

THIRD OREGON HAS TRIUMPHAL MARCH

Hearty Welcome Home Gives Soldiers, Whose Splendid Bearing Draws Praise.

CIVIC CEREMONY HELD

Parade of Returned Guardsmen Is Made Occasion of Auditorium Cornerstone Laying--Picnic Is Held at Camp.

A soldier's life is a succession of interrupted hardships and glories. For the last few months the Third Oregon has experienced some of the minor hardships down on the Mexican border.

Yesterday it had thrust upon it a portion of the glory that is its due in consequence of its border service. The people of Oregon provided ample demonstration that they appreciate the Third Oregon and the honor that it has brought to the state.

They turned out by the thousands to bid the regiment a joyous and cheery welcome as it paraded the streets, and then added a more substantial manifestation of their good will by giving them a picnic dinner and entertainment at Camp Withycombe.

As an incident of the celebration the city of Portland laid the cornerstone for its new auditorium. The presence of the soldiers provided a becoming military setting for the event.

The state's tribute to the men was a spontaneous demonstration, and all the more cordial because of that. A more elaborate ceremony was originally contemplated, but when the War Department a few days ago ordered that the regiment be immediately mustered out of the Federal service quick action was demanded.

Civic Bodies Co-operate. Various civic organizations in Portland co-operating with similar bodies in other parts of the state, promptly arranged to show the boys that Oregon is proud of them.

The cornerstone exercises had been scheduled several weeks in advance, and the city had made up its mind to take a half day off on that account anyway, so the two events happily were combined. But the cornerstone proceedings were plainly and deliberately made secondary to the main event.

Soldiers may be immediately mustered out of the Federal service quick action was demanded. The people's admiring plaudits with such good grace.

From the Armory, where the procession started, over a long and circuitous route to the Auditorium site, where it ended, the men passed through lines of applauding men, women and children.

The procession was made impressive by the absence of military element alone. With surprising bad taste two or three advertising floats tried to join in, but were turned out of line by the police at the end of the first block.

Hundreds of children were given a recess from the West Side school, and lined the blocks near the Armory, waving small flags in salutation to the troops.

Colonel McLaughlin Leads. Colonel Cleland McLaughlin, commander of the regiment, and his staff, mounted, were at the head of the column. Then came the band and the 12 companies, every man in full marching platoon fronts, extending from curb to curb.

As the parade proceeded the band held their line as straight as the proverbial string. This trick, to the civilian at least, is the supreme test of a well-trained band.

The men themselves were the very picture of health, glowing under heavy coats of tan which they wore with well-dressed and of graceful and buoyant step.

Conspicuous among the uniformed men was an assortment of mules, all of which seemed to enjoy their surroundings. The Mexican goat of Company M came, for much attention.

The Machine Gun Company, the Hospital Company and the Supply Company, with their complete paraphernalia and equipment, were conspicuous. The machine guns, mounted on small motor trucks, black, shining and sinister, were the objects of much curiosity.

Mules Cause Laughter. The combat wagons of the Supply Company were drawn by mules reared on the border. Their main source, however, always causes people to laugh, and as this was the last unit in line, it provided a little comedy as a "chaser" for the more somber divisions.

The streets along the line of march were well decorated. Flags were hung from many windows, and at irregular intervals massive red, white, and blue banners were suspended across the street. Every big building in the business district floated the Stars and Stripes at full mast. The city presented a real holiday appearance.

Portland civilians have yet to learn a detail of military etiquette, to remove their hats when the regimental colors go past. Military men along the lines noted, regretfully, yesterday that only a few men, unconsciously, of course, observed this rule.

When the procession reached the Auditorium site, the troops who had come in from Camp Withycombe by special train, marched to the depot where they were met by their families and returned to camp for the further enjoyment of civilian hospitality.

THIRD HOLDS FEAST

Returned Soldiers Partake of Portland's Hospitality.

MEN APPRECIATE EVENT

Camp Withycombe Presents Jolly Aspect During Big Dinner for Men Following Parade in Streets of City.

Delicacies such as seldom find their way into a soldier's mess featured the "feed" given to the members of the Third Oregon last night, following the strenuous day in Portland.

Goodies Brought by Wagon Load. An entire express car was required to carry the food for the feast from Portland yesterday. Wagon loads of watermelons, grapes, peaches, olives, ice cream, cake and pie were dispensed with a royal hand among the soldiers.

It was a jolly group which participated in the "feed." Each company with its friends and visitors gathered at its own mess tent and laughter, jesting and songs testified to the wholesome good nature prevailing.

