

ZEPPELINS REPEAT RAIDS IN ENGLAND

Bombs Dropped in Northern and Midland Counties; Also Off the South Coast.

DAMAGE IS NOT REPORTED

Berlin Newspapers and Public Accept Philosophically Loss of Airships and Think They Cannot Be Duplicated.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—Several hostile airships crossed the east and northeast coasts of England between 10:30 o'clock and midnight last night.

Bombs are reported to have been dropped at several places in northern and north midland counties.

"An airship is also reported off the south coast. No reports of casualties or damage have been received."

The following official statement concerning the raid was made public:

"Several hostile airships, probably six, visited the northeast and south-east coasts of England on the night of September 25."

"On the night of September 23 and 24 several squadrons of naval airships extensively bombed London and places of military importance on the coast in the middle counties of England, which were Nottingham and Sheffield."

"The British newspapers and public appear to accept philosophically the loss of two Zeppelins in the raid on England."

GERMAN IS OPTIMISTIC

DR. HELFFERICH SAYS NATION IS INDUSTRIALLY SOUND.

New Great Industries Formed Since War Began—Bad Harvest Shows People Cannot Be Starved.

BERLIN, Sept. 25.—(By wireless to Saville, N. Y.)—Dr. Helfferich, secretary of the interior, addressed the representatives of the German economic unions, Dr. Karl Helfferich, secretary of the interior, said:

"Nobody can deny that Germany suffers heavily under the British crimes of commercial war and that the German nation in the third year must sustain the greatest privations and hardships, but the exceptionally bad harvest last year proved that Germany cannot be vanquished by famine."

"Dr. Helfferich declared that in spite of the mobilization of millions of men for war the industries of the country maintain a high position. Steel production, he said, totals 80 per cent of the amount produced in peace times. The coal output was up to the average and coke even exceeded the production in times of peace."

ARMY HONORS SERGEANT

Naming of Camp for Enlisted Man Breaks Precedent.

EL PASO, Sept. 25.—An unexampled compliment was paid to the memory of an enlisted man when by order of Brigadier-General Bell, the camp occupied here by troops of the Tenth provisional division was named "Camp Owen Byrne" in a ceremony of the name belonging to the Twenty-third infantry, who was killed in a saloon last Thursday in performance of his duty with the post guard, W. B. Sands, a Texas Ranger, is in jail charged with the murder.

Sergeant Byrne had completed nearly 30 years' Army service and had served in the Cuban, Philippines and Boxer wars with distinction.

"The fortress of Bucharest was bombarded by one of our airships."

"Macedonian front.—Minor engagements occurred near Florina on Saturday. A detachment of French troops operating against Kalmakalan broke down. Weak English detachments advancing on a wide front in the Struma sector were repulsed."

French in Macedonia.

PARIS, Sept. 25.—The text of today's official communication concerning the fighting in Macedonia is:

"On the right bank of the River Struma, British troops, continuing their raids, were successful in an attack upon Janinab, to the north of Lake Tavnoe. A detachment of French troops operating on the right of the British took a trench at the point of the bayonet and made some prisoners."

"A bombardment of Doiran resulted in causing a fire in the town. On our left wing progress was continued. In the region of the Broda River, Serbian troops have reached the frontier. To the north of Krusograd and to the northeast of Florina, French infantry have occupied the first houses of Petrak, as a result of a spirited fight, and they also have made a slight advance on the north of Florina. To the west of this town Russian troops captured by assault Hill 916, which had been strongly organized by the enemy."

"In this same locality a Bulgarian counter-attack was checked by the fire of our artillery and then repulsed at the point of the bayonet by French and Russian troops acting together. To the southwest of Florina, a French reconnoitering detachment has had several spirited engagements in the country south of Preoba Lake with Bulgarian detachments from Blikista."

COMBLES IS ENCIRCLED

Road Cut and Ring Driven Tighter, So Munitioning of Village Is Impossible—Day's Progress Is Made Down Hill.

BY ARTHUR S. DRAPER.

(War Correspondent of the New York Tribune, By Special Cable.)

LONDON, Sept. 25.—The allied troops today smashed forward along a 13-mile front north of the Somme. In a blow as heavy as any they have struck in the whole of the war, they captured three towns, broke through several lines of trenches and took a large number of prisoners.

The British and the French moved forward in a combined attack. Haig's troops assailed the German line from Martinpuich to Combles to the river, a distance of seven miles. They broke through several lines of trenches and took a large number of prisoners.

Strong obstacles faced the British, but before the battle was over they had moved forward a mile along the whole line from Martinpuich to Les Boeufs, lying directly south of Bapaume, fell and with them several lines of the new trenches built since the allies broke through the original defenses.

Morval was the hub of a furious battle. This village had been converted into a veritable fortress, a maze of underground passages, trench lines and wire entanglements. It was situated on a hill and its capture was a formidable task, but the suddenness of the dash and the thoroughness of the artillery preparation soon found a way into it.

By these gains, Haig's line was brought within three miles of Bapaume and more positions along the important road from Albert road were carried. The seizure of Morval cuts the last road from Combles.

Combles almost encircled. This in conjunction with the French advance today makes the encirclement of the village nearly complete. Pech's troops gained a half mile along almost all the seven-mile line which they assailed. Rancourt, another village on the National highway, runs through Peronne and Bapaume, was carried in the first charge.

Continuing the attack, the French drove northward and forged forward to the outskirts of Fregincourt, lying northeast of Combles. Thus the only gap in the circle around Combles is the scant mile between the Morval-Combles road and Fregincourt. Munitioning of the village is now impossible.

Farther south, where Mount St. Quentin, the key to Peronne, is the present objective, the French advanced along the whole line from Bouchavesnes to the river. This brings them within half a mile of Mount St. Quentin and extends their hold on the National Highway.

CANADA'S QUOTA SHORT

DOMINION TO SYSTEMATIZE ITS RECRUITING METHODS.

Present Methods Have Raised 400,000 of Half Million Promised—Stock of Labor Will Be Taken.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 25.—More systematic recruiting methods are to be put in force in Canada. It was announced today that the Dominion's contribution to the entente allied armies up to the half million quota promised Great Britain. The present methods have raised 400,000 men. There is to be an additional service board to increase enlistments, with Sir Thomas Tait as director-general. Archbishop George W. Mundelein announced today that the National Service Board's duties would be to stimulate recruiting and to determine whether the service of any person is more valuable to the state in his present employment or in military service.

The board also is to issue badges to persons honorably discharged from military service, to those exempt for physical reasons and to those who are held to be more valuable in existing employments. Stock of labor is to be taken in each military district and the employment of women arranged for.

FRENCH SOLDIERS DEFENDING VILLAGE IN ALSACE. This picture was granted first prize at the War Photographic Exposition recently held in Paris. Several French soldiers, trapped by the enemy in a ruined village in Alsace, are defending themselves down to their last cartridge. Note the wounded soldier handing his last bullets to one of his companions. An officer, just hit, can be seen dropping his rifle.
