUTSCHLAND IS IN OPEN OCEAN

Dash Out of Capes Apparently Unobserved.

NO ALLIED WARSHIPS VISIBLE

Submarine and Tug Lost to Following Newspaper Boat in Storm in Bay.

SEA REACHED AFTER DUSK

Only One Foreign Cruiser Seen Off Virginia Shore and That Early in Day.

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 2.—The German submarine merchantman Deutschland passed quietly out of the Virginia capes at 8:30 o'clock tonight on her homeward voyage, apparently unobserved by the allied warship patrol waiting outside the three-mile limit. She was accompanied to the capes only by the tug Thomas F. Timmins, which had conveyed her down the bay from Baltimore, and by a newspaper dispatch boat.

No Allied Craft Visible. Her departure to sea followed an 18-mile dash through the lower Chesapeake Bay. After proceeding slowly most of the way down, she increased her power at 6:30 and reached the capes just after dusk. None of the allied cruisers was visible and she passed through. Whether she submerged before reaching the three-mile limit is not known. The two accompanying boats only know that she disappeared unharmed, and that to all appearances she had a clear field ahead to a point where she could completely submerge in safety.

Vessel Hides Before Dash. Half an hour after the last light of the Deutschland had disappeared, the Timmins, seemingly satisfied with her work, turned back and headed up Chesapeake Bay in the direction of Baltimore. During part of the day the Deutschland had remained hidden at a cove up Chesapeake Bay.

For several hours before the beginning of her final dash she lay in a secluded retreat near Tangier Island, about 50 miles above Cape Henry. The steamer Somerset and the Government buoy tender Ivy reported during the early afternoon that they had passed her at that point. The press boat then took a position near the dividing point of the Old Point and Cape Henry channels and awaited the coming of the under-sea vessel.

Press Boat Dogs Submarine. Shortly before 6 o'clock the first sight of the craft was obtained. Apparently she was about five miles away and was low in the water, only her conning tower showing. The Timmins was a short distance behind and they were traveling about seven miles an hour.

When near the entrance to Mobjack Bay the Deutschland sighted the press boat and immediately reversed herself and appeared to be making for the bay. After running for about two miles she again headed south until she was abreast the Timmins, and then both vessels put on full speed ahead toward the press boat. Suddenly they turned off as if to go down the Old Point channel, but when the dispatch boat made for the same channel they changed their course and headed for Cape Henry.

Dive Is Prepared For. As the Deutschland approached it was apparent she was carrying false superstructure, slightly lower than her conning tower. It was straw colored and blended with the oilskin coats worn by her crew, who crowded the deck. When about a mile from the press boat the submarine began to clear away the false superstructure and fake soundings, as if preparing to dive. Just as the superstructure was cleared the Timmins moved ahead of the under-sea liner and signalled that the boats intended to pass on the starboard side. Immediately both vessels increased their speed and put over to the starboard.

As the Timmins came alongside the press boat at a distance of perhaps 100 feet, and with the Deutschland

GIRLS WILL JOIN MILITARY CAMP

HONOR GUARD, KHAKI-CLAD, IS TO DRILL TWO WEEKS.

Chey Chase and Other Training Points Will Be Example Followed Here.

A summer camp modeled on semi-military lines will be instituted near Vancouver under the auspices of the Girls' National Honor Guard for the instruction of members in first-aid and military auxiliary service, according to plans put before a meeting held at Library Hall last night.

Following the example set at Chevy Chase and at other women's encampments, the members of the Honor Guard will devote two weeks to training themselves so they will be able to serve their country in time of need. Accommodations for 100 girls are being prepared, and instruction will be outlined under the supervision of Major-General Bell, U. S. A. The plan of the Honor Guard not only includes instruction in nursing, but also in social service work.

A number of the members at last night's meeting signified their readiness to attend the camp, which will be opened about the last week of August. Permanent officers elected by the guard last night were the same as those holding temporary positions since the founding of the branch here. They are: President, Helen Ladd; vice-president, Ruth Benton; secretary, Mary Brownlie; treasurer, Cornelia Cook.

Memberships in the Honor Guard are open to all young women "between the ages of 14 and 50 years, who have a knowledge of the working of their Government, and who recognize the needs of their country."

Seattle Dock Inspector, Evident Target, Escapes.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 2.—A bomb placed in the rear of the home of Joseph M. Mr. Jarvis, who has been working as a timber inspector supervising the loading of material for the United States Railroad in Alaska, said that he had had some trouble with some men on the waterfront, who complained that he had discriminated against them. He said he did not connect the explosion with the waterfront strike.

