250 Men on Boat Battle With Posse Ashore.

44 ON TWO SIDES WOUNDED

Sheriff and 19 Others of His Party Shot Down on Forbidding Landing.

EX-GUARD OFFICER KILLED

Invading Steamer Retreats Toward Seattle After 1000 Shots Are Fired.

EVERETT, Wash., Nov. 5.—At least six men were killed and 44 others wounded today in a pitched battle at the Everett city wharf between 250 members of the Industrial Workers of the World, who came here from Seattle on the steamer Verona, and a posse of 150 citizens, headed by Sheriff Don McRae.

Ex-Lieutenant C. O. Curtis, of Company L, Washington National Guard, was killed. Nineteen others in the posse were wounded.

Five of the dead and 26 of the wounded were on the boat.

Sheriff McRae is among the seriously wounded.

Some Believed Drowned.

After the shooting, in which about 1000 shots were exchanged, the Verona turned around and started back to Seattle.

Many men were seen to fall on the deck of the steamer and others, panic-stricken, jumped overboard. Some were taken from the water, but others disappeared and it is believed they were drowned.

The Verona reached Everett shortly before 2 o'clock.

Invasion Is Announced.

The coming of the Industrial Workers of the World invaders had been previously announced in insulting messages sent to Everett from Seattle headquarters.

A call to Industrial Workers of the World members from all over the state had been issued earlier in the week and the citizens of Everett, at a meeting held Saturday night, planned to meet the invaders and deny them privilege of landing.

When the Verona reached the city wharf Sheriff McRae, who was backed by a posse of Deputy Sheriffs and citizens, stepped forward and informed the men on the boat that they would not be permitted to land.

I. W. W. Open Battle.

One of the men, evidently spokesman for the party, began arguing with the Sheriff and then made a speech. Apparently as a signal, the man dropped his hand and armed men on the steamer opened fire on the posse assembled on the wharf.

The first man to fall was Sheriff McRae, seriously wounded. One man was killed instantly and in a moment the crowd on shore was panic-stricken. Deputy Sheriffs on the wharf quickly rallied their forces, however, and returned the fire of the invaders on the Verona. Fully 1000 shots were exchanged.

Invading Boat Retreats.

Men on the wharf and on the boat were seen to fall and the Verona immediately backed out of the dock and started back toward Seattle.

The trouble between the Industrial Workers of the World and the authorities at Everett has been of several months' standing and was the outgrowth of a strike of shingle weavers here. After several minor outbreaks of violence during the strike, Sheriff McRae organized the Citizens' Committee and expelled all members of the Industrial Workers of the World from Everett.

On several occasions small parties of men have attempted to enter Everett, but have been turned back by the Sheriff.

L. W. W. Calls Volunteers.

Last Monday 45 members of the Industrial Workers of the World came from Seattle by steamer, but were met at the wharf by the citizens' posse, loaded into automobiles and escorted to a point south of town, where they

TALK WILSON, VOTE HUGHES

Club of Lebanon Women Is Two to One for Republican.

LEBANON, Or., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—The Fortnightly Book Club of Lebanon took a straw vote at their meeting last week and the vote stood, Hughes 10, Wilson 5 and Benson 1.

This club is composed of 16 women of Lebanon, who meet every two weeks for study and politics. At the last meeting the Wilson women insisted on taking a straw vote.

The Hughes women opposed the vote, as, from the talk, it seemed the majority was for Wilson, none of the Hughes supporters having said anything.

There is lots of Wilson talk here.

BANKS CLOSE TOMORROW

Business Houses May Allow Time Off to Permit Employees to Vote.

"Closed tomorrow—election day." This will be the sign that all the banking houses will hang up today. To conform to the election laws of the state banks must close, for tomorrow is a legal holiday.

Business houses and all organizations employing a large number of men and women may make arrangements whereby these employees may vote. As the polls are open from 8 A. M. until 8 P. M. many men and women are hardly able to get home in time to go to the polls before they close.

