COAST TITLE GAME WILL BE SATURDAY

Alumni of Oregon and Washington State College Plan to Welcome Visitors.

ROOTING TO BE FEATURE

Special Trains From Eugene Will Carry the Fans to Portland This Week—Students Think Oregon Should Have Had Last Game.

Although the election somewhat overshadows the Coast championship football game between Oregon and Washington State, scheduled for Saturday in Portland, the alumni of the two colleges have not forgotten the big date.

This noon at the Hazelwood the Washington State Alumi Association will meet for luncheon to discuss plans for welcoming and entertaining the visitors who will accompany Coach Dietz's eleven from Pullman.

"We expect to fill one complete rooting section," said Milton Reed Klepper, president of the Washington State Alumni, yesterday. "I want all alumni members to communicate with me."

Special trains will be run from Eugene carrying the Oregon rooters, arriving shortly before noon. The Washington State College team is due Friday morning at 8 o'clock over the O.-W. R. & N. line.

Up at Eugene the fans and officials are still rehashing last Saturday's 0-0 encounter with Washington. Coach Bezdek and some of his players believe that Oregon should have been given a touchdown on an outside kick play.

The Oregon bunch claim that a Washington player touched the ball after Parsons fumbled on the one-yard line. The slippery pigskin was recovered by Risley, of Oregon, behind the Washington goal line. If this version is true Oregon should have been awarded a touchdown.

Referee Varnell and Umpire Stott say otherwise.

"No Washington player touched the ball at all," declared Mr. Stott yesterday. "If a Dobie man had touched it I would say Oregon would be entitled to a touchdown. When Parsons fumbled Risley fell on the ball, and, as he was an offside player, it was not a touchdown.

Occidental College looks like the champion of California. California licked Whittier by a hairline decision, and Whittier beat Pomona, another stumbling block, by a 14-3 score Saturday. California also beat Southern California, but lost to Occidental by one point. This leaves Occidental the only unbeaten team in California.

Bicycle Riders Make Record of Six Hours at Start of Contest.

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Eleven teams of bicycle riders, contestants in the six-day race, which began late yesterday afternoon, were on even terms last night after six hours of racing. Each team had covered 147 miles and seven laps at 10 o'clock, a record for local races of this kind. The men will ride 10 hours a day until Saturday night.

The contesting teams are: Reggy McNamara and Bob Spears, both of Australia; Alfred Goullet, Newark, N. J., and Al Grenda, Australia; Clarence Carmen, New York, and George Wiley, Buffalo; Eddie Root, Melrose, and Iver Lawson, Salt Lake City; Willie Hanley, San Francisco, and Edward Madden, Newark; Frank Corry, Australia, and Jake Magin, New York; Tom Bellow, Italy, and Vincenzo Madonna, Providence; Tom Sullivan, New Haven, Conn., and Ray Eaton, Newark; Lloyd Thomas and Percy Lawrence, San Francisco; Marcel Dupuis, France, and Harry Kaiser, Germany; Arthur and M. Spencer, Toronto, Canada.

Gossip of the Gridiron.

CALIFORNIA is now hoping to beat Washington, which is about the saddest little hope we have ever heard.

After hearkening to the mob of football students rooting, one would think they were bloodthirsty demons if one wasn't wised up to the fact that the only thing a student "cuts" is his classes and the only thing he "kills" is time.

San Francisco fans are saying that the University of Washington is facing a serious problem. If Coach Gilmour Dobie's gang goes to Berkeley and smears the University of California 62 to 3, how many people will pay a buck in Seattle to see California play Washington two weeks later. Dobie's machine will be in California territory a week from Saturday.

Tickets for the big University of Oregon-Washington State College football game on Multnomah Field Saturday afternoon will be placed on sale tomorrow at the A. G. Spalding & Bros. Graduate-Manager A. R. Tiffany, of the Eugene institution, is expected to arrive in Portland tonight or tomorrow to arrange details.

Captain Lee Bissett, of the Oregon Aggies, was injured worse than he thought in the game last Saturday against Whitman College at Corvallis. He injured his ankle early in the season and since then he has been troubled with it right along. Reports from Corvallis are to the effect that he will not be used against the University of Washington at Seattle Saturday afternoon, but it is almost a cinch that he will get in the contest against the Purple. Last Saturday he played in the backfield with "Darkhorse" Newman, Low and Morgan.

Here is one critic's version of a football coach:

"The football coach is a six-cylinder man with a 200-horsepower brain and an open exhaust voice. He is hired to mold championship football machines from verdant gangs of hill-billies and plain-willies. Occasionally he is successful, whereupon the under graduates and alumni rise as one and call him blessed. If, however, he should fail he gathers together his earthly increment at the close of the season and travels as far as it will take him. He needs but work only 24 hours a day and do all the thinking for his squad of hopefuls, who, as a rule, are long on avoirdupois and short on the corrugated gray stuff. During the games he paces the side lines and speaks feelingly when his best plays are balled up by bonehead work. Occasionally a football coach lives to a ripe old age, but only when he leaves the game while quite young."