RAILROAD STRIKE SEEMS INEVITABLE

Congress Is Urged to Take Swift Action.

CRISIS CONCERNS PRESIDENT

National Chamber Thinks Arbitration Is Futile.

COUNT OF VOTE IS AWAITED

Mr. Wilson Sends Request for Inquiry to Secretary of Labor—Both Sides of Controversy Are Said to Be Adamant.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Officials of the Federal Government, including President Wilson, are closely watching developments in the controversy between 225 railway systems and their 400,000 employes, and are preparing to offer every possible aid in effecting an agreement and avoiding a strike. Today the President forwarded to the Labor Department an appeal he had received from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States declaring a strike inevitable "unless some strong measure of intervention are speedily introduced" and urging an inquiry. Acting Secretary of Labor Post said tonight he was in close touch with the situation, but had not decided whether action by the department would be necessary.

Canvass of Vote Awaited. The Federal Board of Mediation and Conciliation, which is authorized by law to attempt to avert strikes on railroads, also is keeping watch of developments, and its officials expect to be called on as soon as the strike vote, now being counted, has been completely canvassed. They said tonight that nothing could be done at present. Copies of the chamber's appeal to President Wilson were forwarded to chairmen of the Congressional commerce committees and the representatives of the railroads and the employes.

The chamber is considering a conference here to impress Congress with the advisability of immediate action. Amicable Settlement Remote. Harry Wheeler, chairman of the chamber's committee on railroads, said he had recently attended a meeting of representatives of the employers and employes in New York, and that as a result his conviction was deepened that an amicable settlement was remote. "I am assured," he added, "there will be no modification of the attitude of the roads. Neither is it expected that the representatives of the men, with the new powerful strike vote in their hands, will recede from the position which they have taken heretofore. The United States Board of Mediation and Conciliation may come into (Continued on Page 2, Column 2.)

"A number of airships crossed the coast of the eastern counties shortly after midnight. Their objective has not yet been definitely ascertained, as the raid is still proceeding. "Some bombs were dropped at various places."

Another official communication issued this morning said: "The raid appears to have been carried out by six or seven airships. A considerable number of bombs are reported to have been dropped at various places on the Eastern and South-eastern coasts, but no definite reports have been received. No military damage has been reported. "Many anti-aircraft guns were in action and at least one of the airships is reported to have been hit." A Zeppelin was seen early this morning traveling seaward, badly damaged, according to the Telegraph's correspondent, in a southeast coast town.

Election of officers and selection of the next convention city will demand the attention of the Knights of Pythias supreme lodge session today. This interesting detail of the biennial conclude has been made a special order of business for 10 o'clock this morning, and it is probable that the greater part of the day will be consumed with the task. All interest centers in the contest for the vice-grand chancellorship, for which there are eight aspirants and, until this election is disposed of, little actual business will be transacted. Late last night the chances favored the election of Charles S. Davis, of Denver, with William Ladew, of New York, as a close contender. Unless all signs fall one of these two men will be chosen.

The other active candidates for the place are: Fred J. G. McArthur, of Winnipeg, Man.; Robert F. Burns, of Oakland, Cal.; Edgar M. Harber, of Kansas City, Mo.; Richard S. WHEAT SOARS TO NEW TOP LEVELS

CROP DAMAGE REPORTS SEND PRICES UP 7-8 CENT.

News of Havoc Wrought by Rust in Canada, Dakotas and Minnesota Puts Market at $1.31 3-8.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Wheat prices leaped up 7 1/2 to 7 3/4 cents a bushel today, driven by reports of a disastrous widening of crop damage in Canada, the Dakotas and Minnesota. It was said by trade authorities that black rust havoc in Manitoba amounted to a calamity, that the pest had also acquired a dangerous foothold in Saskatchewan and that the injury from rust and heat in the fields south of the international border had gone beyond any precedent. According to estimates current today the total yield of wheat this season in North Dakota and in Minnesota will not be half as large as last year and will be 33,000,000 bushels short of the amount suggested by the United States Government report a month ago. Thousands of acres of beautiful looking fields were declared to be so badly smitten as not to be able to repay the expense of harvesting.

After continuous rounds of buying that included much for Europe, the market just before the end of the day touched $1.31 1/2 for September wheat against $1.24 1/2 to $1.24 3/4 at yesterday's close. Attempts at wholesale realizing of profits caused a wild finish, with September at $1.30 1/2, a net advance of 6 1/2 to 6 3/4 cents a bushel.

