BAYONNE, N. J., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—Standard Oil strikers held Bayonne in terror today and scenes of violence were hourly occurring.

Tonight the mob started fires and cut hose when the fire department responded. Members of the mob also attempted to wreck a fire engine and attacked the police and firemen.

Women in Front Row. In accordance with strike mob ethics, the women had been put in front in the belief that the police would not club them or fire upon them.

The woman killed was Miss Sophia Torack, 29 years old. She was struck in the head by a bullet and died at the Bayonne Hospital soon after she was taken there.

Misses Hurled at Firemen. Fewer than 50 policemen fought with a crowd of several hundred strikers.

Both sides fired repeatedly. Miss Torack, who was killed, was watching the fight from a window of her home, a few yards away.

Early in the day a mob attacked J. J. O'Connor, lieutenant of the Lehigh Valley Railroad police, and five assistants, beating them unconscious.

Railroad Detectives Beaten. Two other railroad detectives were nearly beaten in another attack.

The authorities have granted the Standard Oil company, owner of the Tidewater company, permission to use machine guns against the strikers.

A mob held up a Jersey Central freight train, believing it was hauling gunpowder to the oil plant.

Girl Telegrapher Beaten. Another mob attacked a Jersey Central telegraph office, ordering Miss Anna Doody, the operator, to leave.

At noon between 700 and 800 armed strikers moved upon the police to rescue two strikers under arrest.

Four or five policemen in the structure armed themselves and all the reporters in the building to resist the assault.

In the meantime a boy was smuggled from a rear window, and with him a bicycle. The boy rode off unseen and brought up reinforcements of 20 armed reserves.

DRY CAMPAIGNER IS HECKLED BY WETS

MISSOURIANS ARE ANGERED BY DR. IRA LANDRITH.

Almost Every Man Present Shouts Opposition to Proposed Prohibition for State.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 11.—Defiant opposition to the arguments of the Prohibition National campaigner developed today in Eastern Missouri. At Hermann, a wine center, and Washington, both wet towns, Ira Landrith, the Vice-Presidential candidate, was interrupted both by individuals and groups of angry wets.

"What are you going to do for revenue?" shouted an insistent questioner at Washington.

"Raise more hogs than hell and you won't need so much revenue," Landrith replied. "When this Nation goes dry we'll have more markets for other things that will produce revenue, too. The old sock who's been feeding his wife cracklings and shorts will feed her bread and ham. The amount we will save in the cost of conducting jails, insane asylums and similar institutions will go a long way toward reducing the amount of revenue required."

J. Frank Hanly, the Presidential nominee, escaped interrogation. He took up Landrith's economic argument, however, insisting that the Nation could be made dry at a profit.

Strittmatter, his opponent for the Republican nomination, who, until the recount was made, led Harris by two votes.

HUGHES CHEERED IN WEST VIRGINIA

Maintenance of American Rights Affirmed.

PEACE IS CANDIDATE'S DESIRE

Nominee Says Invitation of Insult Will Bring Disaster.

MEXICAN CASE REVIEWED

Position Taken That Risking of American Lives to Satisfy Personal Distike for Certain Man Is Not Right.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 11.—Charles E. Hughes, in his 12-hour campaign tour through West Virginia today, outlined before audiences his policy towards the maintenance of American rights, declared that in stating his stands he had "no agreements with anybody" and referred to the United States as being "before the world, a great neutral nation, to vindicate the integrity of international law and the rights of neutrals." To an audience at Parkersburg, Mr. Hughes said:

"I stand for the development of the American Nation, according to the genius of its institutions; for the honor of our country in the protection of American citizens and with respect to every American right on land and sea, for its firm enforcement.

American Rights First. "We are before the world, a great neutral Nation, to vindicate the integrity of international law, the rights of neutrals and I stand unflinchingly for the maintenance of the rights of American citizens with respect to life, property and commerce."

In repeating these statements here tonight, the nominee coupled with them a statement made earlier in the day before an audience at Parkersburg. "I have no understandings, no agreements, no intrigues with anybody," he said. "But I stand for the interests of the United States and the protection of American lives, American property and American commerce throughout the world."

Quick Reply Brings Applause. A man in the Huntington audience shouted to Mr. Hughes: "What about the Virginia debt case?"

"The Virginia debt, sir, is a matter," Mr. Hughes replied, quickly, "to which the Supreme Court of the United States gave its best consideration, a decision which you and everybody else ought to respect."

A roar of applause greeted this statement. "We are dealing with the record of the present Administration," Mr. Hughes said. "When that Administration's record is examined its defenders seem to protest as though it were a (Concluded on Page 2, Column 1.)"