Major and Mrs. Albee and Commissioner and Mrs. George L. Baker were among the many visitors at the camp during the night. A warm welcome was accorded them at the various company headquarters and they were cheered by many of the more enthusiastic.

At the headquarters of Company M, Salem, Mayor Albee was prevailed upon to make a brief speech. The Mayor told of the warm place which he had in his heart for the boys back from the border and emphasized the appreciation which was held by the people of Portland and of the state for their act in going to the front at the call.

Major Expresses Appreciation. "I may never have any way of showing my appreciation for what you have done for me, I may never meet you again but I will always have a warm place in my heart for you."

Closing he said: "If at any time you cannot find room to get rid of your surplus energy or rough-house just come out to my house, 1945 East Ankeny. The doors are always open."

Colonel McLaughlin, commander of the regiment, expressed hearty appreciation last night for the hospitality of the City of Portland as evidenced in the feast.

"I wish to thank on behalf of the regiment," he said, "Commissioner Baker and the people of Portland for the hearty reception and splendid hospitality."

Major William S. Gilbert, chaplain of the regiment, also expressed his thanks.

"The people of Portland gave us a great treat," he said. "The feast struck the spot with every company."

COURT HALTS HEARING

DEFENDANT IN DAMAGE SUIT DECLARED VICTIM.

Judge McGinn Says He Has Heard Enough Testimony in Case of Lessee Against Landlord.

"This woman has not been defrauded; if anyone has it is the defendant," declared Circuit Judge McGinn, interrupting progress of the suit of Nancy A. Hills against Floyd J. Campbell yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Hills brought the action against Mr. Campbell for alleged misrepresentation. She leased the apartments for $250 a month for a period from January last to October, 1914. She asserts that the fuel bill is far in excess of what the owner claimed it would be, that the plumbing is in poor condition and that the place is infested with "innumerable thousands" of bedbugs, and that it had been a losing venture for a former lessee. Carcasses of bedbugs alleged to have been captured on the premises were introduced as evidence.

The plaintiff asked that her lease be canceled, also a note for $1000 and that she be awarded damages of $2400.

TRUCK ON WAY TO WASHINGTON

Auto Truck on Way to Washington May Not Be Held.

SALEM, Or., Sept. 14.—(Special).—The Salem police today arrested Archie Turner, of Stanwood, Wash., as he was passing through the city driving an automobile truck loaded with whisky. The officers seized 268 quarts of bonded liquor, valued at approximately $400. Turner was lodged in jail pending a decision as to what charge to place against him. The prisoner said he had brought the liquor from Hornbrook, Cal., and was on his way to Stanwood, Wash.

Attorneys here said they deemed it doubtful whether Turner had violated under the Oregon statute by transporting the liquor through the state in his own conveyance, though they said it was possible that Turner might be prosecuted for violation of the interstate commerce act. They also pointed out that Turner would have been subject to arrest upon entering the state of Washington, where the law makes it a crime to have more than the legal amount of intoxicating liquor in one's possession.

WHY SUFFER FROM MIGRAINE OR SICK HEADACHE?

Dr. J. I. Caldwell says that this exceedingly distressing disease does not shorten life, but does not appear to be curable. Sufferers from this affliction are advised to undergo the periodical attacks every few weeks until they are forty years of age, when the attacks are less frequent, and finally disappear entirely. Palliative measures during the attack, are all that is possible to suggest, while care in the diet is the best preventive measure. An attack may often be prevented by taking two anti-kamnia tablets when the first symptoms appear. Anti-kamnia tablets, which are taken every two hours during the attack shortens it, eases the pain and brings rest and quiet. Anti-kamnia tablets can be obtained at all drug stores. Ask for A-K Tablets. They quickly relieve all pain.

HELP FOR WORKING WOMEN

Some Have to Keep on Until They Almost Drop. How Mrs. Conley Got Help.

Here is a letter from a woman who had to work, but was too weak and suffered too much to continue. How she regained health:—

Frankfort, Ky.—"I suffered so much with female weakness that I could not do my own work, had to hire it done. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I tried it. I took three bottles and I found it to be all you claim. Now I feel as well as ever I did and am able to do all my own work again. I recommend it to any woman suffering from female weakness. You may publish my letter if you wish."

—Mrs. JAMES CONLEY, 516 St. Clair St., Frankfort, Ky.

No woman suffering from any form of female trouble should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

All women are invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it will be confidential.
