7:15 P. M. sharp—Pantages The-ater, Broadway and Alder streets, 9 P. M. sharp—Strand Theater, Park and Stark streets.

Thursday, 7:80 A. M. to 6 P. M.—Visitors' registration at headquarters, fifth floor Oregon building.

12 M.—Luncheon extended by Albers Bros.' Milling Company at Front and Broadway. Visitors front and Breadway. Visitors take automobiles at 12 M. from Portland Chamber of Commerce, Oregon building. 7:15 P. M.—Take cars at Second and Washington streets for Co-lumbia Beach follification, Dan-cing, concessions and other amusements.

Yesterday was only the second day of Buyers' week, but the registration of out-of-town buyers was past the 500 mark early in the afternoon, and when the last bulletin was issued last night was near the total of the attendance for the entire week a year are.

Inight was near the total of the attendance for the entire week a year ago.

Last year the registration for the whole week was 529. Last night the total registration was more than 550. Visiting buyers are expected to continue to come in in almost as large numbers today as they have on the two preceding days, and it is evident that all previous records of attendance will be broken. Thus far the registration cach day has been nearly double that of the corresponding day a year before.

Excursion Brings Results.

The visiting buyers are putting in their days in a very business-like manner, and reports of big sales are already being made. One furniture order placed yesterday was more than 44000, and business in all other lines was making encouraging reports.

The fruits of the recent business men's excursion in the North Yakima country are showing in the registration of merchants from the cities that were visited by the Portland crowd at that time. Those registered yesterday from the Yakima Valley were: R. Sorenson, Toppenish, and R. P. Haney, T. W. Parke and J. J. Foreman, Sunny-side. The visitors indicate that there will be still more coming from that locality.

Marshfield has sent A. T. Haines, E. E. Sweeny, C. E. Sweeny and Oscar Gulovson, and there are several others from the Goos. Bay country who are whooping 'er up' for a big attendance from Portland at the railway Jublies Montana and California have sent representatives, and there is announce.

August 24-29.

Montana and California have sent representatives, and there is announcement that others are coming today and tomorrow from those states.

He will devote his time at the Ad Chib meeting tomorrow to stirring up the Portland business men to take the expension on August 24.

"You say that you have a trainion already pledged," he said. "Well, I hope to take the control of the control

STREAM OF BUYERS ARRIVING

Portland Hosts Gratified at Number of Visitors in Town. All of the states of the Pacific Coast Furniture Dealers to Be Guests Con-and the Northwest were represented in the registration of Buyers who came in yesterday to attend Buyers' Week under the auspices of the Jobbers and Manufacturers of Potrland. The number of towns listed in the registry yesterday indicates a steady expansion in the terifitory which is reached by the Portland houses and the committee expresses extreme gratification over the unusually large showing for the first two days of the Buyers' Week.

H. H. Haynes Declares Portlanders Get More for Their Money Now

ret, however, no rise in prices is an-nounced. Upon the return to Portland of many bakers now in attendance at the bakers' convention in Salt Lake the bakers' convention in Sait Lake CKy it is expected the question of a change in loaf sizes will be discussed. What action will be taken is as yet a problem, although bakers assert that unless wheat prices drop higher prices for bread are a foregone conclusion.

H. H. Haynes, president of the Oregon State Master Bakers' Association, said yesterday the matter of an increased price for bread is a question that will depend upon individual action by the bakers and that it is not an association concern.

far as the size and prices of bread loaves are concerned," he sal "competition alone will regulate that. "Competition alone will regulate that.

"The rise in the price of wheat here during the past two weeks came as a complete surprise to Oregon bakers.
The trade had not anticipated such a thing. It is perfectly plain that if the present prices of wheat are maintained bakers will be compelled to make a change in the size of the loaf and this probably will be a large 10-cent loaf in-