STATE HIGHWAYS NOW ARE SEVEN

COMMISSION CHOOSES ROUTES FOR FEDERAL CO-OPERATION.

Lane and Coos Bay Delegation Asks for Designation of Road From Eugene to Coast.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—The State Highway Commission gave its indorsement today to seven roads, designated as state highways, upon the construction of which it will keep pace with the Federal Forestry Service under section 8 of the Shackleford bill. The road projects for which funds will be requested from the Government are as follows:

- No. 1. From Portland to Ashland on the Pacific Highway.
No. 2. From Portland to Ontario via Baker.
No. 3. From The Dalles to Klamath Falls.
No. 4. From Portland to Ontario via John Day.
No. 5. From Florence to Mitchell.
No. 6. From Bend to Lakeview.
No. 7. From Eugene to Klamath Falls.

The approval of these routes was given by the members of the State Highway Commission upon request of B. J. Finch, senior highway engineer of the Federal office of public roads and rural engineering.

The designation of the state roads today by the commission, Mr. Finch said, was essential, before the Forest Service could obtain the necessary road funds. The Forest Service also desires to co-operate with counties, according to Mr. Finch, in the mapping and building of roads running through reserves.

An effort was made by a delegation of Lane and Coos County residents to obtain the Highway Commission's approval of a road running from Eugene, via Gardner and the Siuslaw section to Coos Bay.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 11.—Frank H. Joubert, general manager of the Public Belt Railroad, and seven other members of the Joubert family today instituted mandamus proceedings to compel a change of the board of health records, in which the Jouberts are alleged to be recorded as of negro ancestry.

The petition asserts certain records were filed by persons not members of the family and that the abbreviation "Col." later was written into the records.

The ultimate agony ended in Boston on Thursday afternoon—or will the final autopsy be postponed until Friday in Brooklyn?

This is about all the prophets and the soothsayers, the scribblers and the pharisees, have to worry about now. For when Larry Gardner touched off a home run under Rube Marquard's quivering system in the second inning yesterday with two on base, Brooklyn's dream of empire started downward after the man of a steel girder tossed from the top of the Woolworth tower.

The one blow, delivered deep into the barren lands of center field, broke Marquard's heart, shattered Brooklyn's wavering defense and practically closed out the series.

Victory Easy for Boston. As it was, Boston romped home, 6 to 2, with Dutch Leonard facing Marquard, Cheney and Rucker in turn as Robby rushed in his relief corps in a vain attempt to beat back the oppressing horde. But for Brooklyn it was a case of the Huns being at the gate and the runs being over the plate before the amazed Robins knew there was a war.

As a result of this third victory, the Carriagen machine now needs only one more conquest to close out the spectacle and collect the winner's end. Brooklyn can still win by taking (Concluded on Page 14, Column 2.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(Special.)—Marquard and Merkle and Meyers a day sailed off with the Brooklyn team; saluted for the old world serious play on the drift of an ancient dream: "Where are you going—Oh, where are you bent?"

Bill Carrigan asked the three: "We are going out for the 40 per cent that waits in the jubilee; Four years of the loser's end have we," said Marquard, and Merkle, and Meyers.

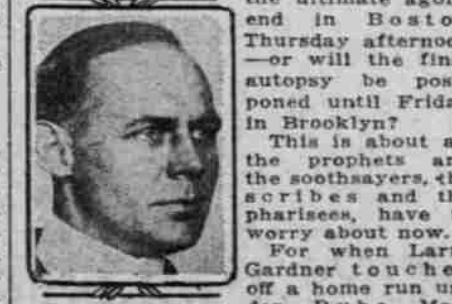

The world series has now resolved itself into this burning date, viz: Will the ultimate agony end in Boston on Thursday afternoon—or will the final autopsy be postponed until Friday in Brooklyn?

This is about all the prophets and the soothsayers, the scribblers and the pharisees, have to worry about now. For when Larry Gardner touched off a home run under Rube Marquard's quivering system in the second inning yesterday with two on base, Brooklyn's dream of empire started downward after the man of a steel girder tossed from the top of the Woolworth tower.

AMERICAN LEGION MEN FIGHT POLICE

CANADIAN TROOPS RAID BARRACKS, BURN EQUIPMENT.

Mob Tries In Vain to Rescue Arrested Comrades and One of Soldiers Is Shot.

CALGARY, Alberta, Oct. 11.—A crowd of soldiers raided the mounted police barracks here tonight with the announced intention of rescuing five men, members of a local battalion who had been fined for violation of the liquor act. The rescue was not effected and at the earnest representations of the officers the mob finally dispersed.

