WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 .- After a conference between President Wilson and Judge William Chambers, commissioner BROKER HAS GOOD RESULTS. of the United States board of mediation and conciliation, it was indicated today that the Federal Government would take no formal action to avert the threatened strike of 400,000 employes on 225 railroad systems of the country until representatives of the managers and workmen had conferred next week in a final effort to reach an agree-and workmen had conferred next week in a final effort to reach an agreement.

Any immediate action by Congress was precluded when the Senate commerce committee tabled a resolution by Chairman Newlands providing for an Interstate Commerce Commission investigation of the hours of labor on railroad managers and employes to postpone consideration of their differences until the investigation was completed. Favorable action on the resolution had been urged by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and opposed by representatives of the railroad employes.

President Wilson was told by Judge Chambers that the mediation and conciliation board believed there was still possibility of avoiding a strike through the conferences between the employers and carry a potential power with a large clientele.

possibility of avoiding a strike through large clientele conferences between the employers and workmen or through intervention by the board. It is believed the President will wait until every other means of settlement has been tried before intervening himself. Should all other efforts fail, it is understood he will make a personal appeal to the railroad managers and employes.

The situation is expected by officials to come to a crisis early next week, through conferences between the employers and be callested.

BRIEF FAMINE FORECAST

Railroad Officials Believe Walkout Will Be Averted, but Employes Say Granting of Demands Is Only Chance.

Although the people of Portland may have their daily bill-of-fare greatly curtailed in the event of a protracted strike which ties up all railroad traffic next week, nobody will starve to death. This is the consensus of opinion of men engaged in the meat and provision trade in the city.

It was said yesterday that the meat supply now lying in cold storage is sufficient to last about three days. The native fruit, melon, milk and vegetable about sufficient to last 14 hours, while eggs would not last much longer.

"While a strike tying up the railroads will cause a great deal of inconvenience in the meat trade," said George L. Parker, a First-street dealer, "there would be no actual suffering. If necessary, people could become vegetarians for a while and benefit by it. With railroad shipping facilities cut off, we could soon get cattle, hogs and sheep here by driving them in from the country direct to Portland or to river points and bringing them here by boat.

"During the big railroad strike 'n 1894 we supplied this city, Tacoma and Seattle in that manner."

Famine Would Be Brief. "The meat supply in the city would last about three days after the railpelled to curtail the consumption of flesh food or go without for a few days, but after that we could get a plentiful supply of stock into the city in various ways without using steam cars."

"While the vegetable and fruit supply on hand would be exhausted in a day or two, if the railroads are tied up," said A. E. Burnett, of the commission firm of Burnett & Son, "the market would soon be at least partly replenished by the use of boats, autos and wagons. and wagons.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE SUPERVISOR IS ASSIGNED TO POLYTECHNIC.

Mrs. Alevia Alexander Will Be Placed in Another Position in One of Portland's Schools.

Lillian Tingle, for several years supervisor of domestic science in the Portland schools, was transferred at the last meeting of the School Board to the head of the girls' department at Benson Polytechnic School. Mrs. Alevia Alexander, who was in this position last year, will receive another place in the schools here.

Members of the School Board seemed uncertain about the sum to be paid Miss Tingle in the new position.

The question of placing Miss Tingle in the new position was settled after some controversy between members of the School Board attention of Miss Tingle, although Superintendent of Schools Alderman had made the recommendation that she be placed in the new position.

A vote on the matter would lose the effects of it is would be too severs to permit of such as calamity. Around Portland, and, in Macter all through Coregon and Washington, farmers would lose thousands and thousands of dollars through the losses of perishable stuff, even though a tie-up of short duration occurs. Business men engaged in the foodstuff trade do not think for a moment that such a disaster as a long strike will occur, and for that reason no provisions have been stored here to mest such an emerscent, and the losses of the schools here.

You love to think of your old home and the boyhood days, don't you? How about your children?

Are they growing up in a place they can call their home?

It isn't a pleasant realization to know that when the children have grown into manhood and womanhood they cannot look back on one spot which will be dearer to them than all others. Will their recollections of home be broken by vague memories of two or three rented houses and several apartments? In this day when property and homes can be purchased with moderate cash payments and small monthly installments not known to our parents, there is no reason left for procrastination.

Perhaps if homes were harder to buy people would be more anxious to own them.

Buy your own home now-buy it from any firm or individual where you can secure the best proposition-but by all means buy it. If you can obtain greater advantages than we can offer you it is to your credit. We shall be very glad to explain what we have to offer and show you any of our various properties in which you may be interested. The house pictured is designed by Folger Johnson and suggested for Lot 8, Block 31, Eastmoreland.
