IRISH FUND IS STARTED

DESERVING FAMILIES URGENTLY IN NEED OF ASSISTANCE.

Many Sympathetic Portlanders Already Have Contributed to Relief of Emerald Isle.

Attention of Portland people is being called to the Irish relief fund, which is being collected by the Ancient Order of Hibernians in answer to the cry of distress that has come from the Emerald Isle. Conditions arising since the war have imposed unusual hardships, and the appeal for help has only been sounded after the last struggle for subsistence had proved unproductive.

Many Portlanders have made generous contributions to the fund, and the committee reports that every addition will assist some deserving family.

Subscriptions are being sent to D. W. Lane, treasurer, 473 Williams avenue. Those who have contributed are:

JURISTS TRADE CHAMBERS

Circuit Judge Gantenbein and County Judge Cleeton in Deal.

For many, many moons Circuit Judge Gantenbein has cast a covetous eye upon the light and airy courtroom of County Judge Cleeton, on the second floor of the Courthouse, near the County Clerk's office. And Judge Cleeton has looked with favor upon the courtroom of Judge Gantenbein, on the fifth floor of the Courthouse, for its proximity to the Juvenile Court quarters, for Judge Cleeton is also Juvenile Judge. But neither knew the other's wishes.

Recently they discovered that it would not be asking a favor of each other to make the change. Consequently the switching of Department No. 6 of the Circuit Court to the second floor of the Courthouse and the northeast corner is scheduled for September 1, while the Juvenile and County Court will hold forth on the fifth floor, at the northwest corner of the Courthouse.

SENTENCE IS SUSPENDED

George Moyer, Charged With Theft, Receives Court's Leniency.

Because of the circumstantial strength of the case against George Moyer, proprietor of a barber shop on Alder street near Tenth, Deputy District Attorney Deich yesterday urged the defendant to plead guilty in Municipal Court to the charge of theft from Wallace McTarnahan, a patron of the shop. Mr. Moyer complied, although privately asserting his innocence.

"It is possible that the job could have been 'put up' on him," said Mr. Deich, directing the attention of the court to the fact that Moyer possessed trade enemies. The court imposed a suspended sentence, and a private settlement was made between complainant and defendant.

EARL HANSEN IS MISSING

Boy Reported Injured Not Found at Hospital.

Mrs. C. H. Hanson, 4707 Forty-ninth street southeast, was informed by telephone last Friday that her son Earl, 18 years old, had been injured, but has been unable to locate him and has appealed to the police for help.

Her son went out Friday in search of work on the docks. She has not seen him since, although she thought she recognized his voice over the telephone. She was informed that the lad was on his way to St. Vincent's hospital.

Mrs. Hansen hastened to the hospital, but there was no record of the patient. She has visited the other hospitals with like results.

BLAME IS GIVEN CITY

Inspectors Too Many, Police Too Few, Says J. P. Jaeger.

SYSTEM WRECKS BUILDING

Free Tenant Moves When Front Entrance Is Removed—Vandals, Unhindered by Authorities, Bring Flat to Ruin.

J. P. Jaeger believes that the city of Portland is suffering from over-inspection and under-protection. The reason why Mr. Jaeger entertains such a thought is because he has had actual experiences that have enabled him so to judge.

Mr. Jaeger is joint owner of a store and flat building at the corner of Ainsworth and Union avenues. Three years ago the building was occupied. It was new then, and now it is a wreck. It is a wreck, Mr. Jaeger says, because there are not enough police officers in the city to give certain districts proper protection. He is offering the place free of rent to anyone who will repair it and protect it.

When business became dull and Mr. Jaeger's tenants left a street improvement was made. Cement sidewalks were put in in front of the store. Inspectors hired by the Department of Public Works removed a stairway leading from the street to the building because it jutted onto the sidewalk not more than six inches. Mr. Jaeger applied to the Commissioner of Public Works for relief, saying that the removal of the stairway made access to the upstairs of the building impossible from the front.

Chief and Mayor Appealed To.