One soldier who tried to force his way into the guard-room, was shot through the right shoulder by a mounted policeman, who was on guard there. He will recover.

The mob smashed all the barracks windows. Furniture, clothing and equipment, thrown out of the building, was heaped into a pile in the street and burned.

Another crowd set out downtown with the avowed intention of raiding the hardware stores and taking firearms and ammunition with which to attack the small force at the barracks. A cordon of the city police made a baton charge and drove the mob away from two stores which were threatened.

The soldiers belonged chiefly to the American Legion and previous to the attack on the mounted police barracks surrounded the city police headquarters building and made a demonstration. Both the day and night squads of the force were placed to guard the building. Chief of Police Cuddy admitted a delegation of the soldiers and showed them that the prisoners they sought to release were not there. The crowd then marched to the mounted police barracks.

GREECE MUST GIVE UP FLEET TO ALLIES

Demand Complied With Almost at Once.

EDICT INCLUDES RAILWAY, TOO

Surrender and Dismantling of Forts Ordered.

CREWS ARE TO BE REDUCED

Action by Entente Admiral Taken as Precaution to Protect His Command, Following Movement of Munitions.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Vice-Admiral Dartige Du Fournet, commander of the Anglo-French fleet in the Mediterranean, has presented an ultimatum to Greece demanding that Greece hand over the entire Greek fleet, except the armored cruiser Averoff and the battleships Lemnos and Kilkis, to the entente allies by 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, according to Reuter's Athens correspondent.

Demand is also made for the control of the Piraeus-Larissa Railway.

Demands Are Granted. "The Minister of Marine," the correspondent continues, "says Vice-Admiral Fournet's demands will be complied with and that the fleet will be handed over before the prescribed time."

"The demands were made as a precautionary measure to insure the safety of the allies' fleet."

The dispatch says that the Greek government added a protest to its notification of acceptance. A telephone message received at Athens from Piraeus says that the handling over of the Greek navy to the allied naval authorities has already begun.

The lighter craft will be handed over intact so as to enable them to be dispatched to the provisional government at Saloniki. The heavier vessels will be dismantled and left where they are, in the Gulf of Keratrali.

It is explained that the dispatch of artillery and ammunition to the interior, and the movements of Greek ships and the continued activity of the reservist leagues have aroused fears of a disturbance at points where the allies' war vessels are anchored and also on danger the security of the allied troops on the Balkan front.

Dismantling of Forts Demanded. Vice-Admiral du Fournet demands the dismantling of the Kilkis, Lemnos and Averoff and the dismantling of the forts on the seacoast, while the two forts commanding the fleet's moorings are to be made over to the admiral.

Control of certain points must also be placed in the hands of the Anglo-British authorities.

In addition to the dismantling of the warships named, their crews are to be reduced to one-third the regular complement.

The Greek navy consists of five battleships—the Kilkis, Lemnos, Paara, Spetsai and Hydra; one armored cruiser, the Averoff; the coast defense ship Basileus Georgios; the cruisers Hell and Naushos; Misauli, ten gunboats, 17 torpedo-boat destroyers, nine torpedo-boats, three submarines and several transports and other craft.

Four Thousand Men in Navy. The Greek naval force has been estimated at 4000 officers and men.

Recently there have been reports that Greek warships had deserted the navy and joined the revolutionary forces. Among these were the battleship Hydra and two torpedo-boats, which it was declared left their anchorages and joined the allied fleet in Salamis Bay. The Kilkis also was reported to have deserted, but this was denied.

The best ships in the Greek navy are the Kilkis and Lemnos, which are the former American battleships Idaho and Mississippi. These vessels were sold to Greece in 1914, Greece paying $12,535,275 for them.

ASSISTANCE OFFERED GREECE

No New Concession Offered by Allies, However.

ATHENS, Oct. 9, via London, Oct. 11.—The entente allies have again offered to assist Greece in case she enters the war, but it is understood no new concessions have been made. It is learned that entente diplomatic circles at Athens yesterday advised the French and British Chancelleries, who are charged by the other allied governments with the negotiations with Greece, to reply to King Constantine's informal proposals to depart from neutrality in the following sense:

"While the form in which the proposals were made is unacceptable and the question of Bulgarian occupation of Greek soil is considered purely a Greek matter in which the entente is not concerned, nevertheless should Greece voluntarily abandon neutrality, declare war on Bulgaria, and decree a general mobilization, the entente will be disposed to furnish every assistance in the campaign and to give other material proofs of benevolent interest in the welfare of Greece. It is understood, however, that these diplomatic assurances are not to interfere in any (Concluded on Page 3, Column 1.)"
