RELIEF COST GAINS

Hard Times Cost City $118,606; County $27,867.72.

SUMS GO TO IDLE MEN ONLY

Fifty Per Cent Increase in Expenditures for Charity by Regular Board is in Addition to Aid Given in Emergency.

On top of the $118,606 the City of Portland has had to spend for the relief of unemployed during the hard times of the Wilson Administration come figures from the records in the office of the County Auditor that show total expenditures for relief of unemployed of $27,867.72 during the Administration, not including the 50 per cent increase necessary to meet demands through the county board of relief.
On top of the city and county expenditures are reports of charitable organizations showing the increased burden of charity by reason of destitution during the last three and a half years, including reports of those who conducted soup houses operated at a loss for the benefit of the needy.

CHARITY INCREASE ANTONISHING

The records show a most astonishing increase in the amount of charity work forced on the county board of relief. In 1912 the work of relieving destitution cost $11,417.65, while during last Winter the cost was $18,119.23. Following is a statement of the expenditures of this board each year since 1910:

Table with 2 columns: Year, Amount. 1910: $4,887.37; 1911: $7,271.29; 1912: $11,417.65; 1913: $18,119.23.

AVIATOR'S FLIGHT IS ENDED

Carlstrom Breaks Another Record on Last Lap of Journey. NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Victor Carlstrom, who left Chicago yesterday for New York in a New York Times mail-carrying aeroplane, descended on Governor's Island today, ending his flight at 6:55 1/2 A. M. The flight from Hammondport, where the aviator resumed his trip at 6:35 A. M. today, was without incident, Carlstrom flying at a height of 2000 feet, aided by a good wind.
On his flight from Hammondport today Carlstrom broke another record, covering the distance, 316 miles, at an average speed of 137 miles an hour, or 11 miles an hour better than the record held by Jules Verdrine, the French aviator.

LIABILITY OF TAX

Both the merits and the demerits of the proposed constitutional amendment limiting the increase of taxes to 6 per cent over and above the taxes of the previous year were presented to the members of the Portland Realty Board at their luncheon meeting in the Hotel Benson yesterday by Ex-Governor West, one of the authors of the proposed law, and by Robert H. Strong, manager of the Corbett estate, who opposes the adoption of the bill. Each speaker was allotted 20 minutes to present his arguments.
At the conclusion of the debate an effort was made to place the Realty Board on record against the proposed amendment, but the motion was postponed indefinitely on the ground of courtesy to the speakers.
"Nobody can point to an emergency that could not be provided for under this law," said Mr. West, who opened the debate. "We all desire relief from excessive taxation and this bill will tie the hands of officials against increasing taxes unduly, yet the people will retain the right to meet any contingency by voting a bond issue or a supplementary tax levy."
"Under this law the tendency of taxes will always be downward because one year of economy will guarantee economy for all the future."
He predicted that the bill will carry; that it could not be defeated with a club.
"I am no pessimist," began Mr. Strong by way of rebuttal. "I believe Portland and many of the other cities and towns of Oregon are going to grow and I wouldn't like to forecast that they will grow only on the ratio of 6 per cent a year. I am not here to urge an increase of taxes, but I maintain that taxes have been growing less during recent years considering the

ROOSTER ROCK CANNERY TO MOVE

VANCOUVER, Wash., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—The Rooster Rock cannery for salmon is to be removed to a site on the W. X. Morgan place on the Columbia River just above Ellsworth. It is reported, and men already are at work making preparations to build the cannery. The machinery will be shipped down the river and put in this cannery. It is said that the building will cost from $6000 to $10,000 and that the
