BY ROSCOE FAWCETT. Reinforced by a new thirdsacker. Schultz, of Pittsburg, the Los Angeles club receipted for a severe licking at the hands of Portland yesterday in the opening game of the 10-game series. Score, 9 to 2.

"Husk" Chance should have led Standridge and Scoggins up to the home plate sometime before 3 P. M. and given them a formal introduction, These two eminent hurlsmiths were as wild and wooly as any Polynesian sideshow exhibit ever shown under a tent. Standridge walked seven men, hit another and allowed a flock of hits in hest than six innings. Scoggins was thereupon sicked at the Beavers and he was not much of an improvement. The Mackmen scored more than half of their total off the southpaw, and, save for a couple of circus catches by Rube Ellis in left, two or three more this would have trokled over the would have trickled over the Word Stars at Short. Chuck Ward at short for Portland was the other fielding star of the day. Chuck skirmished over beyond second base and cheated Boles out of a hit in the fifth.

It was the first game for the Beavers with Ivan Howard on first base and the combination seemed to work with-out serious stripping of gears. Louis out serious stripping of gears. Louis Guisto watched the engagement from a box in the grandstand.

Bases Filled Twice.

Standridge's wildness filled the base twice in the first four innings, but o twice in the first four innings, but on neither occasion was Portland able to penetrate the last line of trenches.

With the score 0-0, however, in the fifth the Beavers opened up with the big guns and bombarded "Caigary Pete" for four hits, good for three runs. Wille and Howard singled, Rodgers doubled down the first-base line, scoring Wille. Wolter's throw to second was low and Howard scored. Williams sent Rodgers home with a