The dining car cook was slightly scalded. Traffic was delayed 10 hours until the damage could be repaired. The passengers were transferred to another train.

TROOPS GET READY TO GO TO EVERETT

Guardsmen and Police Round up I. W. W.

SEATTLE RENDEZVOUS SEIZED

Revenue Cutters Asked to Aid in Trailing Steamers.

GOVERNOR AND MAYOR ACT

Adjutant-General Sent to Scene of Trouble With Full Power to Meet Situation—One Vessel Is Too Late for Battle.

SEATTLE, Nov. 5.—Governor Lister, who was in Seattle when word of the riot in Everett was received, immediately ordered Adjutant-General Maurice Thompson of the Washington National Guard to go to Everett, 30 miles north of here, and report to him on conditions there. The Governor said that if the situation still was threatening he would order the National Guard to police Everett.

Before leaving for Everett, Adjutant-General Thompson ordered all National Guard organizations in Seattle to report immediately for duty.

Four companies of Coast Artillery, four companies of Infantry and two divisions of the Naval Militia were ordered under arms.

I. W. W. Are Rounded Up.

Pending further developments, the guardsmen were ordered to assist the police in rounding up members of the Industrial Workers of the World here and in arresting the party on the Verona when the steamer arrived from Everett.

"I have given Adjutant-General Thompson full power to act," said Governor Lister. "He will proceed to Everett immediately and report to me upon arriving there."

The Verona left Seattle about noon, with 250 men aboard. One hundred and fifty other members of the Industrial Workers of the World, who could not find room on the Verona, boarded the steamer Callista, which left after the main expedition had departed.

Arrest of All I. W. W.'s Ordered.

The fight was over and the Verona was on her way back long before the Callista approached Everett. The two steamers met at Mukilteo, four miles south of Everett, and came back to Seattle together.

Mayor Gill, who was at Edmonds, midway between Seattle and Everett, telephoned to Chief of Police Beckingham to arrest every member of the Industrial Workers of the World that could be found.

Police were placed in charge of the Industrial Workers' headquarters. (Concluded on Page 3, Column 2.)

OREGONIAN ELECTION RETURNS.

Electric Signals in Residences of Portland, Salem, Oregon City and Vancouver, Wash.

The Oregonian has arranged with the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company for a code of signals to announce the result of the Presidential election Tuesday night in residences of its electric light patrons in Portland, Salem, Oregon City and Vancouver, Wash. The signal will be given by the turning out of the electric lights as soon as the result is known, according to the following code:

Two dashes (two successive five-second intervals of darkness) will indicate that Wilson has won.

Three dashes (three successive five-second intervals of darkness) will indicate that Hughes has won.

Four dashes (four successive five-second intervals of darkness) will indicate that the result is still in doubt.

The first signal will be given as soon as the result is known. If the returns are decisive, before 11 P. M., but at any rate a signal will be given promptly at 11 P. M., or as near 11 P. M. sharp as is possible.

Bulletins at Sixth and Alder.

A complete bulletin service of election returns will be flashed by The Oregonian Tuesday night on the Sixth-street front of the Wonder Millinery Store at Sixth and Alder streets. The count in the different states will be shown as rapidly as it is reported by the Associated Press, which has unequalled facilities for assembling election news. Because of the difference in time between Portland and the East it is probable this service will begin by 6 P. M. Reports of the count in Portland and Oregon, including contested offices in Multnomah County and initiative measures, will be flashed at frequent intervals after the polls close at 8 P. M. The Oregonian has made arrangements to cover every county in Oregon. The bulletins will be continued until midnight or later.

Ancient Kingdom Restored.

"Thus the ancient Kingdom of Poland, from which in the past came famous rulers like the Jagellons (a dynasty founded by Jagello, which reigned in Poland from 1386 to 1572), and glorious soldiers like the great Sobieski (John III, King of Poland in 1674-1698) is now resurrected. The Poles are free from Russian oppression; no more to be trodden under the heels of the Cossacks. The liberty that had been destroyed a century ago on Russian instigation now is restored. The rule of the knout has been abolished. Poland has been given back to Western civilization."