Every year since I remember
'Bout this time in old November
Dobie's damned his team as punk,
Said his backfield fairly stunk;
All his line had watered knees,
Wondered where they made such cheese;
And, if memory serve us right,
They have cleaned up all in sight.
—THE DAILY CALIFORNIAN.

The main difference between a football game and a prize fight is that the amateurs play more roughly than the professionals fight.

One of the best centers in the ranks of the big colleges this season is Captain McEvan, the sturdy pivot man of the United States Military Academy. He is a perfect passer, an aggressive lineman, sure tackler, and a heady and inspiring leader. He has been successful during the 1916 season so far, and his aggregation looks like a powerful combination.

Tufts College now has adopted the Stewart form of passing the ball. Dr. E. J. Stewart, who last year coached the Oregon Aggies, but now is with the University of Nebraska gridiron warriors, startled football followers of the country by having the center pass the ball directly to the backs while facing them. This eliminated the quarterback, and gave the backs a chance to swing into wonderful interference by the time the play was fairly started. Several of the big Eastern teams have copied Doc's style of play, the same that he is now introducing to the Middle Western fans.

MULTNOMAH GAME OFF

CLUB UNABLE TO HOLD CONTEST HERE THIS WEEK.

Lincoln Plays Columbia Friday and Oregon Plays Washington State on Following Day.

After considerable corresponding, Manager James O. Convill has decided that it will be impossible for the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club football team to have a game this week. He had been planning to bring the Oregon Aggie stars to Portland, but it was impossible to arrange for the game to be played, as Friday afternoon the Lincoln High-Columbia University affair will be on the programme, while on the following afternoon Washington State College will be battling the University of Oregon on Multnomah Field.

The proposed game with the Tacoma Athletic Club at Tacoma Saturday afternoon has been called off, Dow V. Walker, superintendent of the Winged "M" institution, announced last night.

Because of the interest in the National election, no practice was held last night, but Acting Captain Leader has issued orders for all candidates to be on hand tonight and again tomorrow night under the arc lights on Multnomah Field.

Neil Tyson, all-star center in the Portland Interscholastic League for several years, while playing with the Lincoln High eleven, has decided to wear the moleskins again. He will do his "come-back" stunt against the Whitman College athletes on Multnomah Field a week from Saturday. Officials of the club football team have been after him for some time, and he has consented to come out each night until the Whitman game.

NORTHWEST DELEGATE TO GO

National Baseball Leagues to Convene at New Orleans November 14.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 7.—(Special.) When the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues convenes for a three days' session at New Orleans on November 14, Robert L. Blewett, president of the Northwestern League, will very likely be the only representative of this league in attendance, and, as he is a member of the board of directors of the National organization, there will be no lay members of the local circuit present.

D. E. Dugdale, president of the Seattle club, had planned to attend the meeting, as the Northwestern League is vitally interested in having the arbitrary individual salary limit now in force eliminated, but "Dug" is detained in Seattle on business, and Sunday he declared it was very doubtful if he would be able to make the journey.

The Northwestern League is desirous of having this individual salary limit abolished, primarily because it handicaps the clubs of the circuit in a number of ways. The league does not object to the club limit, but believes that each unit of the organization should be in a position to pay more money to certain individual players than is now possible under the present salary limit rule, which prevents the payment of more than $175 per month to any individual player.

The annual convention of the baseball association is usually attended by numerous deals involving the trading or purchasing of players, and this year all such transactions involving Northwestern League players will very likely be intrusted to President Blewett for consummation.

AGGIE TEAM TO HAVE ROOTERS

Plans Laid for Thanksgiving Game With Southern California.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Nov. 7.—(Special.)—The Oregon Aggie football team will not be without a rooter section to cheer it on at the time when the University of Southern California is played in Los Angeles on Thanksgiving day.

An alumnus of the college is gathering a list of all the friends of the Oregon Agricultural College who live in or near Los Angeles, and they will occupy a section of the grandstand. Coach Pipal is also in receipt of a letter from Edward Lawyer, secretary of the "O" Club at Occidental College, requesting that the O. A. C. cheers and songs be sent to him so that the members of the Occidental student body may have an opportunity of learning them.

It is planned to have all the "Occy" rooters out in force and they will lend their voices to the cause of the Pipal-coached team.

JAMES JOHN BEATS COMMERCE HIGH, 7-0

Battle for Cellar Championship Is Bitter, With Play Defensive in Most Part.

