EXTENSION WORK BEGINS

UNIVERSITY CLASSES IN PORTLAND TO ORGANIZE THIS WEEK.

Courses in Architecture, Education, Music, English and Philosophy Will Be Offered.

Friday and Saturday evenings this week extension classes in five more subjects will be organized in Portland by the University of Oregon. Last week two classes in English were opened by Mrs. Mable Holmes Parsons, with an attendance of more than 225 in the drama class alone.

The classes to open this week will be in architecture, education, music, English and philosophy. The Library Association has offered the use of the north gallery for the permanent use of the students of architecture.

All of the University classes are open to the public, and only those who are enrolled for college credit are required to pay a fee. Between 500 and 800 students in Portland were regularly enrolled in extension classes last year. Owing to the greater variety of subjects offered, it is expected that this number will be greatly exceeded this year.

A general meeting of all interested in the art and architecture courses will be held Friday evening at 7:30 in the north gallery. The field of the architectural courses is to reach all architects and architectural draftsmen and architectural students in the city as well as certain craftsmen and mechanics.

These classes will include: Pen and -pencil, life and modeling, architectural design, descriptive geometry and graphic statics. The course in graphic statics is offered at the request of the Carpenters' Union of Portland, but is open to everybody interested in structural design.

The education course will be a clinical course in child psychology by Dr. B. W. DeBask. This class will meet weekly at 8 o'clock Friday evenings.

The third of Mrs. Mable Holmes Parsons' English classes will begin Saturday evening at 7:45 o'clock in room H, and will be in short-story writing.

Two courses in music will begin Friday evening. The first will be a so-called "appreciation" class at 7:30 o'clock in room A and the second an advanced course for music students and musicians at 8:30 in the same room. These classes will meet every other week.

A course in present day philosophical thought will be given by Dr. George Rebec, beginning at 8 o'clock Friday evening in room E. This class will meet bi-weekly.

Students may enroll for these classes either at the meetings in the Library or at the Portland office of the University, 451 Courthouse.

CITIZENS FIRST OBJECT

AMERICANIZATION SCHOOL OFFERS AID TO FOREIGNERS.

Special Course in Naturalization is Offered for Winter Nights at New Shattuck.

One of the chief objects of the Americanization school now being conducted each Monday, Wednesday and Thursday night at the new Shattuck School, Park and Hall streets, will be to make citizens. A special course in naturalization has been announced by David N. Moensohn, principal, and all foreigners on the West Side who want to profit by this free school should register at once to get the full benefit of the course.

There are 60 registered already, although the school opened only last Monday night. The school has facilities for taking care of 400 to 500 students, however, and all foreigners are invited to take advantage of the work, for which there is absolutely no charge.

In addition to the regular school work, which includes the teaching of languages, simple mathematics, reading and writing, and especially a good speaking knowledge of English, the school is planning a series of social nights to be held every other week, probably on Monday, with dancing and swimming on the program. The teachers in the school all speak more than one language, and Principal Moensohn speaks six different languages. Foreigners without the least knowledge of the English tongue will be welcomed at the school. They may ask instruction or information in their native tongue and will be taught to receive the answer in English.

American history and civil government are being given attention in the work and the course in naturalization is expected to be not only popular but advantageous for foreigners who are expecting to take out their papers. Ministers of the city have offered their support, which comes from practically every denomination.

The classes begin at 7:15 o'clock and end at 9:15, with the singing of a patriotic song and a salute and pledge to the flag.

Progressive Business Men Will Hear Verbal Tilts Today.

Judge Robert G. Morrow will be referred today at the meeting at the crystal room of the Benson Hotel, when the Progressive Business Men will see Colonel C. E. S. Wood and C. T. Haas spar a couple of rounds with Walter H. Evans and A. L. Vearle to a decision on the proposed beer amendment.

The former will speak in favor of the measure and the latter against the passage of the amendment. Secretary Browning of the club, in his official notice sent to the members yesterday, asserts that E. Maldwyn Evans, a Portland baritone, will sing, accompanied by Miss May Van Dyke, and Judge Morrow "will prevent rioting and bloodshed."

Von Tirpitz Declines Nomination.

BERLIN, via London, Oct. 4.—Admiral Von Tirpitz, ex-head of the German Admiralty, was offered the Conservative nomination for a Reichstag seat vacancy to be filled at a by-election in Saxony, but declined, replying that he had decided, in the interests of Germany's cause, to accept no candidacy during the war.