The manifesto issued at Warsaw and Lublin reads as follows:

"His Majesty the German Emperor and His Majesty the Emperor of Austria and Apostolic King of Hungary, inspired by firm confidence in final victory of their arms and prompted by a desire to lead the districts conquered by their armies under heavy sacrifices from Russian domination toward a happy future, have agreed to form of these districts a national state with an hereditary monarch and a constitutional government. ## MARBURG SAILS ANYWAY

American Said to Have Forfeited Citizenship Goes Passportless.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Theodore Marburg, to whom a passport to return to England as an American citizen was refused by the State Department on the ground that he had forfeited his citizenship by enlisting in the Royal Flying Corps of England, left here yesterday for Falmouth on the steamship Nordam without the citizenship documents.

Marburg joined the British aviation service some time after the war began, and he recently returned to the United States to recuperate after having lost a leg in the service. He said before sailing that he had ordered an artificial limb and intended again to resume flying as a member of the Royal Corps. After the war, he added, he will take up the question of having his American citizenship restored.

Austria and Germany Take Joint Action.

MONARCH WILL BE ASSIGNED

Constitutional Form of Government Promised.

GUARANTEE TO BE GIVEN

Central Rulers Say Polish Aspirations Will Be Fulfilled, With Due Consideration for European Politics.

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—(By wireless to Sayville, N. Y.)—"Polish provinces occupied by troops of the central powers," says the Overseas News Agency, "were the scene today of a great and momentous historic event. Germany and Austria-Hungary, by joint action, proclaimed Warsaw and Lublin the kingdom of Poland, and re-established the right of the Polish nation to control its own destinies, to live an independent national life and to govern itself by chosen representatives of the nation."

"A few days ago a Polish delegation had called upon the Imperial Chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg. Its members were representative Poles of all classes, all parties, all ranks of society and all creeds. They transmitted to the German government the wishes of the Polish nation, which now have been granted to them."

"Thus the ancient Kingdom of Poland, from which in the past came famous rulers like the Jagellons (a dynasty founded by Jagello, which reigned in Poland from 1386 to 1572), and glorious soldiers like the great Sobieski (John III, King of Poland in 1674-1698) is now resurrected. ## BETTING REMAINS 10 TO 7 ON HUGHES

SAME ODDS THAT WILSON CARRIES OHIO NOT TAKEN.

Three to One Whitman Will Be Next Governor of New York Offered. Large Wagers Are Made.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Betting on the National election today kept at the same odds that have obtained for the last three days. Several large bets at 10 to 7 that Hughes would be elected were reported to have been made. Tex Rickard was reported around with $10,000 of Wilson money to lay at odds of 10 to 7 that the President would carry Ohio. At a late hour tonight he had no takers.

None of the betting commissioners or others with money to wager on the state election, save one. This man had $15,000, it was reported, to lay against $1500 that Whitman would carry the state.

Several large wagers were made. The biggest made was $20,000 at the ruling odds that Hughes would be elected. The largest of a few 10-to-8 bets was $2000 to $1600. One small bet at $700 to $300 was made that Mr. Whitman would be elected.

PENDLETON, Or., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Fire, supposed to have started from a cigar stub, early this morning destroyed five of eight business houses of Ukiah, 33 miles south of here. The buildings destroyed were the drugstore and poolhall, property of the J. W. Kirk Hardware & Implement House; the warehouse of Wagner & Caldwell; the barber shop and the office of the Levi Edgeridge Stage Company.

The estimated loss is $40,000, only a small part covered by insurance. There were no facilities for fighting fire except a bucket brigade.

VOTE UPSETS DEMOCRAT

Ontario Man Takes Poll on Train and Hughes Is Far Ahead.

ONTARIO, Or., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—W. E. Lees, a wealthy citizen of Ontario, who is a Democrat of the dyed-in-the-wool kind, is being joked over the disconcerting result of a straw vote which he took yesterday.