SHARK STARTLES NEWPORT

Bathers' Fears Dispelled When News Comes Fish Is Not Man-Eater.

NEWPORT, Or., Aug. 2.—(Special.)—Beach bathers were startled today when they heard of the capture of a shark at the Devil's Punchbowl, 10 miles north of Newport. Their fears were dispelled later, however, when it was learned that it was a sand shark and not one of the man-eating species. The shark was washed ashore while Carl D. Shoemaker, State Game Warden, was visiting the bowl. He killed it with the assistance of two men, and brought it to Newport, where it is now on display. Two years ago a man-eating shark, 25 feet long, was killed off Yaquina Bay by Captain L. Carner.

GERMANS ACCUSED OF PLANTING MINE

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Reuter's Telegram Company says it has been informed that there is no doubt whatever that the Dutch steamer Konigin Wilhelmina, which was sunk by a mine near the Northhinder Lightship last Monday, was sent to the bottom by a German mine, which had been deliberately anchored on the trade route by a German submarine.

SIR ROGER PAYS DEATH PENALTY

Irish Traitor Dead Within Nine Minutes.

LAST DAY PASSED CALMLY

Catholic Faith Embraced by Doomed Man After Passing of Sentence.

BRITISH DEFEND EXECUTION

Guilt Proved and Punishment Just, Is Position Taken by Government.

LONDON, Aug. 3 (9:15 A. M.)—Roger Casement was hanged in the Pentonville jail for high treason at 9 o'clock this morning. He was pronounced dead nine minutes afterward.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Sir Roger Casement will be executed in the Pentonville Prison at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning for high treason. Lord Robert Cecil, Minister of War Trade, today made known to the Associated Press that it was the British government's determination not to reprieve Sir Roger.

Late Petitions Received. While the government maintained silence as to the final efforts made on behalf of Sir Roger, it is known that petitions were received as late as today. The Foreign Office says no communication has been received from the State Department at Washington requesting a reprieve. The whole subject surrounding Sir Roger's case has been seriously considered by the Cabinet and the determination to let the law take its course proved unalterable. The decision of the government will cause some surprise, as the opinion had become widespread that the sentence of Sir Roger would be commuted at the last moment to life imprisonment. In explanation of the government's refusal to reprieve Sir Roger, Lord Robert Cecil, Minister of War Trade, and Minister of Foreign Affairs and Minister of War Trade, gave the Associated Press the following:

"No doubt of Casement's guilt exists. No one doubts that the court and jury arrived at the right verdict. The only ground for a reprieve would be political expediency, a difficult ground to put forward in that this country never could strain the law to punish a man for the same reason that it could not strain the law to let one off. "The Irish rebellion began with the murder of unarmed people, both soldiers and police. No grievance justified it, and it was purely a political movement organized by a small section of Irish people who still hate England, and was assisted by Germany. "There was and is in this country the greatest possible indignation against these people. There is no doubt that Casement did everything possible to assist this rebellion in cooperation with the Germans. There can be no doubt that he was moved by enmity for this country. "The contention that he landed in Ireland for the purpose of preventing the rebellion is demonstrably false. No such assertion was made by counsel at the trial. "Casement was more malignant and hostile to this country than were the leaders of the rising who were caught with arms in their hands. He visited military prisons in Germany with the intention of persuading Irish soldiers to throw off the allegiance. All sorts of promises were made for the improvement of the conditions of these men to join the Irish Legion. An enormous majority thus approached, roused and thereafter were subjected to increased hardships by the Germans."

No Ground for Clemency Found. "From among these Irish soldiers a number have since been repatriated as hopeless invalids and they subsequently died. They looked upon Casement as their murderer. "Nor is there any ground, public or private, so far as we know, which can be quoted in mitigation of Casement's crime, and I do not think any government doing its duty could interfere with the sentence which had been passed on him."

Casement, according to his solicitor, Gavin Duffey, who sees the condemned man frequently, remains unconcerned. He no longer looks dejected or depressed, and betrays no emotion as the hour for his execution approaches. Mr. Duffey was responsible for the statement that the condemned man has embraced the Catholic religion since the passing of the death sentence, having received instructions and daily ministrations from a priest visiting his cell. Mr. Duffey declared also that the prisoner had been seen and bade farewell to his nearest relatives, who called and spent some time with him at the jail. The doomed man is reported as unusually cheerful, bearing himself as one unconcerned.
