Portland Boxing Notes

FRANK KENDALL has been offered the date of September 13 for a bout at Baker, Or., during the fair there, which opens on that date. Joe Bonds,

Frank N. Hanlin arrived in Portland yesterday. He signed Muff Bronson and Frankie Sullivan to box 10 rounds Labor day, September 4, at Astoria, for myself, I want the world to know which is during the Regatta, He is figuring on getting "Toughy" Wing and Alex Trambitas to box a six-round semiwindup. Although Bronson had several offers for the Labor day date from Astoria's Jimmy Coffroth. Mr. Hanlin will leave for home tomorrow.

hits.

Muff Bronson boxed the last three rounds of his bout with Joe Benjamin at the Rose City Club Tuesday night with a dislocated thumb. He did welf to win as far as he did over the Spokane lad, considering conditions. If "Young Jack" Johnson's head was pointed in front he would look for all the world like Young Peter Jackson. $ 21 The New Orleans lad's dome is pointed in back. He deserved the decision rendered him over "Farmer" Burns.

Billy Nelson was a pretty fired indi-vidual at the end of his tilt with Jack Allen. He received the draw decision with pleasure. "Toughy" Wing should have really finished a little fellow like Sammy Gordon and it discredits the Al-bina boy to allow the little Hebrew to get a draw with him.

Muff Bronson and Joe Flanigan left last night for Marshfield, Or., where the local schoolboy will clash with Billy Nelson over the 10-round route August 25. Nelson plans on leaving McGinnity's Charge of Tampering With Player Denied.

Williams Resents Suspicion That He Induced Frank Guigni to Strike Out With Bases Full Before Being Transferred.

After Infielder Frank Giugni, former SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 16.—Reuther held Tacoma to three hits today and spokane won, 5 to 1. Score:

Sait Lake pastimer, was signed by Spokane in the Northwestern League after having played with Butte for a short while, Manager Joe McGinnity, of the Butte Club, charged Nick Williams, former leader of the Portland Colts and now at the helm of the Spokane Indians, with tampering with Giugni before a game between Butte and Spo-in existence. By making such a charge not only does McGinnity cast a black eye upon the game by which he is making his bread and butter, thereby cutting his own throat, but he also cast a personal insult upon Frank Giugni, myself and also upon the Spokane baseball public, who pay their money to see ball games played on the square.

Charge Is Resented. "If the argument that when a man strikes out he has been tampered with strikes out he has been tampered with by the opposing manager would be al-lowed to stand, I certainly must have been a very busy man the night of August 4. Perhaps with Outfielder Johnson, who struck out five times on the following day: possibly, also, with Mr. McGinnity, who, if I remember cor-rectly, injected himself into the fray in the ninth inning and took three very slokly swings at Dutch Reuther's of-ferings, then retired to wash out his throat. There must have been some throat. There must have been some overtime on that night for me to induce 15 strikeouts for the following day. If I ever thought that I could produce such results with my tongue I would certainly leave the baseball business and enter the field of politics.

"The facts are as follows: Upon learning that the Butte club could not use Giugni, I telegraphed the Salt Lake club asking whether I could have him in the event Butte could be asking whether I could be a second or the could be asking the could be askingtoners. have him in the event Butte could not use him. I got an immediate reply from the Salt Lake club that McGlunity would turn him over to me.

Promise Is Told of. "I thereupon asked Secretary Red-path of the Butte club, just before the Saturday game, whether Butte desired to keep Glugni, and if not, when I could have him. Secretary Redpath then told me that Butte had telegraphed the Salt Lake club two days previous that Butte could not use Giugni and asking what disposition to make of him and that they had received an answer advising them to turn Guigni over to Spokane.

"He also informed me plainly that I ould have Glugni after that game. The next day Redpath denied absolutely ever having told me that I could have Glugni after Saturday's game. I should have been surprised. However, as I have been surprised. have said before, which opens on that date. Joe Bonds, of Tacoma, is to be his opponent in a 10-round tilt. The Baker Commercial Club has offered its assistance. J. Jennings is the promoter. Kendall will decide whether or not he will accept the offer after his bout at the Rose City Athletic Club next Tuesday night with Willie Meehan, of San Francisco.

Think coming. The pity of it all is that there may be a few fans in Butte who believe him, but at that there will probably be only a few, because he can't pull the wool over everybody's eyes with his 'coarse line of stuff.' All the rest of the league who know him and his tactics are laughing at him. "Also, if I had been tampering with Giugni and felt reasonably sure that he would strike out in a pinch, why was it that I instructed Pitcher Rube Evans."