Mr. Lees is a Wilson supporter and has pronounced views on how the election is going. He sought to support his opinion by taking a poll among the voters on the train coming in from Vale yesterday.

There were 20 passengers, one conductor and one brakeman. The result was: Hughes 18, Wilson 3, Benson 1.

CLOSE ELECTION IS LEADERS' FORECAST

Republicans Are Confident at Close.

"SILENT" VOTE WILL DECIDE

New York Regarded as Most Important Factor.

HUGHES HAS SMALL LEAD

Vance McCormick, However, Revises His Figures and Claims Everything for Democrats, Hinting at Pennsylvania.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Republican managers are confident of the election of Mr. Hughes. Their Democratic opponents hail the victory of Wilson quite as loudly, and with equal conviction, perhaps, but to the impartial observer the former prediction rings the truer. The race will be close. There will be no landslide.

It is the silent vote that will decide the issue, and what the silent vote thinks no man knows. These facts must be taken into consideration, and they indicate the election of Hughes.

Country Normally Republican.

There are more Republicans in the country than Democrats normally. Now conditions are drifting back toward political normalcy again. All is not yet quiet in the folds of the two great parties, and some former Republicans are with the party now in power, but it is certain that a vast majority of those who followed the Bull Moose four years ago have returned to their old allegiance.

Mr. Hughes has 26 states. These cast 22 votes in the Electoral College. This means that if the states which his party regards as true to faith all remain loyal, Hughes will need only 14 more electoral votes to be victorious. The most promising of the doubtful states are New Jersey with 14 votes, Wisconsin with 12, Connecticut with 7 and West Virginia with 8, and New Jersey alone will bring victory to the Republicans.

Wilson Sure of 20 States.

Wilson is certain of 20 states, casting 197 votes. Out of the doubtful ones, he must swing a much larger number than his opponent to win.

In this election, New York is the pivot state. With its 45 electoral votes in the Hughes column, he is off to victory with a running start. If, by any chance, the Empire State should swing the other way, the Republican hope of a return to practical power would be crushed early in the evening of election day. On New York City hangs the fate of New York State. Hughes, it is conceded, will come into the city 125,000 votes to the good from upstate. Unless the Democrats can overcome this lead in the greater city they are badly handicapped at the outset. If they are victorious here, all hope except the vainest is dead for the Republicans.

Content Likely to Be Close.

Which party triumphs, it will gain victory over to win. Hughes and Wilson swept to the finish of their campaign with the Republican entry a nose ahead. If he can hold this lead until Tuesday he wins. His fate rests with the silent vote. This is the only certain fact in the situation.

The all-inclusive claims made for President Wilson by Vance C. McCormick in his pre-election forecast were increased yesterday, when the chairman of the Democratic National Committee had had an opportunity to give the subject more deliberate thought. Mr. McCormick thinks that Utah, which he had listed as "probably Democratic," might just as well be placed in the "certainly Democratic" column today, while he announced himself as convinced that the Republicans would be greatly surprised at the result in Pennsylvania, one of the six states he had conceded to Hughes.

McCormick Predicts Landslide.

"Practically every unbiased forecast verifies our assertion that it will be a landslide for President Wilson," said Mr. McCormick. "I cannot only repeat the statements made in my forecast of yesterday, but possibly go much further than some of the claims made there."

"Utah, for instance, which I placed in the 'probable' column, might have been claimed, on the statements of all the leaders in that state."

There is no realizing the great enthusiasm for Wilson in the West. But I did not claim Utah outright because all of my forecasts have been made on conservative figures sent in here by precinct workers, and I did not think that in this case there were quite sufficient to permit us to announce that Utah would be certainly in the Wilson column."

Loser of Bet to Roll Peanut.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Nov. 5.—M. B. Barker has bet on Wilson and J. W. Underwood on Hughes and the lost Wednesday night must roll a peanut a block, using a toothpick as a lever.
