Special Home-Coming Services.—Special home-coming services were held yesterday in the Rose City Park Methodist Church, now that the pastor Rev. W. W. Youngson, and the members are back from their vacations. While Rev. Youngson was in the East the congregation surprised him by purchasing a beautiful communion service set, which they presented to him on his return, and yesterday morning this communion set was dedicated by the beautiful sacramental service. The services last night were specially attractive. Dr. Youngson spoke on the subject, "Great Paintings as Life Teachers," and the music of the evening was appropriate to this service. The choir of 35 girls marched in vestments in processional. It was a unique service. SPECIAL HOME-COMING SERVICES.—Spe