In the meantime, Mr. Jaeger had allowed a man to use the upstairs in which to live just to take care of the building. When the Commissioner of Public Works said it would not be possible for the stair to remain, Mr. Jaeger's tenant moved out because he could not get to the street except through the mud.

Now the building is a meeting place of what is known as the O. M. K. gang, and in it are held the rough initiations. Holes have been cut in the stairs, wall and ceiling, windows have been broken out and barricades have been put up repeatedly by Mr. Jaeger only to be removed again by the vandals.

Mr. Jaeger says that a system that will not allow sufficient police protection against such conditions is wrong. He has appealed to Mayor Albee and Chief of Police Clark. He has been told that the city cannot afford to have additional men.

Long Beat Held Inefficient.

The policeman who tries to watch property in that part of the city has a beat to cover that extends from Stanton street to the city limits, which is beyond the Columbia boulevard. Mr. Jaeger says it is impossible for a man to cover that amount of territory and give efficient service.

Mr. Jaeger says he has received visits from fire inspectors, who tell him to remove the paper from the building—paper that the vandals have placed there. He says that inspectors from the Health Department and Department of Public Works have called on him repeatedly. But he declares no matter how much work he does nor how many times he barricades the windows and doors it is useless under the present inadequacy of police protection.

BILL MAY DELAY VIADUCT

MEASURE IN CONGRESS LIKELY TO HALT CROSSING.

City Officials Frown Upon Proposed Legislation Now Pending at Washington.

In a bill now pending before Congress serious interference with the proposed elimination of the O.-W. R. & N. Company grade crossings in Sullivan's Gulch on the East Side is seen. The danger was called to the attention of the City Council yesterday and the Council authorized Commissioner Dieck to urge the Oregon Congressional delegation to head off the measure.

The bill as proposed in Congress would increase the clearance of tunnels and bridges, both overhead and on the sides, to such an extent that the plans as made for the overhead viaducts in the O.-W. R. & N. project would have to be remade. Also the increased clearance would necessitate increased size of steel beams and would increase the cost of the project about $150,000.

Commissioner Dieck says if the bill is passed the city will have to throw away its plans for the grade project and start all over again, a move which means several years' delay in the project.

RECRUITS TO MOVE OFTEN

Detachments of 48 Each Will Be Sent to Oregon Regiment.

Recruits from Camp Withycombe, instead of waiting for the accumulation of large detachments before being sent to the border henceforth will proceed as soon as the number of 48 is reached.

The party of 161 recruits that left Camp Withycombe Tuesday will be the last large force to leave for the south, and from this time men will be able to see service in the large concentration camps along the border in less than two weeks after enlisting.

Instead of traveling in special trains, the detachment of 48 will be cared for in single cars which will be attached to the regular trains of the Southern Pacific.

Camp Withycombe will be kept open until the full 600 recruits desired have been received. This may require the maintenance of headquarters at Clackamas all Winter.

EXTENSION IS SOUGHT

Opening of Benton Street Again Before City Council.

For the fifth time in as many years the question of extending Benton street a short distance through McMillan's Addition is an issue before the City Council. A remonstrance against the extension was filed yesterday and referred to Commissioner Dieck.

Proceedings for the extension were started recently, it being the understanding that opposition had vanished. Yesterday was the final date for remonstrance and a remonstrance petition was filed. It will be checked over by Commissioner Dieck.

HILL ACADEMY IS SUED

Land Office Register Seeks Damages for Fall on Walk.

N. Campbell, Register of the United States Land Office, yesterday filed suit for $5000 against the Hill Military Academy because of injuries due to a fall on the icy pavement outside the academy building last January.

Mr. Campbell was passing the academy January 10, 1916, and the sidewalk had not been cleaned, contrary to city ordinance, nor had proper drainage been provided, which accounted for ice formation, he charges. In his fall his right shoulder was dislocated and minor injuries and bruises were sustained.

The buildings bill thus far provides for sites and buildings for Oregon City and Hood River, Or., site at Corvallis, Or., and a building at St. Johns, near Portland.
