MARIAN MILLER'S ANSWERS

TODAY I'm going to tell you about one of the very finest organizations in all the world. Now, if you never had any love for your mother or your grandmother, or for any dear old lady, don't read this.

The organization to which I refer is called the Lavender Club. It is made up of women who are all more than 50 years of age, and some of them are 80 and even 90 years old. No young people are allowed to join. Young in age, mean for the club makes them all young in heart. These dear, sweet "lavender ladies" have the best times at their meetings. They forget they are what is commonly called "getting old." They are all girls together.

Not only do they have meetings, sing songs, read papers and discuss their current events, but they always wind up with a Virginia reel. And you should just keep in when they dance. Such an act sure beats any other you can figure. Recently they had a luncheon at the home of one of the members. It was the loveliest party imaginable, because people don't think it is right typifying the golden years that these women have lived.

I was reminded of all this when I read a letter from a woman of about 60. Her children are married and gone. Her friends have drifted away. She has become a recluse. She goes nowhere, but sits alone and says no one cares for her. I tell her that she must "get up and dust," join the Lavender Club, take a dear fortunate friend to the theater occasionally, get interested in some charity. Be somebody. And, above all, don't get sorry for yourself, because people will shut you out if the spirit of the "lavender ladies" and be joyful.

PORTLAND, Sept. 25.—Dear Marian Miller: Do you think it is right for a young man I go with to pay attention to another girl? He gets so close to me when I pay attention to other boys. What will he do if I get married? He is a girl of 17 and a young man 20 to write love letters to each other? We are not serious.

As you are so young I think you should try to be "just friends." Don't dwell too much on serious love yet if you can possibly fill your mind with something else. Men are always jealous and most of them think they should have one standard and the girls answering their protests will see if he is worth while everything will come out all right. If he is not, you are well rid of him, even if it makes your little heart ache.

Here is a rule I want you to learn by heart: "Never write a letter you would be ashamed to see printed in the paper." Be sure that you can say to him before you write love letters to him. As I said before, you are too young for serious love affairs. You should be friendly and interesting, but never get "mushy."

SALEM, Or., Sept. 27.—Marian Miller, Dear Madam: I am a man, aged 32, have a good salary, am in love with a widow subject of a special meeting of the City Council at 2 o'clock today. The plans as prepared by Commissioner Dick were submitted to the council yesterday and consideration deferred.

The project is the largest undertaking of the kind since the building of the Montavilla trunk sewer. It involves the reconstruction of the big pipe its full distance north of Taylor street.

CHARITY TO CENTRALIZE

REDUCTION OF OVERHEAD EXPENSE IS BLAMED.

County to Provide Rooms in Court-house and Co-operation of All Relief Societies is Hope.

Plans are being formulated for the eventual co-operation, centralization and specialization of charity work in Portland. Reduction of overhead expense so that a greater percentage of money given to charity shall be spent for the persons helped is the hope.

First step in this direction is the granting by the County Commissioners, to the Associated Charities, of two rooms on the fourth floor of the Court-house for headquarters, saving $50 a month in rental. The Parent-Teacher Associations have made suggestions which are being utilized in the centralization plan. Co-operation with the County Board of Relief will follow.

The Associated Charities now has an employment bureau of its own. Merging of this with the city employment bureau is looked for eventually. Specialization is expected to be a decided factor in cutting down the overhead cost. Other charitable organizations of the city may be urged to merge their work in such a way that it can all be handled from one central station, avoiding duplication and aiding efficiency.

One step toward centralization will probably be brought up at a meeting of the Associated Charities next Tuesday. This will be the discussion of plans for a central confidential exchange of reports.

WINDOW CLEANER FALLS

Man Loses Footing Passing From One Casing to Another.

Alex Kovelchuk, 26, a window cleaner employed by the American Window Cleaning Company, fell from the second story of the Olds, Wortman & King building on the Tenth-street side yesterday at 9:30 o'clock and sustained injuries to his ankle, wrist and back.

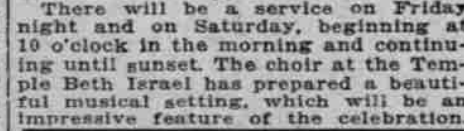

He was taken first to the company's emergency hospital and later removed to Good Samaritan Hospital and Ambulance Service Company. A rather superficial examination failed to reveal any broken bones or internal injuries.

Kovelchuk was endeavoring to climb from one window to the next. He unaccountably lost his footing and fell.

ARE BATHS NECESSARY?

This looks like a foolish question in this enlightened age, but there are nearly a million Americans who know nothing of internal bathing. For years ago and are now eager to testify that they are fully as essential to health as external baths.

By a purely natural process of properly using warm water the bowels are cleansed, the poisons are removed and the waste from the Lower Intestine, which physicians advise of 95 percent of all human ailments.

It instantly relieves constipation, promotes regular bowels and prevents all the dragging down which biliousness and Liver Troubles always create.

E. W. Southall, M.D., of Genesee, N. Y., writes: "I challenged the doctors in this town last week in regard to what I can do with your 'Cascade.' I can say for a truth that I know the reason for my success with many serious illnesses was due to having the bowels washed out once and sometimes twice a day. I only wish I could make the people in general believe in the efficiency of a good bowel washing."

Woodward, Clarke & Co.'s Drug Store in Portland has filled a tremendous demand for "J. B. L. Cascade" in the past few years and will show in the plain it to you on request. A free and interesting booklet on internal bathing, "Why Man of Today is Only 50 Per Cent Efficient" can also be obtained for the asking.—Adv.