SCORE MADE LAST MINUTE

"Sagebrush" Taylor Forgets Himself in Excitement and Is Punished. Franklin and Jefferson Meet This Afternoon.

1916 Interscholastic Football Standings.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Washing'n	4	0	1000	Lincoln	1	2	.333
Jefferson	3	0	1000	James John	1	4	.200
Columbia	2	1	.667	Commerce	0	4	.000
Franklin	1	1	.500

BY EARL R. GOODWIN.

The James John High School football team administered a 7 to 0 defeat to the High School of Commerce eleven on Multnomah Field yesterday, in a game that afforded many thrills to the 41 spectators, substitutes and officials present.

It came near being a no-score affair, the climax coming in the last minute of the match. The James John High athletes tried 31 forward passes during the melee and it was one, Captain Wrinkle to Spackman, which took the pigskin to the four-yard line.

Captain Wrinkle then went through the line for the touchdown and "Hooty" Smith kicked the goal from a difficult angle.

One Player Is Ejected.

In the excitement caused by the scoring of the points when but so short a time remained to be played, "Sagebrush" Taylor, who along with Maurice Geller were easily the stars for the Commerce team, threw himself on top of Captain Wrinkle after Referee Hurlburt's whistle had blown. He was ejected from the game and will be out for the remainder of the season.

The game was by far the most ferocious and hard-fought affair yet staged in the Portland Interscholastic League, even though the 1916 cellar championship was at stake. The boys must have realized that, for the way each team fought was something awful.

Defensive Playing Features.

The defensive playing of Captain Wrinkle for the winners, Geller and Taylor of the losers, was a treat. R. Smith, Girt and Spackman played the best offensive game for James John, with Rogoway and Captain Winters for the West Siders.

Considerable argument was caused over the forward pass that resulted in the touchdown. The question came up as to whether or not the pass was completed or was fumbled after it was completed. In either case the James John team would have counted points.

This afternoon Franklin High and Jefferson High will be the attraction on Multnomah Field, and one of the largest crowds of the season is expected. From all accounts the weather will favor the kind of attack Coach Dewey, of the Quakers, prefers. He has a light squad and he has been figuring that forward passes will be the main offense on his part. The Quakers started the 1916 season right by winning from the Lincoln High eleven, 7 to 0.

The game this afternoon will start at 3:15 o'clock.

Following is the summary:

James John (7).		Commerce (0).

Baseball Brevities.

LARRY LAJOIE'S baseball career probably ended this season. The big Frenchman has been drawing $9000 a season for the last three years, but with the final gong this year that agreement expired. Connie Mack paid only half of the amount mentioned, the Cleveland club standing the other half.

It is certain that Mack will not retain Lajoie, for he intends to build up a team with youngsters.

Lajoie came into the National League in 1896.

Often the success of a ballplayer depends altogether on the way he is handled by his boss. Under the instruction of one type of a leader he will be a success; under another of a different mold he may be a flat failure. The case of Rube Marquard, the temperamental left-hander, is an excellent illustration. Robinson, of Brooklyn, took him when McGraw had given the lanky one up and he budded into a star again.

Again.

The fields and woods are painted now with dim and russet dyes,
And from the baseball tree there falls a flock of allbis.

"We would have won," said Ike McGiff—
"We would have won the pennant if
Bill Bull could shun
His nightly bun.
He couldn't, though, the great big stiff."

"We could have won," said William Witt.
There wouldn't be a thing to it;
But Steve O'Shay
One Summer day
Broke all the fingers on one mitt."

"We should have won," said Olaf Jones
In soft and mournful monotones,
"But Swanson slid,
As he was bid,
And broke a dozen ankle bones."

"We might have won," said Sammy Small,
"For we were playing big league ball,
But Danny Dome
Went sliding home
And landed in the hospital."

John McGraw made a slight mistake this year. He tried to win a hurdle race in two jumps.

Larry Garner made only three hits in the world's series. Two of them were sufficient.

Brooklyn, with an even break in luck, might have trimmed the Athletics.

Milton Samis, a freshman from San Jose, finished first in the interclass cross-country race last Saturday over a four-mile course, which started and finished at the football bleachers at Stanford University. The crowds watching the Olympic-Stanford contest were given the race for good measure. Samis' time was 27 minutes 23-5 seconds. This is the same young fellow who tried out with Portland at Los Angeles late last season under the name of Gans.

Utschig is a funny name all right, but they named two continents after Amerigo Vespucci, so the Oak outfielder should worry.

Mal Barry, first-sacker of the Oaks, led the league initial guardians in fielding. Kenworthy led the batters. Lane was the base-stealing king and the club was the cellar champion.

Portland is looking forward to the busiest Winter in the history of sport. With baseball over, the fans refuse to settle down for a long, dull Winter. With hockey, water polo, indoor baseball, football, basketball, handball, billiards, bowling, boxing, wrestling and other branches of sport looking up, the old sunny season will not have much on the Winter months in the athletic line in Portland.

WINTER BALL TEAM OFF

CHARLES SWAIN MANAGING NINE ON TRIP TO HONOLULU.

Three Big Leaguers in Danger of Discipline by National Commission for Participation.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—A baseball nine including five big leaguers and all under the management of Charles Swain, of this city, left here today for a season of Winter baseball in Honolulu. Three of the big leaguers, "Rowdy" Elliott, of Chicago; Sammy Bohne, of St. Louis, and Louis Guisto, of Cleveland, were said to be in danger of discipline from the National commission for participation in games during the off-season.

Harold Janvrin, of Boston, and George Kelly, of New York, said they had permission from their respective clubs for the outing. The others applied for similar consent but declared before sailing that they had received "evasive replies."

Nine games have been scheduled at Honolulu.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION EXPECTED TO ELECT THOMAS HICKEY.

Thomas Chivington, However, Is Said Not to Be Likely to Be Succeeded in Office.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 7.—American Association affairs came to the forefront again when O. H. Wathen, owner of the Lousville club, confirmed reports that Thomas J. Hickey, of St. Paul, had been in conference with him today. Mr. Hickey, it is understood, is the choice of a majority in the American Association as the successor of President Thomas Chivington.

"When the time comes for the annual meeting," Joseph Cantillon, manager of the Indianapolis club who was here yesterday, said, according to a report printed here, "you will see Mr. Hickey elected. There isn't a chance to miss connection now, because five of us have pledged ourselves to vote for him."

Mr. Cantillon is reported to have said that Mr. Chivington was not to be replaced because he had not been a capable executive, but because, in his judgment, Hickey would make a better one.

OVERLOOK FORFEITS ITS GAME

Oregon City Eleven Ready to Play, but Team Doesn't Appear.

OREGON CITY, Or., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—The Overlook Arclights failed to appear here for a scheduled game with the Oregon City Athletic Association football team yesterday. The local eleven appeared on Canemah Field ready to meet the Portlanders, who failed to appear. The squad went through a few exhibition plays for the benefit of the crowd and then returned to its dressing-rooms.

Officers of the Oregon City Athletic Association are aroused over the action of the Overlook eleven. The association is still seeking games, with almost the entire season open.

Newport Deer Season Good.

NEWPORT, Or., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—During the deer season, just closed, Lincoln County sportsmen have had good luck in bringing home their share of venison. Two fine bucks were killed during the season, just at the outskirts of Newport, and a number within a few miles. The only accidental shooting reported here since the season opened was that of M. H. Abbey, of the Hotel Abbey, who on the opening day shot himself through the foot, necessitating the amputation of a toe.

The opening of the wildfowl season, ushered in by storm and rain, is furnishing good sport.

SPECIAL TRAIN MAY RUN

Defense of Pullman Squad Is Expected to Be Mainstay in Game on Multnomah Field—Parsons May Not Be Eligible.

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE, Pullman, Nov. 7.—(Special.)—Although the University of Idaho Saturday suffered a repetition of last Autumn's denouement her aggressive athletes left their mark on the personnel of Coach Dietz' eleven by crippling its two star ends, Zimmerman and Loomis. It is probable that Loomis will not be in shape to participate in any future games this season.

Both wing men were hurt early in the game, Zimmerman receiving a telling blow on his left hip and Loomis sustaining a double injury, having a torn cartilage and a broken collar bone.

Right Guard Finney suffered a bad injury to his thigh, sufficient to place him on crutches, but it is likely that he will be in uniform Wednesday.

The coming struggle with Coach Bezdek's Oregonians is creating great interest on the local campus, for it is generally agreed that the game will be a crucial one, the team emerging victorious to be selected to meet a representative Eastern eleven at Pasadena for the first game of the 1917 season. An all-college dance was given Saturday night to procure funds to send the college band to Portland for next Saturday's game on Multnomah field. It is probable that a special train will leave for Portland Thursday night to carry the scores of students who are eager to see the contest, providing the sanction of the faculty can be obtained.

The stonewall defense Coach Dietz has taught his linemen has been repeatedly demonstrated in the games played to date. Idaho's attack could gain but two first downs yesterday, the boasted Montana backs were able to advance the oval for only three first downs, and Pipal's Aggies completed the slim total of 12 first downs.

Undoubtedly Coach Bezdek will meet an equally efficient offense when it is remembered that Washington State's total of first downs against opposing elevens for the season is 54.

No definite action has been reached on the eligibility of Parsons to participate in next Saturday's game, but Professor Solon Shedd, chairman of the State College eligibility committee, says that it was also questionable whether Parsons should be allowed to play, in view of the fact that two years ago he quit attending classes in midsemester.
